Machine Filled Cans.

On several occasions it has become apparent from the tone of English trade journals that the system of machine filling salmon cans is not meeting with favor on the other side.

Tardiness in School.

We had hoped it would not be necessary to say anything to the patrons of our school about tardiness. But we can refrain no longer.

Important, if True.

In a report from one of the canning stations upon the Columbia river we see it stated that the offal of the salmon canned, consisting as it largely does of the egg and milt of the fish, and thrown into a convenient reservoir, had, in this rough way, become self impregnated, and that hundreds of millions of salmon fry had thus been produced.

The School Meeting.

There was a somewhat larger attendance last evening than on the afternoon previous at the school meeting in district No. 1 school house.

HERE, THERE AND ELSEWHERE.

There is no telling in Portland when the St. Paul train will get in—not for a week at any rate. About seventy miles of Northern Pacific road is washed out between Spokane and Astoria.

Antelope hunting has afforded great sport in some portions of Klamath county, Oregon, this winter. Large bands of antelope congregated at the heads of the different valleys where the snow is deep, and fall an easy prey to the hunter.

A gentleman from Bath, Maine, writes to the Olympia Transcript that quite a number of good, reliable young men from Maine will come to Washington Territory in the spring. Most of them have some means and a good deal of pluck.

The log drive on the Nisqually river, started last week, the rain having raised the river sufficiently for that purpose. The logs belong to the Tacoma Mill Co., who have nearly $22,000 invested in them. There are also loggers' liens upon them to the amount of several thousand dollars more. These are three million feet of fir timber in the drive.

L. D. Durgin, a well known nurseryman of Puyallup, committed suicide at the residence of Sheriff Winsor, at New Tacoma, on Thursday morning, by stabbing himself in the heart with the blade of a pair of shears. He was on his way home from Olympia where he had been drinking heavily for several weeks, and was taken in charge by Sheriff Winsor.

So far only one woman has ventured into the Cedar Alameda mines, says the Walla Walla Statesman. She made the trip in male attire, and when she changed her clothes and appeared in the conventional costume of her delightful sex, great was the joy in Eagle City. The lady will open a restaurant, it is said, and will secure all the trade, whether she gives the boys anything to eat or not. They are said to look upon her as though she were an angel.

The Yreka Journal says: We learn from Mr. A. H. Burrows, who arrived here Sunday afternoon, that 1200 more Chinamen came up from San Francisco to work on the railroad above Redding, probably discharged from Oregon roads, going from Portland to San Francisco by steamer. Instead of showing any signs of quitting work, the California company appears to be just commencing in earnest, and now have about double the force ever before employed. The men are evidently employed now so as to operate them well organized for spring operations, the time when the ground can be worked to the best advantage, by reason of not then being baked hard by the influence of the heat at a later period of the season.

In addition to the Chinamen from below, large crowds pass through here almost every day, with several more wagon loads to come, and a Chinese agent has been here for over a week securing all the Chinamen possible in this vicinity, offering $30 a month.
