ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, MAY 31, 1884. LAND GRANTS IN CONGRESS.

A WASHINGTON dispatch of the 29th says: In anticipation of the adjournment of congress without final action on the proposed land grant forfeiture bills, the house committee on public lands has prepared a report which will be submitted on the first opportunity, in which they recommend the passage of a joint resolution, suspending the issue of certificates of lands within the limits of grants to railroads in all cases in which bills are pending before congress for forfeiture of such grants, until final action shall have been taken by congress.

The American end of the new Mackey-Bennett cable has been successfully landed at Rockport, in Massachusetts, to the accompaniment of booming cannon and ringing bells by the villagers of that little settlement.

The National Greenback convention at Indianapolis last Thursday nominated B. F. Butler of Massachusetts for president, and A. M. West of Mississippi for vice president.

A MAN in Wilmington, Del., has just been sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine of $6, one hour in the pillory, twenty lashes and three years in jail for stealing an umbrella. That town is evidently making a bold bid for more citizens.

WHEN candidates on the same side of the fence begin to distrust each other it is time for them to secure the largest lump of harmony they can find and pass it around.
