WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE CITY.

Geo. Walker, of the firm of Meyer, Wilson & Co., is in the city.

How the years go by! It is nineteen years to-day since Lincoln died.

Chas. Clagg, of this city, was discharged from the state insane asylum last Saturday.

The Parish Aid Society of Grace church will meet this evening at the house of Rev. M. D. Wilson.

Everything in the way of legal blanks in full supply or promptly printed to order at THE ASTORIAN job office.

Messrs. Trullinger, Hobson, Adair and Stone, go to the Dalles this morning as delegates to the Democratic state convention.

The Dorcas Society of the Baptist church will entertain their friends this evening at the residence of Mr. J. P. Dickinson.

Rear-Admiral Upshur, in command of the navy in these waters, came up on the Oregon yesterday on a visit to his son, C. P. Upshur, U. S. shipping agent for this port.

The Oregon and Walla Walla came in yesterday: the Columbia sailed: the Merom finished loading: the River Indus cleared for Queenstown with 17,828 barrels flour, worth $80,226.

Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commanding the department of the Columbia, accompanied by Major A. S. Kimball, chief quartermaster of the department, left by the steamer last night for San Francisco on official business.

The Welcome prophesies that the democrats will in all probability nominate Nesmith for congress, and the republicans, Caples. It hits the mark as far as The Dalles convention is concerned, but is "away off" as to the republican nominee.

At the Grace church parish meeting held yesterday morning the following gentlemen were elected to serve as vestrymen for the ensuing year: A. Van Dusen, Dr. Jay Tuttle, C. J. Trenchard, S. D. Adair, B. Van Dusen, M. Young, and C. W. Stone.

In the police court yesterday John Armstrong paid $2 fine on a charge of drunkenness, John Turk went to jail to serve out a fine of $5 for being disorderly, Lawrence Dillon paid $10 under the vagrant act, Mary Sullivan forfeited $13 on a charge of disorderly conduct, and Anton Galloch took $5 worth of solitary confinement on the same complaint.

A few weeks ago John Hobson lost a purse containing over $200, and immediately started for THE ASTORIAN to advertise it. Dudley R. Blunt, employed at The Old Corner saloon happened to find it lying on Chenamus street and immediately started to hunt up the owner, and had the pleasure of handing it to Mr. Hobson that afternoon. As he refused any reward, Messrs. John Stearns and John Hobson determined that he should not go unrewarded, so yesterday they presented him with a massive gold watch chain, which he now wears and which he richly deserves for his honesty.

Notice.

There will be a meeting of the Rescue dramatic troupe at their hall this evening, 8 o'clock, sharp. A full attendance is desired.

CHAS. H. STOCKTON,
President.

Cargo Of The Itata.

The Itata begins discharging to-day. She brings 14,632 bxs tin plates, 450 bxs terne plates, 5000 fire brick, 5 csks fire clay, 100 bxs bath brick, 50 bbls soda crystals, 7 cs 9 csks apothecaries stores, 50 cs ginger ale, 100 cs bottled stout, 325 cs bottled beer, 50 kgs bi-carb soda, 14 csks 7 cs chains and hardware, 25 cs oilmen's stores, 10 cs 5 octaves brandy, 2 csks glassware, 8 csks 1 hhd 150 pkgs earthenware, 200 tons pig iron, 840 200's 907 100's 6280 50's salt.

The Clatsop Road.

ED. ASTORIAN:

By notice in your paper of this date it will be seen that the Clatsop tide-land reclamation meeting is postponed to Friday, April 25th, at 10 o'clock A. M., at same place. The postponement of this meeting by the tide-landers need not delay action by the Clatsop Road company.

As I understand from their secretary, there is now subscribed $16,650 of road stock, sufficient to allow the directors to carry on the work of road-building.

It is now in order for the road directors to lay out the line of road, obtain right of way and begin construction. Owners of tide-land along the proposed route of road stand ready to give right of way, so the road-building will not be delayed by them.

Yours truly,
JOHN ADAIR, JR.

Astoria, April 14, 1884.

Skipanon Republican Primary.

Skipanon, April 12, 1884.

ED. ASTORIAN:

The following are the proceedings of the Clatsop precinct republican primary, held at the town hall at Sipanon to-day: C. A. McGuire was chosen chairman, and W. E. Showers secretary. The object of the meeting was stated by the chairman, after which Messrs. John Matier, S. B. Smith and J. C. Ward, were chosen delegates to the Clatsop county republican convention.

STATE AND TERRITORIAL NEWS.

The Colfax Vidette is dead.

Seattle has organized a Safe Deposit Company.

A big fruit crop is expected in the Willamette valley.

Considerable immigration is going into Rogue River valley.

Eighteen hundred men are at work on the Oregon Pacific R. R.

The Palouse country will have 600,000 pounds of wool to sell this spring.

The Columbia River Wool Grower's association will be held at The Dalles May 10th.

Upper country journals anticipate a moderate stage of high water this season.

A $175,000 fire at Tacoma last Sunday morning burned nine buildings, mostly insured.

