I. W. CASE, Shut Out the Lobby.

The abuses of the lobby call for reform. Under the rules of privilege, ex-members, ex-officials of a certain grade, and persons specially designated are permitted to go upon the floor of the house at will. There are in Washington from fifty to seventyfive ex-members and senators who advertise themselves as possessing this privilege and as ready to use it for the benefit of those desiring legislation. This number is increased by others who, without openly setting themselves up, are in the business. They are all lobbymen, forming a platoon of the grand army who session infest congress. The right to go upon the floor at will is of special importance. It conwill is of special importance. It confers on its possessors many advantages. Persons having it are in request. A round sum has been known to be paid to one having it for an hour's service, his employment being fetching and carrying between interested persons outside and members relied on to put things through inrelied on to put things through in-

The privilege was conferred orig-nally as a recognition of the honor of the privilege is similar to a member-ship of a stock exchange. An exthe privilege is similar to a membership of a stock exchange. An exmember now plying his vocation in the lobby unblushingly avers that his principal object in seeking an election to congress was to possess himself of the privilege of the floor as a lobbyist after his term expired.

No one who has witnessed the rush of these privileged persons, will be in doubt for a single instant how strictly right it would be, independent of the stock-in-trade use of it, to take away the privilege. In view of the cloak it serves to a promiscuous crowd, especially on private bill day, there is no defending the longer continuance of a rule which amounts to little else than a great convenience of the lobby. It has long since ceased to be the compliment it was originally intended for. The house owes it to itself to crush the evil. If it wishes a way left open to extend the courtesy of FISH. POULTRY AND GAMF admission to the floor to such as desire and will not abuse it, the matter can be left to the speaker or committee on rules, who can do whatever is requisite. The herd kept out, there may be honor in being admitted.

A New Method of Washing Butter.

A new method of washing butter has been patented in Germany. As soon as gathered in the churn in particles about a tenth of an inch in size, it is transferred to a centrifugal machine, whose drum is pierced with holes and lined with linen sack that is finally taken out with the butter. As soon as the machine is set in rapid motion the buttermilk begins to escape; a spray of water thrown into the revolving drum washes out all escape; a spray of water thrown into the revolving drum washes out all foreign matter adhering to the butter; this washing is kept up until the wash-water comes out clear, and the revolution is then continued until the last drop of water is removed, as the clothes are dried in the centrifugal wringer; the dry butter is then taken out, moulded and packed. It is claimed that the product thus so fully and quickly freed from all impurities, without any working or kneading, has fine flavor, aroma and kneading, has fine flavor, aroma and grain, and better keeping qualities than when prepared for market in the

It's a proprietary thing of cours, but it is by all odds the best plaster I have come across. It is scientifically prepared, quick in taking hold, sure to relieve where relief is possible, and as neat as wax to handle. It is just the perfect flower of all that has ever been hone in that line. I hap pen to know, too, that it is being rapidly introduced in the principal hospitals of London Paris, and other leading cities of Europa."

"You needn't fret, my friend," laughed the flows Surgeon, "over the chance of being caught in an act of profesional heterodoxy, for we use Benson's here every day, and so they do at the other city hospitals. We find it so much better than liniments, lotions, &c. that the bottles are actually getting scarce in the house"

I have been afficied with troublesome skin disease, covering almost completely the upper part of my body, causing my skin to assume a corper-colored line. It could be rubbed of like dandruff, and at times causing intolerable itching and the most intense suffering. I have used blood purifiers, pills, and other advertised remedies, but experienced no relief until I precured the Curicuna Rivientes, which, although used carelessi and irregularly curedine, allaying that terrible itching, and restoring my skin to its natural color. I am willing to make an affidavit to the truth of this statement.

Dr. P---, who is prominently connected in a certain hospital, to his friend, the House Surgeon, as the two sat having a smoke and quiet chat in the reception room late on a recent stormy night-" no question at all." Ever since I began practice in that little country village you've heard me speak of, away up near Lake Ontario, thirty years ago, I have telt - in common with other physicians -the need of a reliable plaster. There are so many diseases-if, indeed, the majority do not come under the rule-for which a good
