I. W. Case gives notice of transfer of business to Carman & Co.
Wm. E. Waters, of the firm of D. Rosenberg & Sons, of New York, is at the Occident.
Hollen's auction sale of elegant Italian marbles showed a large attendance at eleven this morning.
Frank Parker celebrated his birthday yesterday, and has an ad. in this morning that means business.
There will be a constable's sale of a fishing boat at Hume's cannery at ten o'clock to-morrow morning.
A few smelt are still in the river, but no one cares for them since the lordly salmon made their appearance.
Ben Worley will have a special auction sale at his residence on Squeamish street at two o'clock this afternoon. See adv.
There will be a stockholders' meeting of the Garibaldi Packing company at Longshoremen's hall next Saturday evening.
Messrs. Holt and McCurdy have rented the building so long occupied by Capt. Moses Rogers and will move in on the 1st of May.
"High boat" yesterday so far as heard from was reported to be 91. The fish are not very plenty so far, but the flavor is unsurpassed.
Robert Lowe's family, F. D. Winton and family and Mrs. Boatman were among the returning passengers on the Oregon yesterday.
The ladies of the Dorcas Society will give a social entertainment at the residence of Mr. J. P. Dickinson on Tuesday evening, April 15th.
Thos. Quirk, who was taken from here to San Francisco some time ago, on a charge of embezzlement, was given three years in San Quentin last Tuesday.
John C. Harlow, a brother of Mrs. Worley of this city, died of consumption at San Buenaventura, California, last Monday. Deceased was in the 24th year of his age. The remains will be brought to Portland for interment.
Attention is directed to the advertisement of Carman & Co., who succeed to the business and good will of the grocery and provision firm of I. W. Case, long and successfully conducted, and to be continued at the old stand, corner Cass and Chenamus streets.
The Finnish Evangelical Lutheran congregation of Astoria will hold the first divine service in their new church on next Sunday morning at ten o'clock. The building of the church has been somewhat retarded, but it is now completed at a total cost of $2,500. Rev. J. J. Holikka will be the pastor.
Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mrs. Jewett's millinery and dressmaking establishment. As Easter approaches that lady will be wanted in an important one, and can be solved by an inspection of the large and well-selected stock. The spring opening of bonnets, etc., will take place on the 11th and 12th inst.
The time-honored occurrence of April Fool's day was the occasion of a good deal of fun in this city yesterday. One individual who hired a rig and went to Upperville on a pressing invitation, was the wretchedest man in seven counties. The telephone did its part in helping the fun along, and some loud who never laughed before, and who always laughed loud and long.
Astoria Division No. 1, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, had their first drill last evening. The new organization will receive their uniforms next week, and will then be formally constituted by Past Grand Chancellor Ward Stevens. The Uniform Rank is to the K. of P. what the Grand Commandery is to Masonry, and the fact that Astoria institutes the first division north of San Francisco speaks volumes for the esprit du corps and enterprise of the order in this city.
Lloyd Van Dusen's dog "Jack" hath departed this life greatly to the regret of numerous residents for whom the dog-funet had always ready a friendly wag of the tail. Since the grievous accident which caused his death, his sufferings had been daily alleviated by the administration of morphine. Affliction sore long time he bore, physicians were in vain. He is gone where all dogs go, and for a likely pup that looks like him $30 will be paid by his regretful owner.
The steamship State of California and Queen of the Pacific had a trial of speed on the southern California coast last week. They left San Pedro the same day. The State made the run in 25 hours and 30 minutes; the Queen in 25 hours and 5 minutes. It has long been a mooted question as to which is the fastest vessel of the two, a question decided in favor of the Queen, according to those on board of her. The decision is one, however, that those on board the State will endeavor to have reversed on the first practicable occasion.
Mrs. Leavitt's Lecture.
Despite the storminess of yesterday evening the M. E. church was filled with one of the largest audiences of the season to hear Mrs. M. C. Leavitt of Boston, who had arrived on the Oregon to lecture in behalf of the W. C. T. U., of which she is an eloquent exponent. The exercises were opened by an anthem by Mrs. Middlebrook, Mrs. McLafferty and Scott Bozorth, accompanied on the organ by Miss Dickinson after which Rev. J. V. Milligan uttered a prayer, followed by a scriptural reading by Rev. Wm. Roberts. Mrs. W. W. Parker introduced the lecturer, who with very little preliminary talk to talk of the world to which she had devoted so much of her life and of her co-laborers in the field. She spoke extensively of Miss Willard, her travels in every state and territory in the union, how instrumental that lady had been in procuring reunion and fraternal feelings between north and south and in only passing reference to herself disinterested at length upon the necessity for action in the cause for which she was pleading.
