Around the City.

Representative George's address is 1016 1/2 street, Washington, D. C. The Queens sails to-day. Fred Hewitt is among the passengers for a holiday trip to Napa, Cal. The Kate and Anac arrived in from Yaquina yesterday with 281 sacks of oysters and a lot of hides.

McBreen, of Portland has assigned. Should his debtors there and elsewhere pay he would be able to go on. Note the adv. of directors of school district No. 3, in reference to improvements of school property in that district. Officers of the law were yesterday busy releasing the writs of attachment served on sundry Chinese residents the day before.

A crew load of boilers and machinery lies at Warren & Thompson's dock en route to McGowan's new cannery at Chinook. Speculation concerning the next salmon season begins. It is thought that less than 1,000 boats will run, and the catch will be proportional. Rev. Winfield Scott, D. D., chaplain at Ft. Canby, has returned from Seattle at which city he has been holding a series of revival meetings.

The Iachyren sailed for Queenstown yesterday with $37,167 worth of wheat. The Ice King goes to-day with an Astoria cargo worth $21,487. The case of Geo. W. Andrews, charged with assault on Chas. Olson, was not called in the justice court yesterday, Olson not being able to be present. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Masonic Lane and Building Association, will be held at Capt. Flavel's office at seven o'clock this evening.

Merchants generally report the holiday trade good; there never was a finer assortment of goods or greater variety in Astoria than that displayed this season. Now the little boy games at the manted piece and wonders if Santa Claus will crawl through the cracks, or whether he will sneak up the back stairs on Christmas eve. The steamer Sams will leave at eight to-morrow morning for the accommodation of those who wish to attend the Gearhart sale at Clatsop. She will make two round trips.

The Minnesota Tribune in its market reports gives "eggs candled in lots, 25 1/2 cents a dozen; eggs incandled in lots, 24 1/2 cents." The candling makes a difference of a whole cent. Information is wanted of E. A. Nymann and Frederick Luther, also of Anton Olson and Andrew Inrenson, who were drowned in the Columbia last summer. Address Arthur Wilson, Portland. The Astoria Box Company has filed articles of incorporation in the office of secretary of state, with F. E. McGreggor, McGreggor and Elizabeth McGreggor as incorporators, and a capital stock of $50,000.

About forty more desirable lots in the addition to Ocean Park were disposed of by E. C. Holden yesterday. The sale continues at eleven this morning, two this afternoon, and seven this evening. Those desirous of investing have an excellent opportunity. C. P. Upsher has had a neat office fitted up in Capt. Hunter's quarters on the Main street dock, and yesterday entered upon the duties of his new position as United States shipping commissioner. He has a most imposing pile of blanks. Robt. Carruthers tells of a coon hant that he and some friends of his engaged in at Sharp's place, near Mt. Coffin, last week. They didn't find any coons, but did find a Balm of Gilead tree four feet through that on cutting yielded sixty pounds of honey with a little objection on the part of the bees. Since April let 544,200 cases of salmon have crossed Columbia river on outward bound. The Ice King cleared yesterday with 4,561 cases. Add this to the above and the 25,000 that went east via N. P. R. R., and it gives a total shipment of about 619,851 cases. There are not over 30,000 cases on the river.

The wire, battery, insulators, etc., for the electric fire alarm arrived on the last steamer, and the boxes and gears are expected on the next. The battery is all in place, and the next step will be to string the wires. Alert H. & L. No. One's rooms will be headquarters for the outfit, and the alarm bell will be struck from 2's Engine House. COLACIAN.—A. W. Berry has six men employed at Rainier putting up the fine fluted Columbia river candle fish. Though he only introduced this new article of food last season, orders are flowing in from far and near, and its fame has already gone abroad. Next season he will enlarge the capacity of the establishment and place the fish upon the market in greater quantity.

Jottings Around Town.

The stove business is lively.—M. Olsen & Co. have a fine display window.—The laying of water pipes is nearly finished.—Carl Adler's new sign is the finest of the kind in Astoria.—No one can pass Heilborn's window without stopping.—Cass street needs sweeping.—C. H. Bain has been putting an addition to his shop.—Sea gulls are plenty on vacant water lots.—The Methodist parsonage will be completed this week.—W. B. Headington is utilizing his Astor street property by building a shop for carpenter shop thereon.—B. F. Stevens & Co. have 4000 pieces of sheet music.—Jeff, the restaurant man, feeds 600 a day.—Tearing off the planks is hard work these days.—The days can't get much shorter.—Hansen, the jeweler, displays some magnificent holiday goods.—John Rogers has snipe in abundance.—A man's knock-down sale is a success.—What are you going to get for a Christmas present?—There are no vacant dwellings or business houses in Astoria.—The Portland boats run on the new time schedule.—Rescue Jubilee troupe propose giving another A I entertainment at Birthington's wash day.—R. B. Franklin is opening a large stock of wall paper.—"Mickey Pat" left on the Iachyren yesterday. We could have better spared a better man.—Tom cod are still being caught in abundance.—The Gen. Miles is doing a fine business.—The county jail has ten inmates.—Capt Gray's wood yard is doing a good business.—Ships are receiving quick dispatch.—A good many people are talking Clatsop road.—And the main council.—Only six days to Christmas.—Don't forget the jubilee at the Methodist church to-morrow evening.—Boilers and huys in front of the Astoria Iron Works.—The general health of the city is improving.—Charley May has a fine selection of holiday goods.—Money is not as plentiful as it might be.—The Cape line is still out of tune.

