

The Daily Morning Astorian.

VOL. XXI, NO. 35.

ASTORIA, OREGON, SATURDAY, MAY 17, 1884.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

THE NARROW GAUGE ROADS.
 Rumors were in circulation yesterday that the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company had surrendered their lease on the narrow gauge roads of the Oregonian Railway Company, limited. Inquiry at the manager's office of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company elicited no definite information on the subject. Payment of interest, according to the terms of the lease, has always been made through the head office in New York, and this office had not been advised of any change. Mr. Prescott said that Mr. Edmund Robertson of London, attorney for the Scotch railway company, was now in Boston, his object being a conference with President Coolidge of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company relative to the lease.
 Yesterday morning Mr. Wm. Reid, formerly president of the narrow gauge railway company, received a cablegram from Dundee stating that the O. R. & N. had defaulted in their interest to the Scotch company, and there was some excitement over it. The semi-annual interest was due yesterday. Beyond this no facts could be learned.
 It is understood that Mr. George O. Manchester, who was out here recently and examined all the company's properties, was very much opposed to retaining a lease of the narrow gauge lines, because they were an unnecessary load to carry. Everyone knows that the west side division hardly pays operating expenses, and the east side division loses money every month. When Willard leased the road, he was interested in protecting the Oregon and California; but since the dismemberment of the Willard lines, the O. R. & N. have no direct interest in the O. & C., and do not care to protect the O. & C. at an annual expense of about $175,000, which is the amount of interest on the bonds and stock of the narrow gauge roads. Hence, it is natural that the O. R. & N. would be glad to get rid of the lease.
 When the Oregonian Railway Company leased its lines to the O. R. & N., track on the west side division had reached the town of Dundee, Yamhill county, twenty-four and a half miles south of Portland, and work on the bridge across the Willamette river at Ray's Landing had been commenced. Grading had been completed to a point fourteen miles south of Dundee, and only ten and one-half miles from Portland. The engineers' estimates on cost of completion of the line to the foot of Columbia street in this city are $350,000. This includes two tunnels, one thirty feet and the other sixty feet long, through the bluff just above the White House. Contract price for the bridge over the Willamette was $150,000. Thus it will cost less than $500,000 to bring both roads into Portland, repair the bridges over the North and the South Santiam, and put the roadbed in good order.
 A gentleman well informed in the history of the roads and the feelings of the Scotch stockholders, said to an Oregonian reporter that he believed, if the O. R. & N. surrendered the lease, the Scotch company would complete the line to Portland, and that it could then be made to pay. They could put boats on the upper Willamette to act as feeders for the road at Dundee, which is the junction of the east and west side divisions, and thus avoid the 50 cents a ton lockage. However, the road cannot be finished to Portland within a year. When the line to Dundee was leased to Willard about two years ago the right of way deeds from Dundee to Portland were made to the Oregon and Transcontinental Company "to have and to hold, etc., forever," upon condition, however, that the railroad should be constructed from Dundee to Portland within three years of the date of the deed. Under this deed the Scotch company cannot commence work for a year.
 Oregonian, 16.

GRAINS OF GOLD.
 Politeness has no creed.—Mantelton.
 They that govern most make least noise.
 Delicacy in woman is strength.—Lichtenberg.
 Those who have known real grief seldom seem sad.
 A pardoned friend is more dangerous than an enemy.
 Silence is the sanctuary of prudence.—Balthasar Gracian.
 A handsome woman is a jewel; a good woman is a treasure.—Saadi.
 The certainty of punishment is of much greater value than its severity.
 Good temper is like a sunny day; it sheds its brightness everywhere.—Sir P. Sidney.
 People seldom improve when they have no other model than themselves to copy after.
 It is good discretion not to make too much of any man at first; because one cannot hold out that proportion.
 Perfect valor consists in doing without witnesses all we should be capable of doing before the world.—Roche Foucault.
 The strength and safety of a community consists of the virtue and intelligence of its youth, especially of its young men.—Hawes.
 "Improve your opportunities," said Bonaparte to a school of young men; "every hour lost now is a chance of future misfortune."
 Who is wise? He that learns from every one. Who is powerful? He that governs his passions. Who is rich? He that is content.—Miscellaneous.
 We are all inventors, each sailing out on a voyage of discovery, guided each by a private chart, of which there is no duplicate. The world is all gates, all opportunities strings of tension waiting to be struck.—Emerson.
 There are some great troubles that only time can heal, and perhaps some that can never be healed at all; but all can be helped by the great peace, work. When grief sits down, folds its hands, and mournfully feeds upon its own tears, weaving into funeral pall the dim shadows that a little exertion might sweep away, the strong spirit is shorn of its might, and sorrow becomes our master.
 From an English Point of View.
 First Londoner—"I 'ear they 'ave h'another 'election h'over h'in H'America this year."
 Second Londoner—"H'o, yes; ye know they 'ave 'ave h'over fourteen years."
 "Did you 'ear 'ow the 'election turned h'out?"
 "H'i't not come h'off yet, but I 'ears as 'ow the conservatives and the radicals 'ave set their 'earts h'on their man."
 "Do the noble lords come from county New York or county Castle Garden?"
 "H'i't don't know, but I 'ears there was h'a riot in Cincinnati, and so I fawncy they come from county California, or may be county Texas."
 "H'i's all very queer, h'isn't it?"
 "Yes, but don't yer know, the H'Americans are very wise in making their presidents prepare for their duties by 'ard study?"
 "Ye don't say so?"
 "Aye, they make 'em go through h'an h'elecrotal college."
 "A cigar," remarked old Topoel, "is like an advertisement; the less it costs the more puffing it wants."
Water! Water! Water!
 Write Your Congressmen.
 Again we urge you to write some member of congress, insisting on the reclaiming of all land grants forfeited by railroads and other corporations by non-compliance with the terms of the grant. There must not be even a "liberal construction" of the law in the favor of corporations, and any congressman or senator who so votes must be held to be a traitor to the people.
 This is not only justice but it is law. The greatest legal talent of the country has always acknowledged that the law regarding corporations should be applied with special strictness, since the corporations were the creatures of law, and existed and received benefits at the hands of the people, that what is known as a "liberal construction" of the law was not allowable in their interests in any case. Besides this, the grants of land are now known to have been obtained by bribery and corruption in every case, and there is no possible excuse remaining for not reclaiming where any company has not complied with, in every instance, the terms under which the grants were made, and congressmen should be made to feel that the eyes of the people are upon them, and that they will be marked men forever after if they fail the people now.
 The only way to make them feel this is to write them, telling them that they are expected to be both active and vigilant, and that any failure on their part to act, and to act promptly, will be regarded as an evidence that they are not true to the people.
 The Express will aid the work to the fullest possible extent. Our representative at the national capital will see that the cause of the people is made plain before every committee where evidence or pleas by others than members of the house or senate are allowed, and we will publish the name of every traitor to the people who dares betray them, while professing to represent them in congress.
 If our readers will do their part, as we believe they will, congressmen will very speedily cease to insult the people by saying that "they do not know what the people desire regarding the forfeiture of the land grants."
 Chicago Express.