Mrs. Leavitt is a very pleasing lady, her remarks being more an easy conversation with her hearers than a formal lecture, her reference to woman suffrage, and her pointed remarks regarding the manifest injustice of taxing women without denying them representation, elicited applause, together with other salient points of the address.
The exercises closed with the singing of the doxology, taking up a collection, and a benediction. Mrs. Leavitt will make a tour of the state and territory before returning to California.

TICKETS OF THE TELEGRAPH.
Congress has thanked Minister Saragut.
French troops are returning home from China.
Silver has been discovered in Wayne county, Pennsylvania.
The Cincinnati riot has been checked, and the mob has dissolved.
It is reported that Mackay paid $2000 to have Ochutree's speech on the Luscher revolution cabled to the foreign press.
Philip Resque, a poor man of New Orleans, has received papers which identify him as being a descendant of Napoleon I, and titles to an estate in France worth $250,000.
Andrew Onderdonk has entered into a new contract with the dominion government to close the gap on the Rocky Mountain division of the Canadian Pacific railway. The new contract begins at Savona's Ferry. The time allowed for the completion is two years.
Senator Miller's Chinese bill came up in the senate Thursday, during the morning hour, and upon an objection offered by Wilson of Iowa, was placed upon the calendar. The bill limiting the number of Chinese immigrants to five million prevails during the morning hour in the senate, and Wilson based his objection on the fact that the bill was so important to be discussed under such restrictions. In the place assigned it on the regular calendar the bill, besides being behind all appropriation bills, has several important measures ahead of it, which will probably elapse before it can be reached.
The New York Sun prints a two-column statement of Representative Belford of Colorado, detailing a visit to Garfield in 1881, and the facts which were impressed on his mind that there was going to be trouble in the party, and that designing and mischievous men were laboring to prejudice Garfield against Grant and his friends. The Sun says: "Garfield was successfully worked upon by somebody whose political interest it was to persuade him that the entire stalwart wing of the Republican party must be treated from the start as enemies of the new administration. Who was the somebody?" The Sun suggests the matter as a contribution to Belford's history. Belford shows that the relations of Conkling toward Garfield were ever perfectly friendly until Garfield's mind was poisoned.
The secretary of the railroad time convention says: "Out of 163 railroads 109 report that some along their routes are using standard time. Seventy-eight out of one hundred of the principal cities named in the census of 1890, but exclusive of the cities of the Pacific coast, have adopted the standard time as official. The Union Pacific railroad will adopt the new time on its union division. It makes up its spring schedule, and the Central Pacific will probably follow it. This will doubtless bring the whole Pacific coast into the system. Most of the cities east of the Pacific coast that still maintain standard time are in Ohio. They are six in number. Excepting Pennsylvania, where three cities hold to the old system, there are not more than two cities in any other state where the local time is used."
Liverpool Salmon Market.
Concerning the salmon market across the sea a recent letter from Liverpool says: "The position of the canned salmon market on this side is, at the present moment, peculiar, yet by no means unanticipated. Though statistically, the market is by no means weak, prices have been depressed to a level of 20c below that of the corresponding time last year. All the houses here are suffering from a feeling of anxiety to force sales, chiefly ex Quay; and while prices have thus been unduly depressed, the object of the consignees has been to secure a better price than the present low prices that could have been disposed of at 25 per cent more had holders showed a firmer front and displayed more caution. Be it patience. On the face of this it is evident a few thousand cases of salmon arriving in this market through channels foreign to the business here, will bring prices up to the level of 25c, and no matter how light stocks may be, while on the other hand large consignments or heavy stocks, when judiciously held, can be worked off at fairly remunerative prices to both packers and importers. Everything here—stocks, the demand in the country, and the limited supply to arrive, should warrant us in regarding the present market as one blot we have pointed out effects all calculations, and it is impossible to say when the lost ground can be regained. Within the last week or so holders appear to be holding out more, but if no business has been done at any advance. The lowest price accepted for good Columbia river was 21 1/2c ex quay, while now 21 1/2c to 22c is asked for similar goods ex store. Very little has been done in new season's salmon; buyers so far refuse to pay the prices asked and remain rather inclined to await the further development of matters in Oregon."
Fast River Service.
It is stated on authority that the Atlas-Kan comes to this port, although it is not definitely settled that she will remain. Complaint is so loud as to the present running time of boats on the lower river, it is thought the company will retain her here. The mail boat, leaving here at 6 A. M., seldom reaches Astoria before 4:30 P. M., and now that the fishing season is at hand the time will be later. Ten or more hours is too long for a run of 110 miles, and merchants having business with one or the other points demand that the time be shortened. Other than the regular trade, there is the summer travel, which in most part goes to the fastest boats. The mail service will doubtless increase the pay for shorter time if efforts were made to have it done, and some move should be made by the time of letting the next contracts.—Oregonian.

