

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SUNDAY, JUNE 8, 1884. AID FROM THE HUB.

It is with an overwhelming sense of obligation that we acknowledge the receipt, by last evening's mail, of a lengthy editorial article, in manuscript, from the facile pen of the editor of the Boston Courier, designating to sway public opinion regarding woman suffrage.

The great campaign is opened and political banners are swung to the breeze. Therefore it is highly important that both parties should have appropriate mottoes.

With Blaine the Republicans can afford to lose New York and still carry the country. He will lose no New England state that any other Republican could get.

The steamship Great Eastern has been chartered by an enterprising New Orleans man to be used as a hotel next fall at the New Orleans exhibition.

DISPATCHES from all parts of the Union say that Blaine's nomination aroused the utmost enthusiasm. The sights and scenes in Astoria last Friday night were as an echo of what every community in the Union felt and did.
