As a white elephant. What passes for one is a spotted fellow, but as the Burmese believe that these animals, spotted beasts are the temporary abode of their god, Hunda, most extraordinary honors are paid them, and no prince is better lodged, finer fed or more greatly bowed to than one of these white elephants, of which I secured three, the only ones that ever left Asia.

At the moment, I was in the act of looking for a white elephant. I have never seen one in the United States, and I was in the act of looking for one. I had the pleasure of attending the great durbar, or council of 1861, which was held in Lucknow in honor of Sir Robert Sale, the then Governor-General of India.

Money matters, which have been a "little tight" for some time, give promise of relaxing. Sending money away that might better be spent at home hurts Astoria a good deal.

The Portland Telegram has the following about this troupe, which appear here next Friday: The audience at New Market theater was taken by surprise last night. They were not expecting to be more than a few minutes entertained by a rendition of the familiar drama of Leah, the Forsaken.

"While there my time was much occupied in watching the elephants at work on the river banks. They were engaged in building a boat, and the animals, in charge of native drivers, went to their work as regular as a biped operative. They grasped round pieces of timber with their trunks, and piled up the logs, as required, with the utmost ease. They took up each piece, as directed, and walked off with it toward the vessel, which was being lowered into position for loading.

"I have probably seen more than any man in the United States, and more in procession than any man in the world, a white elephant. I had the pleasure of attending the great durbar, or council of 1861, which was held in Lucknow in honor of Sir Robert Sale, the then Governor-General of India.

Madison Canid, who was arrested some time ago, was allowed freedom and consequent flight from the sunny state of Tennessee, is at liberty. The Western Union Telegraph company has been enabled by the amount of business done in connection with the aforesaid arrest. It appears now that a legal friend of Canid's here secured his liberation by sending $1000 of the amount he had deposited to the "Herald" office in Memphis, Tenn., condition that said heirs "let the thing drop" which was agreed to. The remainder of the amount that Mr. C. had in his credit has been applied, so it is said, to the liquidation of a legal claim put in by the friend who secured Mr. C's release.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held May 5th, in Y. M. C. A. hall. The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. W. H. Roberts, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

"I returned to my elephants," said Mr. Kirby, "after a pause," as there was no more to do at Mandalay, myself and partner took ourselves off to Mouleim, to await the arrival of our purchases. While waiting, I got hold of many curious notions, and one of the most interesting was a lot of old animals. I built commodious apartments for my elephants, and otherwise arranged for their shipment to Singapore, where a steamer was chartered for the special purpose of conveying elephants and everything else we could pick up, to London.
