Around the City.

Yesterday's Dependent was a case of The River Indu,s the S. R. Maud and City of Carlisle are due.

A pleasant time is anticipated at the M. E. social this evening.

"The new Inferno: or, the Bottom-less pit:—a tale of '84;" now appearing in daily installments.

When you throw a stone among a pack of curs and then hear them yelp, the pre-sumption is they are hit. The Gen. Banning is still at Portland. he will probably be down and sail for Gray's harbor sometime this week.

The boys in the Dependent office held their noses last Sunday night while Monday's edition was being worked off.

Al. Gates has opened a shooting gallery next door to Spexarth's gun store. Call and ring the bell. Three shots cost but The infant son of Mr. Belmane me with a severe fall last Saturday, spraining his shoulder. The little fellow was do-ing well at last accounts. The baths at the Occidental Barber shop, kept by Uhlenhart and Schoenhe are in working order. Patrons can be accommodated at any time.

"He was the mildest mannered man that ever scuttled ship or cut a throat. Pity he loved an adventurous life's variety; he was such a loss to good society."

Sheriff Twombly desires to remind tax pryers that the time draws nigh when taxes are delinquent. He wants to sign a large number of tax receipts in the next two weeks. Another pitched battle between the races occurred at the western end of Chenamus street yesterday afternoon. The snow worries the Chinamen in every way imaginable.

The former correspondent of the Sun-day Mercury begins to find out that As-torians don't take any stock in the nastiness which his present owners demand he shall furnish.

The absence of ocean craft and the temporary stoppage of river navigation make dull times along the water front. The Trustee came in on Sunday and the Melancthon yesterday afternoon

Jeffreys-Lewis, and W. E. Sheridan here. Sheridan is now attracting large audiences in San Francisco by his mag-nificent rendition of "Louis XI." Mr. J. W. Welch, one of the incorpora tors of the Independent, promises to tell us how to run a newspaper. After that he may write a brochure entitled "What I know about running for office." Astoria will be headquarters this season for every description of caunery sup-plies; what is not manufactured here will be furnished at such prices as will make unnecessary to apply elsewhere. The Chebalis Vidette of the 14th displays energy and enterprise in every col-umn. It is working hard for the Gray's harbor country and deserves the evident stocess it is achieving for its earnest efforts.

The ladies of the M. E. Church will rive a sociable at the parlors of their shurch on this evening, Feb. 18. A pleasant time is anticipated, and all are avited. Entrance at the east side of the ce has received about 100 dif ferent calendars, but the one in last cv ating's mail is the finest. It is from the enterprising firm of N. W. Ayer & Sons, Philadelphia Penn.; it is a thing of beauand will be a joy for-316 days. The little pug that runs around wear ing a collar on which is written "I am Russian Bob's dog," has at last begun to bark at the bidding of its master. Noth-ing but the threat that it would be choked uld have induced it to begin its feeble The Dependent is very careful to put its dirty little insinuations so that it implies without positively saying anything. Come out of your hole, stop making faces; be candid if you can't be honest, and mouth your lies so that they can be answered.

Not hearing from his son John, who had gone over on John Day's river hunting ducks last Saturday, Mr. C. H. Bain chartered the Gen. Custer yesterday afternoon and steamed up the river. He found the object of his search this side of Tongue Point, on his way home, having been detained by Sunday night's storm. Attention is directed to Arndt & Fer an's advertisement. They are agents reachinery in use in every cannery and are prepared to make arrangements setisfactory to every one that needs new and improved appliances. The stock is complete and embraces every variety of labor-saving inventions now in use in canneries and packing establishments.

Sunday morning dawned bright and sunny, but at 10 s snow squall dispelled all hopes of fine weather. All day long the storm raged, the wind coming from the west and blowing with great force. Yesterday the glass rose, the sky was overspread with rain clouds, and the two inches of snow that had fallen the day before had almost entirely disappeared.

SALE To-DAY. - Under instructions from Mosers. Bozorth & Johns, Mr. E. C. Holden will this morning begin the sale of a limited number of lots 50x100 feet each, in the first addition to Ocean Grove. Praise of this provided the Grove. Praise of this property is almost superfluous. The fact that so many of our citizens have secured lots in that lecality for the purpose of "tenting on the beach," while others, keenly alive to its value, have purchased on speculation in the same place is sufficient instance of the value of those lots. The sale begins at Holden's auction rooms at eleven this morning.

K. of P. Drill Corps.

Several members of the order of Knights of Pythias have organized a drill corps for the purpose of perfecting selves in the manual of sword exergise and correct marching. At a meeting cise and correct marching. At a meeting recently held the following officers were elected: President, J. M. Olsen; secretary, T. S. Jewett; treasurer, J. E. Thomas; captain, Alex. Campbell; first lieutenant, J. E. Thomas. The following committees were appointed: On uniforms, J. E. Thomas, Thos. Ryrie, T. S. Jewett; on drill room, J. M. Olsen, C. G. Smith, Nat. Jones. The dues were fixed at twenty-five cents per month, and a fine of twenty-five cents imposed for absence at any drills.

T. S. Jewerr, Sec'y.

Extra Quality of Coal Oil By the gallon, five gallon can or case, to be found at the Crockery store of Jordan & Bozorth.

GRAY'S HARBOR RESIDENTS WELL PLEASED.

of a Profitable Trade to Autoria.

