kansaw Traveler.

There is some talk, in army circles, of putting the United States army on roller skates. The idea is a good one. The intricate evolutions a man is capable of on roller skates are remarkable, and in not 'a few cases wonderfully and fearfully made. An army on roller skates would be more terrible than an army with banners. Imagine, if you can, the terror that such a sight would create in the breast of an enemy. He wouldn't know how to attack such a crowd.