Foreign Salmon Shipments. The Ice King cleared from this port yesterday with a valuable cargo for London. She was chartered by A. W. Berry, of this place. Her disbursements proper do not aggregate above $2,000. Had she gone to Portland the probability is, arguing from past experience, the vessel's disbursements would have been at least $6,000. This illustrates the superiority of Astoria over interior points as a port for ships to load and sail from, as in the case of the Wolfenonau and other vessels that have loaded here, the great difference in favor of Astoria. On the Ice King 47,491 cases salmon and 60 cases haddock. Following are the shipping companies: Cutting Packing Co., 1554 cases; Cutting Packing Co., 100; Aberdeen Packing Co., 12,905; West Coast, 7,212; Occident, 9,863; I. X. L., 7,567; Ocean, 6,205; Geo. W. Hume, 1,902; Wm. Hume, 682; Warren, 2,000; A. W. Berry, 60; total, 47,451.

Out of the Depths. Among the articles mentioned on the Queen of the Pacific when she ran aground at the mouth of the Columbia some time ago, was a box containing some beautiful wedding presents, the property of Mr. B. L. Stone and bride. The jewels were thought irretrievably lost, but it seems that recently the case containing them was found by some wreckers on the coast, and falling into the hands of honest Capt. A. T. Harris of the life saving service, the treasure trove was sent during the week to the grateful owners in this city. These gifts, aside from their intrinsic value, are doubly dear to the owners—precious for the gifters' sake and precious on account of their miraculous return from the sea.—Welcome.

HE WEST IN STILL.—"Mickey Pat," whose sly-like form has long been a familiar portion of the landscape, is no longer a citizen of Oregon. He sailed yesterday in a great big ship for the coast of Cork, and the places that knew him once will know him no longer. Long had Mickey resisted the coy blandishments of those who induce bold mariners to man the yards, but when the trim Iachyren came in, and he was shown her superior accommodations he yielded. He expressly stipulated that Mickey should have a stateroom to himself during the entire voyage; that fresh linen should be laid out for him every morning; a glass of sherry, with a raw egg in it, brought to his bedside when he rang; and hot water for shaving and some buttered toast be furnished him at the same time. Mickey will distinguish himself and be heard from in foreign courts.

THE LIVERCO RAILROAD.—L. A. Loomis was in the city yesterday and was extremely sanguine in relation to the proposed railroad from Ilwaco to Oysterville and Gray's Harbor, of which so much has appeared in The Astorian lately. Without any effort Mr. Loomis has secured over half the amount required to build and equip the road, and he anticipates but little difficulty in procuring the remainder. The intention is to begin operations as soon as possible. The route selected is an excellent one, and the road is expected to be completed in a few months. It is thought that ninety days from the time the first wheelbarrow load of earth is shoveled off, the tool of the locomotive will be the echoes of Baker's Bay, and it is reasonable to suppose that the let of May will see the conductor at Ilwaco sing out, "All aboard for Oysterville!"

WAR OF RACKS.—A force of men is engaged in laying some water pipe down Concomly street. Now, to lay water pipe in a due and proper manner, it is necessary to dig a trench. Up the street and toward the trench yesterday afternoon came a drove of Chinese, herding and surrounding four fat hogs, which, with sacrificial rite, were to be placed as a votive offering to the gods. One of the hogs tumbled into the trench, and falling upon one of the men working therein, aroused his ire. Striking the hog and casting him forth with violence his owner objected to and agitated upon the ground with vehemence, whereupon the Caucasian arose and slapped the Chinaman and consigned him and his kink to eternal combustion. Then did the three other Chinamen go to Justice Fox, and before him, in the name of their injured countryman, demand a warrant for the arrest of the man that smote their hog; and their extradition, the warrant being entrusted to the chief captain of police, even unto Clark Longhrey, who made diligent but ineffectual search after the offender.

Masonic Watch Charm Lost On December 18. Finder will leave it at Foard & Stokes, and get $2.50 reward. Christmas is Coming. And if you want to make your wife and sister, or some one else's sister a fine present call at Mrs. T. S. Jewett's and see her elegant stock of fancy goods. Oysters in Every Style. And coffee at Mrs. Lovett's.