Chas. Curtis, aged 24, ferryman at Grand Ronde river, was shot by Calvin Pierce on the 3d inst., and died on the 6th inst.

Bob Buffington, a half breed, was shot and probably fatally wounded at Newcastle, W. T., last Saturday, by Tom Macannemy.

The grand encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, department of Washington territory, will meet at Vancouver on the 16th inst.

The Dayton, W. T., Chronicle of the 11th says it is reported that the vigilantes of Asotin county have hung Pierce, the murderer of Curtis.

Last Friday the first locomotive on the main track of the Oregon Pacific railroad was run from Yaquina to Onesta. It was driven by the president, T. Egerton Hogg.

It is stated, says the Seattle Chronicle, that the county will be offered for its contemplated $80,000 court house, a five acre tract, as a gift outright. The proposed present is in the south part of the city.

The postoffice name of Skookum Chuck, W. T., has been changed to Centralia. The last legislature changed the name of the village from Centerville to Centralia and now the last vestige of time-honored Skookum Chuck vanishes from view.

It is announced, says the Tacoma Ledger, that the Queen of the Pacific is to be taken off her recent southern route in California, and returned to the Puget sound run. It is also stated that steamer connection between this city and San Francisco will be increased, steamers leaving the two points every five days.

A quiet sentiment has been worked up, says the Vindicator, in the "garden patch," a body of land embracing all that part of Multnomah county lying east of the Willamette river, favor the division of Multnomah county, making the Willamette river the dividing line, and setting off the eastern portion as a new county with East Portland as the county seat.

J. Shelton, of this place, says the Coquille, Or., Herald, has on exhibition an egg which has a shell half soft and the other half hard, and which has a protuberance, very much like a piece of rubber pipe, at one end, over three inches long. The hen that laid it is doing well. This suction pipe will be handy for those who like raw eggs. The editor of the Herald ought to patent that hen.

The Pacific Journal thinks that Shoalwater bay and Gray's harbor are becoming sufficiently important as maritime ports to justify the establishment of a port of entry at one or both places. Vessels of all sizes are constantly plying between these ports and San Francisco, and it is not improbable to suppose that vessels from foreign ports will find their way hither at no distant day.

Woodland is situated in Cowlitz county, W. T., on the left bank of Lewis river, about five miles from where it empties into the Columbia; says the Tacoma Ledger. The adjoining country is generally farming, the principal export being hay. Tame meadow lands yield one and a half to three tons of hay, wild lands from one to two and a half tons. About 1000 tons were shipped from the valley last year, for which the farmers received from $12 to $20 per ton on the bank.

The Salem Statesman figures up the cost of six chickens and one turkey stolen near Stayton, Or., recently. The thieves were fined $25 and costs, of $137.40. As they could pay neither, the county will have to lose the latter, besides their board, of 47½ days in the county jail, at the rate of 71 cents per day, or a total cost of $64.45 for board. Adding to the cost of trial, etc., $137.40, to the cost for board, and we have $204.85. This figure shows what the county is out.

I. A. Clark & Sons, oystermen on Shoalwater bay, have turned out for market the past winter and spring in the neighborhood of 3000 baskets of oysters. They have raked over some of their beds pretty clean, although some portions of their ground have not yet been gathered from. It is their intention to commence gathering seed oysters from the natural beds, to be spread upon the artificial beds, where they will be left to grow from two to three years, when the oysters will have attained marketable size.

The land department of the Northern Pacific Railroad company has sent out a poster, printed on cloth, to be posted in the timber regions of Washington territory, warning all persons against starting fires in the forests, which, through carelessness of the parties starting them, frequently destroy large tracts of valuable timber. The poster contains the orders of the commissioner of the general land office at Washington directing the timber agents to proceed against all offenders under the laws of Washington territory relating to the unlawful setting out of fires, and admonishes all offenders that the Northern Pacific will aid the government in checking the evil.

The Coos Bay Argus says: Spring salmon occasionally jump in the lower bay, but so far this season the fishermen have had but little success in capturing them.... The Parkersburg mill shut down last Saturday, for a week.... The mail service from Coquille City has been extended to Marshfield, and the office at Coos City discontinued.... Henry Miller, of Ten Mile, brought the hide of a panther to town on Monday, which he had lately trapped near his place. The panther was a large one, having measured over eleven feet from tip to tip.... A party of U. S. engineers are at the mouth of the Siuslaw river, hunting for a suitable location for a light-house.

Mrs. Ann Condill, a native of England, but who has been a resident of this state for the past fifteen years, was admitted to citizenship in the U. S. district court yesterday. This is probably the first instance, says the Oregonian, in which a woman has applied for naturalization papers. Mrs. Condill is a widow and a number of years ago took up a homestead near Springville. She now desires to prove up on it, and in order to do so it was necessary that she should become a citizen. It is not generally understood that a woman of foreign birth needs to become naturalized, but it appears that under some circumstances such is the case. If her husband gets naturalized, or she marries an American, she becomes a citizen without taking out papers.