A 17-year-old daughter of J. J. McCoy, near Roseburg, was shot and killed by a bullet from a loaded revolver, which was accidentally discharged, the ball taking effect in the temple and ranging up into the brain.
Boyle & Parker, formerly on the Columbia, have started a logging camp on the upper Nasel. The logging business on this river is growing with marked rapidity. Less than a week has elapsed and only one full camp; now there are in the neighborhood of half a dozen.
The net premiums received in 1883 by all the companies engaged in the marine insurance business in San Francisco, were $569,010, and the losses paid during the same period, $805,215, showing a net loss of $236,205.
At the Iwaco Library Society meeting on Thursday the 20th, A. E. King was elected president; Mrs. W. W. Ward, vice-president; C. C. Dalton, secretary and treasurer; F. S. Bates, editor. The secretary reports ten cents in the treasury which was by vote paid at interest for the benefit of the sick fund.
A terrible accident occurred on Rice's Bar several days ago, the date returning to the memory of many on the Dayton, W. T. Chronicle, but by some means the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Jones got her feet so badly scalded by hot water that she is now in a terrible suffering it closed its eyes in death.
More new land is being taken up in Walla Walla and Umatilla counties than ever before known. Land that was formerly considered worthless is now being taken up by the government and railroad. Yesterday, says the Portland Standard of the 1st, Sheriff Sears collected the tax on mortgages from the various banks in this city. They demanded somewhat at paying, but on the other hand intimating that unless they complied with the law he would be compelled to close them up, they concluded to settle, although it is probable that on some of the loans the decision of Judge Deady, the end is not yet.
Few pieces of trestle work now remain unfinished between the end of the Oregon and California tracks at Ashland, and the work of completing them will be through within less time than expected. The railroad company have stated that by the 1st of May work will have been pushed ahead so rapidly that it is now said that three weeks will see the cars running into that town.
Deputy United States Marshal, P. M. Elliott, of Kansas City, Missouri, arrived in Portland on Monday last, on the Buchanan, whom he arrested on the Nebraska river, Tillamook county, upon an indictment and capias issued from the western district of Oregon, charging him with embezzlement. It is alleged that Buchanan converted $1,400 pension money belonging to one Ward, to his own use, and soon afterwards came to this coast. He was examined before United States Commissioner Deady, and was committed to jail upon failure to give bail in $3,000.
Recently 200 acres of land, situated within the city limits of Tacoma, were filed upon by parties in Olympia, who discovered that the tract was not the property of the Tacoma Land company, but was government land which the original settlers abandoned after filing. The property embraces 140 acres upon Pacific avenue, the main thoroughfare of Tacoma. The company thought all abandoned claims reverted to the government, and the filing of the claim against this view and parties who filed last have good title. It is said this seriously affects other property in the same place.
The Trunk Journal of Wednesday says: From Portland, Dorris just returned from Seattle, via Sacramento river road, we learn that the railroad company is crowding the work with energy, having a large force on and hiring all the men that can be secured. The water does not interfere at all with the grading; in fact the ground is in good condition for pot-holing and digging the only drawback being bad roads. The water does not interfere at all with the grading; in fact the ground is in good condition for pot-holing and digging the only drawback being bad roads. The water does not interfere at all with the grading; in fact the ground is in good condition for pot-holing and digging the only drawback being bad roads.
According to all reports from San Francisco, says the Pacific Journal, through the mills on the bay, no demand exists for grape number in the southern market, and but little for any kind. It is not known how long this state of affairs may last, but it is seriously to be hoped that the market will live up as long, or many of the mills on the upper coast will be compelled to shut down. The price of logs on the bay seems to remain steady at $5, and has not fallen off so much as prices on the Sound or on the Columbia over last year. The prices on the Sound have had a series of troubles, going from $7 to $5.50 in short order. Many of the loggers will be driven to the wall in consequence, and it will have the effect of lowering wages and lessening the number of camps.
There was this week recorded in the county clerk's office of Douglas county, says the Roseburg Independent, two mortgages executed by the Oregon Southern Improvement Company to the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, to secure the payment of the bonds of the company, to the amount of $2,000,000, which the said company propose to issue to carry out the objects or purposes for which the Improvement Company was incorporated, one of which, as is shown by the mortgage, is to construct or equip one or more railroads and telegraph lines from the waters of Coos bay, in Coos county, Oregon, to the eastern boundary in the state of Oregon, by the way of Roseburg, in Douglas county, Oregon, with as many main tracks and telegraph lines as may be found necessary or convenient to accommodate the business of the Oregon Southern Improvement Company of Oregon.
