Around the City.

The Washington Territory board of pilot commissioners meet at Ilwaco to-day.

Don't fail to see Langrishe to-night; reserved seats at the New York Novelty

Everyone was pleased with last night's performa to-night.

Clark Loughrey won the prize-a silver watch—at the Skipanon shooting match last Sunday.

Bailiff Ingalis went up to Salem yester-day with Thompson and Kyle, recently sentenced to the penitentiary. The wind blew straight from the east yesterday and felt cold as compared with the warm breath of the Pacific.

To-night-"Life in New York," and "The Gentleman from Ireland," at Occidental Hall.

The Nellie Boyd Troupe begins a dra-matic season at Occidental Hall next Thursday night.

G. W. Parker is down from Portland for a week's visit to his friends and rela-tives in this city. Don McKenzie found a gold coin in

The prolific nature of our climate was well illustrated yesterday by the appearance of three women who had seventeen children in charge.

Retrenchment is the order of the day. A new whitehall boat is building for the O. R. & N. Co., who, it is said, will do their own boating after the 1st. "Sinners stand on slippery places,"that is, some of them do. A good many saints and sinners found it difficult to do any-thing but fall down yesterday morning.

The jury in the case of Tom Talzan, on trial for the murder of Wm. Dunkel, brought in a verdict of "manslaughter," last Sunday evening. Talzan will be sentenced to-day.

The State sailed seaward yesterday.
The Chas. Cotesworth and Isle of Erin arrived in. They both have valuable wheat charters. The former discharges nearly 8,000 boxes of tin here.

The gentle tom-cod is still caught in large numbers, and of unusual size. Report has it that smelt have begun to run, though it is somewhat early for that forerunner of the toothsome samlet.

In the police court yesterday Joe Dob-son and Jerry Dolan, who had previously put up $10 each for their appearance to answer to a charge of fighting, failed to appear, and the $20 was forfeited thereby.

The time tables for the Pacific coast for the year 1884, prepared by the United States coast and geodetic survey, have been published. The present is the eighteenth year of the publication of the work, which, to the mariner sailing in the Pacific waters, is indispensable. Yesterday afternoon a party who want-ed sausage pretty badly, and knew good sausage when he saw it, tried to steal a couple of links from Geo. Gansz, but was caught at it. He tried to get out of it, but it was too plain a case, and Gansz, after reading him a lecture on honesty.

C. T. Thomes, who returned from an extended trip East last Saturday, took a different route from that usually adopted by westward bound travelers, but one that he found very pleasant. He left the Union Pacific at Ogden and rode five far that work has not begun. A few nets fundred miles on the Utah Northern, which passes through a fine stretch of country in Southern Idaho and Western Monters occupacting with the N P R Montana, connecting with the N. P. R. less by 25 per cent than lest year. R., at Garrison, from which point he rode westward on that road.

ASTORIA SCHOOLS.—Besides the prestige of having the finest public school building north of San Francisco, Astoria public schools have the distinction of being taught exclusively by women. There are ten teachers employed in the three schools, and their salaries are considerably above the average pay of teachers in this state. In this Astoria recognizes the principle that if a woman can fill any de-partment of industry as well as a man who is entitled to the partment of industry as well as a man she is entitled to the same wages a man would be paid for the same work.

A FAT "TAKE."-The sworn statement of the county clerk at Portland shows that for the last six months of '83 the fees aggregated $11,687.83. During the same time the sheriff's fees amounted to $13,-

The bark Minnie M. Watts left New York for the Columbia May 12 and July 22 was seen off Cape Horn. Nothing has since been heard of her, and she is thought by her agents, Van Vieck & Co., to be lost with all on board. Soon after she passed Cape Horn a terrific storm prevailed there, and several staunch clippers which encountered it were compelled to put into Valparaiso in distress. It is probable that the Watts went down in the same storm, with twenty persons aboard. The cergo of railway material was valued at $85,000.

COULDN'T RESPOND .- An awkward trouble about the current style of melodrams is pointed out by an eastern correspondent. The only hit of a certain piece was made by the explosion of a keg of gunpowder, which went off with a bang like a cannon, and a "woosh" like a thousand rockets, knocking the hero's prison into bits. "The audience made an uproar of applanse. The escaped hero came out in response, but they kept on clapting and stamping. Then the heroine appeared, and the villain, and the Socialist who had lighted the fuse, but nobody was satisfactory. It was the explosive keg that had carried off the histrionic honors of the evening, and the people only became quiet when they realized that the keg, with all its talent as a melodramatic actor, couldn't walk out and is pointed out by an eastern corre-

For the Murder of Jack Leonard.

