When Rev. Dr. Fisk was the pre siding officer at Wilbraham Seminary, there was one boy who was as full of mischief as a boy only could be. He taxed the well known elastic patience of Dr. Fisk to the last de-gree. Finally the doctor said to him after a capital act of misconduct, "You must prepare yourself for a se-vere whipping." When the appointed time came the doctor was on hand very much more affected, apparently, than the irrepressible mischief-maker. After a solemn disecu se in that most melting tone of voice that no one can forget who ever heard it, the doctor drew his rattan and laid with considerable unction upon the boy's back. Nothing but dust fol-lowed the blow. The subject of the discipline was entirely at his ease and evidently unconscious of the stroke.

"Take off your coat, sir!" was the next command—for the doctor was a little roused. Again whistled the rattan around the boy's shoulders, but with no more effect. "Take off your vest, sir!" shouted the doctor. Off went the vest, but there was another under it. "Off with the other" and then to the astonishment of the administrator of justice, he exposed. administrator of justice, he expessed a dry codfish defending the back of the culprit like a shield, while below there was evidently stretching over other exposed portions of the body a stout leather apron.

"What does this mean?" said the

"Why," said the great rogue, in a particularly humble and persuasive tone, "you told me, doctor, to prepare myself for punishment, and I have done the best I could."

It was out of the question to pur-sue the act of discipline any farther at that time. And it is doubtful whether it was again resumed.

It is said the English charge d'af-fairs at Pekin has induced the Chi-nese cabinet to declare that China will be satisfied if the French abstain from invading Lang Son and Cao Binb. The Chinese forces at Bacuiah will be ordered to withdraw twenty five leagues northward. Mediation by America, after the capture of Baeninh, is considered certain.

Made Honest by Business Princi ples. A Druggist Tells the

"Now, my friend, let's be perfectly trank and candid about this little matter," the druggist said, placing both elbows on his plated show-case and looking his customer fairly in the eye. You have a lame back and want a plaster to put on it. You don't know me, and, judging of human nature as it runs in usiness, you are afraid I'll humbug you in some way. You may think it an odd state ment, but I can't afford to cheat you. Even it did I haven't the means. "That's curious. (Oh, my back! I'll take a chair I guess.) Don't you keep plasters?" "Oh, yes, one or two kinds. On ce I had shelves full of them-every sort that were ever invented to gull the ignorant and make money for imitators. But I sifted 'em out one by one, and now sell BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLANTERS principally. They always give satisfaction and in the end it pays me to sell them in preference to all others." "Haven't you Allcock's? "Yes, but my customers and myself prefer Benson's Capcine—which are quick as elec-tricity, safe as Government bonds and sure as the law of gravitation. The doctors order them, and what is more to the point, I have never heard a word of complaint from any one who has used them. You can go else where-if your back will bear you out in the operation-and get another and a cheaper plaster, but-" "Don't talk to me about the money," broke in the comfort-seeking stranger, with some heat. "What's ten or fifteen cents to getting rid of this confounded-oh, Lordy!-this rain and lameness? Let me have one of Bensen' Capcine. That's the real a ticle, is it? with the word CAPCINE cut in the body of the
