"In matters of administration the people are not to be trifled with as they were a generation ago."

This expression is attributed to Senator Edmunds in a recently published interview, and is at least one he might have used, for it is full of truth and suggestion. There is no question but the people of this coun-try are much better informed politically than they were a generation ago and more critical of the conduct of and more critical of the conduct of public men. Furthermore, reason has very largely driven clap-trap and mummery out of political methods; many instances of this will occur to any one making comparisons, and a notable instance is called to mind by the glaring headline "Old Saddlebags," in the Louisville Courier-Journal over a borrible wood out portrait bags," in the Louisville Courier-Jour-nal, over a horrible wood-cut portrait of ex-Senator McDonald. Apparently the esteemed editor remembered cer-tain facts in American history and hoped to help its candidate toward the presidency by urging a taking sort of nickname for him. Other ed-itors have similar memories, and the same thing is tried with almost every candidate. candidate.

The most exciting campaign this country ever saw was in 1840, and one country ever saw was in 1840, and one can now hardly see any reason for the unusual feeling except the presence of "war-cries." Harrison was a successful military man, and hence came the yell of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too." Democrats were unfortuate enough to slur him by saying he had lived in a log cabin, with only hard cider to drink, and the Whigs made the most of the blunder. The air resounded with "Log cabin and hard cider!" all over the country. Log cabins were made and hauled on wheels to mass meetings, pictures of the log cabins appeared everywhere. Greely began his famous work as editor of a paper called the Log Cabin. and the election was carried in a kind of log cabin drunk. The foolishness of log cabin drunk. The foolishness did not reappear in the same degree but we can all remember some of it. When Republicans conducted the first campaign against slavery their candidate was held up and shouted for as a "Pathfinder." and great Abraham Lincoln was belittled with the appellation of "Railsplitter." Certainly the use of these names dr. w votes, but the whole thing was absurd and ridiculous, and would now be fruitless. Garfield publicly expressed his contempt for the "Canal Boy" talk about himself, and in fact the thing fell flat. The average citizen had come to fully realize that a man might reach the White House from a humble beginning, and Garfield's course in public life had a good deal more to do with determining but we can all remember some of it deal more to do with determining votes than his exploits on the tow-pate. And the Harrison era will pate. And the Harrison era win hardly return to give the "Old Sad dlebags" business any potency; the time for shouting men into the Presi-dency is past.—Springfield, Mass., Republican.

An Optical Illusion.

Here is a very singular illustration of the optical delusion which a change of position will sometimes effect. Take a row of ordinary capital letters and figures: SSSSSXXXX333333

They are such as are made up of two parts of equal shapes. Look carefully at these, and you will perceive that the upper halves of the characters are a very little smaller than the lower halves—so little that an ordinary eye declares them to be of equal size. Now turn the paper upside down, and, without any careful look. down, and, without any careful looking, you will see that this difference in size is very much exaggerated; that much smaller than the bottom half. It will be seen from this that there is a tendency in the eye to enlarge the upper part of any object upo

The following letter tells its own story. The signature will be recognized as that of the Physician-in-Chief of the De Quincy Home, and author of "Drugs That Enslave," "The Hypodermic Injection of Morphine," A Manual of Nursing," and many other popular and valuable special medical works:

MESSTE. SEABURY & JOHNSON,

Gentlemen; -Like most of my profession, l am cautious about pinning my fai h to any new medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER, has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by s patient of mine Although I was well acuninted with the superior excellence of you other plaster and antiseptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson ras ocuparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in case of Lame Back, Local Kheumatism, Neuralgis. Congestion of the Bronchist Tubes and Lungs, Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPCINE PLAST-R an exceptionally clean ly plaster to use, and rapid in its action-Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients have convinc ed me that there is no single article so valu able for popular use, nor so helpful in the liseases I have named. Should you desire to do so, you may use my ame to that effect.
