NEW YORK, August 11, 1880.

MESSTS, SEABURY & JOHNSON, Gentlemen:-Like most of my profession, am esutious about plnning my faith to any new medicine or curative agent. But you BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of you other plaster and antiseptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neural-gia. Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs. Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTER an exceptionally cleanly plaster to use, and rapid in its action.

Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients have convinc-ed me that there is no single article so valu-able for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named. Should you desire to do so, you may use my name to that effect.

Very truly yours H. H. KANE, A. M., M. D. The genuine have the word CAPCINE cu n the center. Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemiste, New York.

Since the announcement of the $400,000 bequest left by the late William Maxwell to Charles F. Bitchel, of Bridgeport, Conn., to improve and experiment with the flying machine, letters from all over the world have been pouring in, asking the professor for information about the bequest and his balloon. Some describe machines they have invented, and many ask for sums of money to perfect ideas of their own. Seven people have noti-fied him within ten days that they each contemplate leaving money to each contemplate leaving money to prosecute the experiments. These seven firmly believe that flying through the air will be accomplished successfully. One man writes that he has "the only flying machine on earth in his mind," and wants $500 right off to make drawing and the first machine. In a postscript he adds that he will send for another $500 if the first is not sufficient. Another man from St. Paul writes that other man from St. Paul writes that he has invented a flying machine on the "frog system." The machine is to give gigantic leaps of 5000 yards and come down easily on an inclined plane plan. Another proposes to reach the north pole by strapping some other man to a balloon holding some other man to a balloon holding enough gas only to lift part of his weight so that he could leap over an iceberg with perfect ease and go skipping along until the "pole" was caught. Another proposes to compress, say 50,000 feet of gas into a small metal cylinder of ten cubic feet capacity, and thus float away with the gas under his arm. Another, who signs himself as a seafaring man, signs himself as a seafaring man, writes that he has an invention that will "go against the wind," even against a hurricane. He is quite sure he can rise in the teeth of a western cyclone, run his machine with a similar velocity to that of the wind, and come down just where he started from. Altogether 1,765 letters have been received and sixteen new-born flying machine inventors have visited Bridgeport within the past ten days. Some of the professor's friends fear that perhaps the lawyers will get the fund, as already the heirs are begin-ning to question whether Wm. Max-well was in his right mind. Prof. Ritchel will begin on a machine to raise a man 200 feet without gas or steering attachment. The power to work the machine will be compress-ed air carried to the machine through

Youth His Only Crime.

"Sirrah!" exclaimed the solemn Fact to the Little Joke, "you are too fresh."

"Yes, I know," humbly replied the little Joke, "but that is the result of my education. In our family, you know, the only crime is to be stale, like a Fact. Freshness is greatly prized. I would be ever fresh."

"Away, slight thing," haughtily replied the solemn Fact. "You will outgrow it. I once was young myself, a thousand years ago."
And calmly adjusting his wig he rubbed some burnt cork on his face and sat down at the tamborine end while the timid little Joke lingered around on the sidewalk, wishing that he, too, were old enough to join the minstrels. Poor little Joke! He will loiter long in the bourgeois columns of many a patent inside, and take apartments by the year in many an almanac before that fond hope shall grow into bright fruition.—Bob Bur-
