Life in the Army.

Our little army, the greater part of which is always "in the field" in the vast west, is called upon, besides much HUMORS bard marching and often hard fighting, to do much hard work or manual Itching and labor, and also much menial service. Burning Tortures, Humiliating Erupiating Erup
Burning Tortures, Humiliating Erup attended Take the following for an example habitually witnessed in the army. After a long day's reacher. musket on his shoulder, forty rounds of ammunition in his cartridge box, and a day's rations of hard tack and pork in his haversack, the soldier reaches camp and longs to rest his weary limbs after putting up, with his mates, the little tent and bringing up his share of wood for the camp-fire. This is done cheerfully. But there is no rest for him. The sergeant calls for details of half a dozen men each to put up the tents for the officers another detail to unload the officers wagons and another to bring up an ample supply of wood for each officer's tent fire, and also wood and water for the officer's cook. In the meantime the officer for whom the soldier performs these gratuitous services, and who bore no musket ammunition or ration through the broiling sun, and who materially reduced the fatigues of the march by alternately riding or walking, and thereby remaining comparatively fresh, sits on his stool or reclines on a soft buffalo robe, sipping his toddy in sight of the tired soldier, to whom with his weary limbs and stomach full of tepid creek or swamp water, a like refreshment would be a blessing. refuse to render these menial "duties," for which the service and the officers receive curses not loud scalled Heads with loss of hair without number, heads covered with andruft and scaly cruptions, especially of children and infants, many of which since buth had been infants, many of which since buth had been wheel, to be bucked and gagged or, in the mildest case, get an extra guard in the mildest case, get an extra guard and be subject to all sorts of unpleas-

Again, a soldier is called upon to do too much hard manual labor. He must be, or he is made to be, also a carpenter, machinist, wagon-maker, axman, etc. Hundreds of so-called "forts," consisting of officers' and soldiers' quarters, quartermaster and commissary storehouses, stables and guard houses have been built by soldiers, some of whom received a few cents "extra pay" daily, while the majority were detailed as "fatigue parties" without more than their scant soldier pay. Then there have been built thousands of miles of roads through the wilderness, and bridges as well, by our pioneer soldiery, who are often sadly overtaxed.

She Wanted Some Hash.

On one of the northern trains recently was an old lady, who evidently had never before made a railway journey. After looking about her for some time in curiosity her eyes ney. alighted on the bell line, and she asked the water boy, who happened to be passing at the time, what it was for. "That, marm," said the boy, with a twinkle in his eyes, "is to ring the bell when you want something to ent," and passed on. Shortly after the old lady got down the family umbrella, and, reaching up to the bell line, gave a vitalizes and Enriches the Blood, Tones vigorous pull. Of course the brakes were applied, the windows were thrown up, questions asked, etc., the old lady sitting calmly through the confusion. Presently the conductor came rushing into the car, exclaim-

"Who pulled that bell?"
"I did," replied the old lady meekly.
"Well, what do you want?" snapped the official, impatiently. "Well," said the old party, medita-

Habitual Constipation

Is a prolific source of misery and many ills, giving rise to Headache, Dulliness fevers, Nervousness, Restiessness, Biliousness, Indigestion. Poisoning of the Blood, etc. The bitter, nauscous Liver medicines, pills, saits and draughts formerly used to relieve the sufferer, only aggravate the disease and sicken the stomach. All who are afflicted in that way, know the importance of a remedy pleasant to the palate, harmless in its nature, and truly beneficial in its action. The trial bottles of Syrup of Figs given away free of charge by our enterprising druggists, W. E. Dement & Co., prove that it is all that can be desired. Large pottles at fifty cents or one dollar. MESSTS, SCARURY & JOHNSON.

191 WEST TENTH STREET, | NEW YORK, August 11, 1880.

Gentlemen; -Like most of my pro am cautious about pinning my faith to any new medicine or curative agent. But you BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and antiseptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson' was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neuraligia. Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with its arresult. I find BENSON'S ment with it personally. I find BENSON' CAPCINE PLASTER an exceptionally clean ly plaster to use, and rapid in its action-

Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients have convinc-ed me that there is no single article so valu-able for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named. Should you desire to do so, you may use mi name to that effect. Very truly yours,