The court-room was densely crowded vesterday, the occasion being the trial of the three brothers, John, James and Michael Leahy, charged with the murder of Jack Leonard, on the Klaskanine, last

When the case was called yesterday morning every available space in the court-room was filled; Messrs. Fulton & court-room was filled; Messrs. Fulton & Winton appeared for the defense; District Attorney McBride, assisted by Messrs. Steeves, Curtis and Taylor for the prosecution. The work of securing a jury was first in order. Thirty-eight were examined, and at 3 r. m., the following jury was selected: L. B. Chase, A. Condit, M. I. Sage, John Enberg, Chas. Stott, D. W. Overton, Wm. Moody, D. Wilson, O. V. Carter, J. Davis, Jr., J. A. Carlson, T. J. McClanahan.

The trial immediately proceeded. The

The trial immediately proceeded. The case was opened by T. A. McBride who read the indictment and proceeded to briefly comment thereon, he was folbriefly comment thereon, he was fol-lowed by C. W. Fulton, after which the examination of witnesses began. Henry Mack was the first witness called:

his testimony was substantially that on the Saturday the shooting was done he and three others, among whom was Jack Leonard, started to go to work where the had been the previous day; that when they had got within several paces when they had got within several paces of the part of the building that was standing the three defendants came out armed; one of them said "go, go," and fired, Leonard falling dead. A rigid cross examination followed, after which court adjourned to nine o'clock this when the trial will be resur

Last Evening's Performance.

The performance of Mr. Langrishe and his admirable company at Occidental hall yesterday evening was a source of uncontrolled mirth to the audience. It Don McKenzie found a gold coin in the court house last Sunday, which the owner can have by identifying.

The first of the Oregon grain fleet for 1882-84, the British ship Rossadhu, has arrived at Queenstown in a passage of 120 days.

surpassed anything in the humorous line surpassed anything in the humorous line seen in Astoria since the Occidental was opened. The support was thorough, and the hearty applause showed its apprecia-tion by the audience.

To-night Mr, Langrishe will appear in his great character, "John Unit," in "Self; or, Life in New York." This is a three-act comedy in which he has drawn crowded houses night after night, and in which he is supported by Herry Rich. W. T. Boulden, of R. L. Polk & Co., is in the city in the interests of a new directory of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, which those perties are compiling.

The six-year-old daughter of L. D. Coffman died of scarlet fever yesterday morning. The funeral will take place this morning. The interment will be at Clatsop Cemetery.

The Womans' Christian Temperance Union, organized by Mrs. Frances Wil-lard in Astoria, will meet this afternoon at three o'clock at the hall of the Y. M.

FREGUTS.-The wooden ship Indiana, 1488 tons, was closed yesterday to Sibson, Church & Co. for wheat to Cork, U. direct port in U. K., 1s 3d less. This is said to be the lowest rate ever paid for like freight from this port. An iron bark one time accepted 35s, which would now be a comparatively less rate than 32s 6d for wood. The Indiana had laid here since April, and, like many others, could since April, and, like many others, could at one time have had 57s 6d for the same voyage. The difference is no reflection upon the sagacity of anyone, the same mistake heing common in all directions. Some of the wooden vessels in port de-clare they would not accept a like rate, but there is no saying what a firm offer would result in. - Oregonian, 14.

There is no general rule or law invalidating commercial paper if executed on the other holidays you mention.

When a note comes due on May 30, or July 4, or Dec. 25, or Sunday, and it goes to protest, can the bank hold the maker of the note for the protest fees? Notes do not come due on Sunday or other holidays. Whenever the last day of grace falls on Sunday or other holidays the note becomes due and payable on the preceding day.

It you tender pay for a note on a legal holiday and the money is refused, does it release the maker of the note from pay-ing the same?

The supposition that a man would re fuse to take money on a legal holiday is rather absurd. The tender you mention would have to be kept good, and the maker could not escape liability, even if the payee improperly refused to accept payment in the first instance.

If I gave a check dated Sunday or any other legal holiday, payable to order on a bank where I had money on deposit, and the bank paid the same on presentation, could the bank hold me for the amount? The bank could hold you for the amount it paid 'out on your order upon a check dated Sunday.

On Friday last, Jan. 4th, a sad aceident occurred, by which John Woods lost his life. He and several other men were breaking a jam of logs on Milton creek. He was carried into the rapids, fell off the log and was drowned. He was a promising young man and had a good reputation in this vicinity. He came to Oregon about a year ago and has been working in Muckle's logging camp ever since. Mist.
