ASTORIA, OREGON:
TUESDAY, JULY 15, 1884

SALT the salmon for winter.
 The fish trap question leads politics in importance.
 BLAINE and Logan each have three relatives in the army.
 GOVERNOR CLEVELAND speaks several different languages.
 It is sometime since any one advocated a salmon hatchery.
 ENGLISH papers are reported to favor the election of Cleveland to the presidency.
 BUSINESS is reported improving all over the northwest. There is room for improvement.
 GENERAL BUTLER frequently does two things at once, and does both things well. He sits and thinks.
 THE Democratic platform, published in full this morning, seems to suit the party better than the men chosen to stand upon it.
 JAY EYE SEE trotted a mile at Chicago last Saturday, the first half of which was made in 1:33 1/4. It is thought that horse will lower the record to 2:08 this season.
 CHINA has till to-night to knuckle down and give in to France or have a war with that nation. The French admiral if instructed will at once bombard Shanghai and capture Foo Choo.
 THE independent Republicans announce their intention to support Cleveland. John Kelly says he has nothing to say at present. Ben Butler is silent, but his hand is in his hip pocket.
 THE Seattle Post-Intelligencer thinks that Astoria's tax rate must be low judging from the tax roll published in THE ASTORIAN. The law regarding exemption from indebtedness has something to do with it.
 FEW things more strikingly illustrate the difference on this northwest coast between now and one year ago than the diminished business now being done at the several land offices. The Olympia office seems the only one that is transacting much business.
 THAT was a big time the Makah Indians had at Neah bay about the Fourth. One of the big tyees named Jas Claplanhoo gave a feast and the pot-latch was well attended. It is estimated that 3,000 Indians gathered from all parts of Western Washington to have a hand in the fun. Some got both hands in.
 If the Mahdi has captured Khar-toum, and Gordon is a prisoner simply held for ransom, England had better send another camel load of gold into the Soudan and keep her soldiers home. It is a funny end to a Quixotic enterprise. The Mahdi, if his past successes did not compel him to go on, could settle down as a next door neighbor to England in Egypt and hobnob in comfort with King John of Abyssinia on the one side and King Stanley on the other. The Mahdi is the Ben Butler of Africa.
 CANDIDATE CLEVELAND is getting plenty of advice. THE ASTORIAN chips in with the suggestion that his excellency get married. If he can't find a suitable partner in Albany, let him come out this way. There are plenty good looking sensible girls in Oregon that wouldn't refuse the offer of the hand and heart of a presidential nominee. There is plenty of time. The election does not come off till November, and unless Mr. C. is a very slow wooer, he should be able to get his proposed bride to name the day by September, or October at farthest. Besides it would improve his chances for election. People don't take kindly to the idea of a bachelor in the White House.
 THE commissioners of the general land office has decided not to issue patents for lands to any railroad whose land grant is supposed to be forfeited by any of the bills now pending in congress. Eleven bills declaring forfeited lands granted to railroads passed the house at the last session, and now await action in the senate, and seven more are still on the house calendar for consideration at its next session. The only case in which patents will be issued for lands involved in these proposed forfeitures is where settlers prove priority right over the claim of the railroad companies.
 ONE of the most useful wedding gifts ever received by a fair bride was that recently presented to a Pennsylvania girl. It was a setter pup. Of course the animal could not be placed on exhibition with the silver-plated castors, pickle dishes, vases, clocks and articles of bric-a-brac, owing to the pup's proclivities for making mince meat of fragile articles, but the card of the donor appeared with a description of his present attached. His sagacity and foresight were much admired. In the distant future, when that small and peaceful pup shall have developed into a large and early dog, his services may be required in that household to keep objectionable suitors at a respectful distance from the charming daughter which may then grace the festive hearth.

TROUBLE is reported from Fresno, California. At a recent ratification meeting the joy was unconfined and resulted in the firing of three shots fired by the successful chairman at his defeated competitor. The fact that the election is still nearly four months off makes this sanguinary affair all the more strange. By November things will "bile" in Fresno.