Copying and endorsing the recent articlo in The Astonian concerning the proposed new transportation company, the Chekalis Valley Vidette of the 14th says: In accordance with the intimation of his purpose, above mentioned, Mr. Hume arrived here last Friday, and proceeded to canvass the valley for subscriptions to stock, only desiring to place enough to place indicate a local interest in the enterprise, and to secura to his boat the carrying trade of the valley. He left on Tues day, having secured about two thousand dollars in subscriptions, which he as-sured as was amply sufficient for his purpose, and he also informed us that immediately upon his arrival in Astoria he would proceed to have a boat designed especially for this route, with a draught of about eight feet, so that even in the present unimproved condition of the river, she can come, at any stage of water to Montesano, and that she would be put in readiness for the route as fast as men and money could build her.

She will be strunch, and in every respect capable and will be fitted up in the best possible style for the accommodation of possible style for the accommodation of both freight and passengers. All: Musse further informs us that he has under serious contemplation the project of building a boat to ply between the large warehouse which he proposes to build on the Wisnpah and Blockhouse Smith's, on the upper Chehalis, and that with that end in view he would shortly and an expert river steamboat man to examine the upper river immediately and report upon the plan of a light draugat steamer necessary to navigate its waters, dis idea is to carry up all the freight of the upper valley and bring down its pro-duce to a connection with the ocean steamer, a scheme which is entirely pracand an excellent prospect for opening up the upper country is in view. In view of the upper country is m view. In view of the present highly encouraging outlook our people have every reason to take an abiding and grateful interest in the en-terprises proposed by Mr. Hume, as they combine the elements of great helpful-ness and positive certainty, he being pos-sessed of abundant means, and not being a man to turn back after having once put his hand to the plow, especially when his business venture is one which his udgment fully endorses as is the casjudgment fully endorses, as is the case with him since his recent trip through the valley, during which he saw such evi-found here. In conclusion we will suggest to our people that as the putting on of this steamer, which is of so much importance to us, is an Astoria enterprise, originated and sustained by Astoria capital, the interests of the business men of that city who have contributed to it should receive favorable consideration. To two firms, both of whom have contributed liberary toward the enterprise, we direct special attention, namely, C. H. Cooper & Co., and Stone & Davidson, the first being an and Stone & Davids in, the first being an extensive wholesale dry goods concern in Astoria, and the second wholesale produce buyers and shippers in the same city. These firms are desirous of building up a trade in this valley, and as they have invested largely in the coming steamer with that in view, and as we owe nothing to Portland merchants, who have steadily refused to consider us, or our steadily refused to consider us, or our wants, in our hour of pressing need, the Astoria business men who have heard and launched out and helped us are dences of development and latent re-sources as he had no idea were to be

Didn't See Arthur at All.

Senator Dolph, of Oregon, has very enlarged views concerning the importance of his senatorial position. Last Tuesday night, at the president's reception, there was such a long line of carriages, and such bad management of them, that some of the guests did not reach the White house until the hour for the close of the reception. Dolph got into the White ouse grounds at 9:30 P. M. Here he found his carriage blocked so long that he became desperate. Sticking his head out of the window he bawled to the driver of the carriage in front of him:
"Get out of the way; I am Senator Dolph of Oregon!" The driver invited the senator of Oregon to "go to Halifar." The senator at this got out in the rain and senator at this got out in the rain and walked up to the occupants of the offend-ing carriage, and complained of the driver's impudence. The people politely told Dolph to mind his own business. They belonged to Sanator Palmer's party. They added in polite phrasoology that it was a good thing to know anough the gowas a good thing to know enough to go in when it rains. The Oregon senator thereupon promptly retired. Palmer, who was in the second carriage in advance of Dolph, employed Strategy and finally broke the blockade of carriages. He beckened to a policeman, and explained to him that the president was waiting for him. This faithful officer got Palmer's two carriages up ahead of everyone else, while the unfortunate sen-tor from Oregon never reached the White house at all.—Oregonian Special.

The Quileute river, says the Port Townsend Argus, is composed of four branches; each branch is composed of branches; each branch is composed of good farming land. Fish and game are abundant. Elk, bear, deer, wolves, and wildcats are plentiful. We have the largest tract of unbroken forest in the United States, it extends from Cape of respect. The entire fire department flattery on the north to Gray's harbor turned out precided by the Young Men's on the south, a distance of over a hun-dred miles; also from the ocean to the trout and salmon. What Norton, of the Vidette, Thinks of "Hired Lackeys."

As a rule, partisan or personal newspaper organs do not meet with the suc cess that attends unbiased individual effort. The person or party using an organ of this kind rarely, if ever, finds it such a belp as expected-and often it proves a detriment. Its utterances are received as coming from a hired or projudiced standpoint. Free enlightened Americans detest nothing more than the efforts of a newspaper that is nothing more than a bired lackey, when it should be an independent leade? of public sentiindividual or partisan cause ment. The individual of parents that needs botstering up by a hireling newspaper is looked upon with doubt and distrust. Almost any otier kind of a paid agent may pursue his calling with out being looked upon as discrete; but a newspaper, never. Partisan or passon I organs rarely succeed in getting along amicably, either. Usually their bosses disagree or one is favored more than another, and dissensions follow. The same objection applies in a greater or less degree to newspapers owned and controlled of joint stock companies for specific puroy joint source companies for specific pur-poses. Rarely does a newspaper succeed until it has been the means of sink-ing thousands of dollars; the amount lost is usually in propor-tion to the magnitude of the On Dairy creek on Monday last, says the Hillsboro Independent, A.
