The Uses of an Enemy.

Always have an enemy on hand-a brisk, hearty, active enemy. Remark

the uses of an enemy:

1. The baving one is proof that you somebody. Wishy-washy, worthless, empty people never have enemies. Men who never move never run against anything; and when a man is thoroughly dead and utterly buried nothing ever runs against him. To be run against is proof of existence and position; to run against some thing is proof of motion.

Hundreds of letters in our possession couples of which may be had by return mail: reour authority for the are rion that Skin Scali a d blood flumors, whether Secondom inherited or Contagious, may NOW be permenently cured by Corners Resolvery, the new Blood Purifier. Diaretic and Aperican, internally, and Corners and Corners. Soar the great Skin Cures and Corners. Soar the great Skin Cures and Resutifiers, externally, in one half the time and at one half the expense of any other season.

2. An enemy is, to say the least, not partial to you. He will not flatter. He will not exaggerate your virtues. It is very probable that he will slightly magnify your faults. The benefit of that is two-fold; it is to permit you to know that you have faults, and are, therefore, not a monster, and it makes them of such size as to be visible and mansuch size as to be visible and manageable. Of course, if you have a fault, you desire to know it; when you become aware that you have a fault, you desire to correct it. Your enemy does for you this valuable work which your friend cannot per-

He stirs you up when you are napping. He keeps your faculties on the alert. Even when he does nothing he will have put you in such a state of mind that you cannot tell what he will do next, and this mental qui vive must be worth something, 4. He is a detective among your friends. You need to know who your friends are, and who are not, and who are your enemies. The last of these three will discriminate the other two When your enemy goes to one who is neither friend or enemy, and assails you, the indifferent one will have nothing to say or chime in, not because he is your enemy, but because it is so much easier to assent than op-pose, and esp cially than to re-fute. But your friend will take up cudgels for you on the instant. He will deny everything and insist on proof, and proving is very hard work. There is not a truthful man in the world that could afford to undertake to prove one-tenth of all his assertions. Your friend will call your enemy to the proof; and if the indifferent person, through carelessness, repeats the assertions of your enemy, he is soon made to feel the inconvenience thereof by the zeal your friend man.f.sts. Follow your enemy around and you will find your friends, for he will develop them so that they cannot be mistaken.

The next best thing to baving a hundred real friends is to have one open enemy.

It comes to us through channels friendly to the president that he is about to take a new departure and launch a very vigorous policy in regard to the interoceanic canal. It is said to be no less than a proposition for congress to make a direct appropriation of $100,000,000 to build a ship canal through Nicaragua, to be owned and maintained by our government, to be entirely free of tolls to vessels of the United States, while other nations shall pay tolls .- N. NEW YORK, August 11, 1880. MESOTS, SEABURY & JOHNSON,

Gentlemen:-Like most of my profession, I am cautions about pipping my fai h to any new medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER, has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine Although I was well ac-quainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and antiseptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson was comparatively new to me. I had heard. however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of Lame Back, Local Sheumatism, Neuralgia. Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, Dysnepsia, Torpid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPCINE PLAST: R an exceptionally clean ly plaster to use, and rapid in its action.

Many tests of its qualities, made in my own ed me that there is no single article so valuable for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named.

To All Whom It May Concern. Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients have convinced me that there is no single article so valuable for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named.

Should you desire to do so, you may use my name to that effect.

Very truly yours,