Where Shall I Buy My Christmas Presents.

Next Tuesday is Christmas day and the general custom being to remember present and absent friends by giving them something in honor of the day the question arises where shall one go to make their purchases. At the New York Novelty Store is one of the handsomest and best arranged stocks to be found anywhere. Toys, musical instruments, fancy goods in profusion; the supply of elegant Christmas cards being particularly noticeable. It is surprising to learn the low rate at which these goods are sold, and the hundreds that daily visit this establishment will attest the popularity of the interesting proprietor. In fact, please and delight the beautifully dressed one can hardly pass the beautifully arranged windows without entering to see what presents so fair an exterior, and once in he or she will be sure to see something that strikes their fancy and just suited to the friend, the relative, or the children whose heart they would gladden by a Christmas present. For father there is the handsome dressing case, for mother a beautiful work basket or an ornamental toilet set; for sister an elegantly embroidered silk pin cushion or a silver case, for brother a gold pen or set of studs.

The little folks are especially remembered, the finest toys the finest games, the nearest boxes and the countless devices that please and delight the children are here in profusion. Everything is marked in plain figures, and the little fellow who comes with two bits to buy a set of tin things for his smaller sister, or to play at keeping house gets the same attention as his mother who has seen a set of silver tea spoons with which to please her married daughter.

There is another and a larger instrument that is an entire novelty. It is called an orchestra. In outward appearance it resembles a cabinet organ. It stands in a handsome black waltz case, finely finished and elaborately carved. Simply considered as a piece of furniture it would be a handsome addition to any parlor, but when one takes into consideration the sweet music it affords, it will be found to be a most desirable acquisition to any family. It has pedals as any other organ, and the simple mechanism can be made to play any tune desired. Its rich, full notes are heard to advantage in the magnificent strains of Beethoven, the symphonies of Mozart, the waltzes of Strauss, and the other more familiar melodies such as are usually sung in church choirs. Crowds daily listen to the choice music it affords. It is a grand instrument to dispose of this instrument for $125, to introduce their sale he being the only authorized agent of the manufacturers in this place. With this intention he offers it at a raffle for $250 a chance, and for this sum some one of our citizens will get a splendid Christmas present. To go through the list of goods displayed at the New York Novelty Store would be an interminable task; suffice it to say, pay the establishment a visit and see for yourselves. You will find the most courteous attention and cannot fail to be pleased.

He Understood. The teacher wrote this sentence on the blackboard: "Kindness performed by rule is no kindness." "Now, children," said she, "can you tell me what that means?" "You bet I can!" shouted the worst boy in school. "Well, what is it?" "I think it means that when you wallop a feller with your ruler and say that you only do it as a kindness to him, that it ain't no such thing." The teacher immediately erased the sentence and called up the first class in mental ethics.

"You will rob yourself!" cried a gay young girl, who was one of a party of three, among whom, a youth, with many a tear. Was dividing an orange, with glee. "Not at all," the generous youth replied. As he fumbled with his pocket: "For I love to have a little beside, 'I've a dozen more in my pocket.'" YOUTHFUL INDULGENCE. In Pernicious Practices pursued in solitude, is a most startling cause of Nervous and General Debility, Lack of Self-confidence, and Will Power, Impaired Memory, Despondency, and other attendants of wrecked nianhood. Sufferers should address, with three letter postage stamps, for large illustrated treatise on the only reliable means of perfect cure, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

For the Holidays. You will find at J. W. Conn's the best assortment in the city of Rogers Bros. WHAT! do you think that JEFF OF THE CHOP HOUSE gives you a meal for nothing and a glass of something to drink? "Not much!" but he gives a better meal and more of it than any place in town for 25 cents. He buys by the wholesale and pays cash. "That settles it."

THE LATEST SEA SIGHT.

'Twas off the bleak Chehalis coast, While fishing from a boat, Some sailors saw—such is their boast— A monstrous snake afloat. One hundred feet it was in length, Three hundred inches wide; So great was its stupendous strength, It fished in foam the tide. Its tail was long, its head was short, And near its nine-foot nose Were caverns, whence a roaring whorl Blew like a cyclone blow.

Each side of its ferocious face Was an enormous horn, And, with a grim and ghastly grace, It shook its mane with scorn. These are the facts which those tars gave, Without remorse or ruth; They swear they'll sink beneath the waves If this is not "the truth." Yet this same sight will come again, Like terrors from a come back, To him whose swifled and seething brain Is steeped in applejack.

The lesson learned from this, each knows, Is sad, we must confess; Yet still, beyond a doubt it shows The power of the press. HOTEL ARRIVALS. OCCIDENT. F. A. Logan, Seaside; C. A. McGuire & w. A.
