PIMPLES to SCROFUL

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—Henry C. Gordon, one of the best-known materializing mediums of this country, was captured to-night in the midst of for every form of SKIN & BLOOT his manifestations by reporters of the Philadelphia papers. Gordon has been carrying on quite a thriving business of late in the manufacture of spirits, who he claims are those of rsons present at his seances. He has made many dupes who have firm-ly believed that the figures represented by Gordon are those of departed friends and relatives. One of the re-porters got into his confidence several weeks ago, and has been playing the detective ever since. A warrant was sworn out by him before a magistrate to-day, charging Gordon and his assistant, Hugh Kerr, with ob-taining money under false and fraud-ulent representations, with intent to cheat and defraud, and conspiracy. In company with two fellow journal-ists, the warrant was served. Gordon was caught while personating Esther Hazard, the deceased daughter of Thomas R. Hazard, who owns a fine country seat outside of Newport, R. L. and who is spending the winter in Philadelphia. Gordon was dressed in white draperies, and was in his stocking feet. Underneath the out side drapery he wore a nightgown over his trousers, and shirt. Under-neath his robes and wound around his legs was a red knit shawl, which he had previously worn for his father, and dematerialized before the audience. In the cabinet were found wigs, beards, silk robes, head dresses, mos-quito netting which he had used for lace, shawls, ribbons, spirit jewelry, satin slippers and other paraphernalia enough to set up a first-class spiritualist in the business. Several in the sudience who had previously recognized departed friends admitted that they had been duped, and thanked the newspaper men for the benefit rendered the community. Hazard said that he saw the face of his daughter gradually change into that of Gor-don, and claimed that the spirit had taken possession of the medium. He could not explain the clothing, however, which Gordon said the spirits brought up from the store below. The prisoners will be arranged before magistrate to-morrow.

There is a droll side to all things even in the calamities and disasters that overtake humanity. This has more than once been illustrated by the flood sufferers of the east. One instance shows how strong is the ruling passion of the day that is so tenderly fostered by the printing press and communicating facilities of this wonderful age. Those in charge of one of the flood boats reported that the inhabitants of a submerged Ohio town asked first for the news, next for ropes with which to and or their houses, and then for something

The variance in the vote of this state during the past few years, and especially the very close contest in the presidential election of 1880, gives us much hope that, notwithstanding our present minority, with harmony in our ranks, and a well-directed exertion of our strength, we shall carry off the palm of victory. But to insure this end it is imperative that all Democrats should contribute their undi-vided support and hearty co-operation, not only in the actual canvass but in its very initiation—the county primaries. We do not presume to trespass upon the precincts of our popular convention, but be do not for popular convention, but do earnestly invoke all members of our party to put aside past differences and personal antagonisms, to unite in har-monicus action in the various primaries and to send full delegations of represen-tative men to attend the state convention.