THE OLD WORLD AND THE NEW.

Connecticut is troubled with thousands of panper immigrants.

Mexicans grow madder every day and now talk revolution.

John L. Sullivan, Jr., arrived at Boston from Port Natal last Saturday.

Suakem dispatches say that Khartoum is rumored fallen and Gen. Gordon a prisoner.

It is claimed that India cannot expect to compete with America in the European grain markets.

The Astoria land grant comes up for final action in the house of representatives sometime this week.

Bob Ingersoll was defeated by a negro for a delegate to the national convention, at Washington, last week.

The government has officially recognized the world's centennial exhibition, which opens at New Orleans next December.

England continues to be badly scared over the recent dynamite arrests, and wants the United States to take action relative to alleged conspirators.

Washington dispatches nominate Republican candidates daily. This time Grant, Blaine, Logan, Lincoln and Arthur are all sure of it. Tilden is said to have made S. J. Randall his residuary legatee, who will immediately proceed to administer on the estate.

"San Francisco and Portland Freights."

There has always existed an unreasonable difference in freights from San Francisco and Portland to Liverpool. At present this difference amounts to 10s sterling, or $2.50 in our money, per ton, paid from Portland than from San Francisco. At one time last fall this excess from Portland was only 5s per ton, but with that exception, the difference of 10s per ton has been steadily maintained. The Farmer has shown this up for years back and protested that it was unfair. The ship off on the broad Pacific cannot be more than two or three days' sail further from Portland than from San Francisco, and the voyage round from Liverpool and return cannot be over one week longer from Portland than from San Francisco. It is no doubt true that ships make voyages to and from one port as readily as the other. Every vessel undergoes detention of weeks, and often of months, waiting for cargoes or for seamen. The short detention caused by the difference in distance cannot be of serious moment. We learn that ships only ask at Puget sound the current rates from San Francisco; so distance does not figure in the account as the sound is more distant than Portland. It is no doubt true that they make a bug-bear of the Columbia river, but it is time that humbug was exploded.—Willamette Farmer.

Yes, indeed; it is "time that humbug was exploded," and one of the ways to produce the explosion is for the Farmer to stop writing such humbugging statements as the above. The Farmer knows very well that the Columbia bar is the cause of the difference in freights between here and San Francisco; that deep draught vessels, carrying large cargoes that can enter San Francisco bay cannot enter the Columbia; that the dangers and detentions between Astoria and Portland cause heavier rates of insurance to be required; that the vessels that have loaded at Astoria have saved so much by not going further up the river as to demonstrate the reason of the onerous freights; and that to attempt, as the Farmer does, to write upon this subject not in ignorance, which is excusable, but in deliberate perversion of facts which is contemptible, is alike opposed to justice and that spirit of honesty which is supposed to actuate all editorial utterances.

More About "Reclamations."

A correspondent of the Portland Commercial Herald, writing regarding the outrageous charges of "reclamation" brokers in Liverpool, says: "I am glad to see the salmon canners in Astoria are beginning to open their eyes regarding reclamations. There has been, and still continues to be, a regular system of robbery (you can call it nothing else) going on in Liverpool, not only in salmon but in other products shipped from the Pacific coast, and that by houses that stand high in the business community both here and on the other side of the water. It has surprised me very much that interested persons have not long ere this taken steps to change the plan of making reclamations. The very thing that brought disaster to the Astoria fishery in 1877 was the paying of heavy reclamations, which, as now turns out, ought never to have been paid by the canner, as the damage has been shown to be sea damage, as shown by the ship's log. The Titan was rail under for several days; cargo was adrift, water in the hold, both wheat, flour and salmon were damaged by salt water, but it being the usual thing to make reclamations for bad salmon, some $30,000 claims were made, which were paid by the canner, he not knowing the circumstances of the voyage at the time. I know of a case of a cargo of wheat consigned to a certain house, which they carried until it was nearly due in Liverpool. The market showed signs of a quick advance, then advanced rapidly. They cabled the owners of the wheat, it was sold before the rise. The owners would not stand it, as they had given no orders to sell. The matter was finally compromised Another case was of a lot of flour consigned, flour that has no superior on this coast. When it arrived in Liverpool it was pronounced by the firm to whom it was consigned to be of inferior quality, in fact inferior to ordinary Oregon flour, and could not be sold for over 23s. per 280 pounds. Fortunately, a gentleman interested in the flour was in Great Britian, and he at once telegraphied them not to sell. He then sent to an expert to examine into the matter and test the flour. After a thorough test and examination, the firm said a mistake had been made, that the flour was of superior quality, worth 37s per 280 pounds. They, however, rendered account sales at 35s, the then price of ordinary Oregon flour. That ended the business. When a firm of high standing does such things, what can consignors of salmon, wheat, flour, hops, or any other product of this coast expect? The only solution to this is for the salmon canners to appoint a man of their own to represent them and see that these practices are stopped. The same may be said of millers, etc."
