A Portland girl, who was married this spring, had the reputation of being a terrible firt. A tall man with a long beard and a waterproof went into the Occident yesterday, and while registering his name, he heard the telephone ring and someone stepped up to answer it in the German tongue. The tall man with the long heard and the waterproof isid down his pen and remarked to a canneryman who stood by, that that was the first German telephone that he had ever seen. The canneryman assured him that they were made that way, and added that he had one in Upper Astoria that a Chinaman could talk through. This appeared to break up the tall man, and he walked in an absent minded manner toward the bar.

THE PASTEST BOAT ON THE COLUMBIA.

To be Ready for Use December 1st, 1884. There is nothing succeeds like success Whether a man runs a bootblack stand a newspaper, a steamboat, or a quartz mill, if he runs it well and gives satisfaction, he is bound to win. Two years ago Capt. Scott put the little steamer Fleetscood on the river between Portland and Astoria, and immediately secured s liberal patronage from the traveling public on the lower Columbia, who appreciated fast time. He run his boat in the interest of U. B. Scott, primarily, but in such an accommodating way that every one felt that it was a convenience, every one felt that it was a convenience, and the success of the enterprise has been unparalleled. Last year the 0, R. & N. company put on the Wide West, and again this season, running the same days as the Flectwood, and giving Astorians the best river service of any community in the northwest. That company has been enterprising in all its dealings with this community, and Astoria appreciates it; but it is not forgotten that the Flectwood runs right along, summer and winter, seaside or no seaside, and whether it be January or July, gives a man a chance to January or July, gives a man a chance to go to Portland, transact his business and go to Portland, transact his business and return the next day.

And now Capt. Scott and his conferes design building a new boat, which they propose to outrun any craft on the Columbia and make the 110 miles between here and Portland in five hours. The plans show that she is built for speed. She will be 170 feet in length, 28 feet beam, and is calculated to draw only 3k feet. She will be a stern-wheeler her speed. She will be 170 feet in length, 25 feet beam, and is calculated to draw only 3½ feet. She will be a stern-wheeler; her wheel will be 24 feet in diameter (the Larline's is 19), and it is intended that the wheel shall make 30 revolutions a minute. The boilers will have 280 tubes, the intention being to make steam rapid ly. The engine will have two 22 inch cylinders, and an 8-foot stroke. The main hall will be 119 feet in length; there will be twenty finely fitted statercoms, and the building and appointments of the vessel are intended to be first-class in every respect. The contract was signed yesterday for the building of the entire vessel. Her hull will be built at East Portland; the Willamette Iron Works will build her machinery, and it is calculated that on December 1 she will make her first trip from Portland to Astoria. The estimated cost of the vessel is $35,000.

OUR OLD TIME PRIENDS

The Venerable Witticlams Without White the Funny Man Would Suffer.

cisms appear at regular seasons of the year with a punctuality only equalled by the visit of the bill collector or the return of the July salmon. We have been informed for years that the taste of the average young woman for theater tickets and oyster suppers is the cause of that financial rain that offtimes overtakes the young man in the morning of life. We have read of the deep-laid schemes of the young husband to escape from the dominion of his mother-in-law, and of the dire failure of his plans. This seemed funny for a few thousand times or so, but at last it began to seem as if we had heard that joke before, and upon reflec-tion all its effect was lost when sober second thought forced us to the convic-tion that the son-in-law is as often a nui-same to the roother. sance to the mother-in-law as the mother oftener.

Then there is that huge joke about Chicago girls having large feet, and that other one about the love of girls for pie. Why should they not love pie? Looked at from an economic point of view pie is very filling for the money. If pie is esten, however, as it is made in some localities the matter is by no means a joke, and the eating of that luxury is a very serious affair.

L. B. Sealey of Ohio has brought suit the Corgon Iron and Steel Company, and wants a legal investigation. Judge Deady has granted a revisional injunction restraining S. G. Sections and paints the town red. These with country for her health, while he remains at home and paints the town red. These withclies have seen long service, but yet hold their own well. For all that we know, the ice-cream joke came over with the Pilgrim Fathers, and its antiquity may be traced back as far as that sty has decided that the Dingley shiping bill is not retroactive, and that all hipping dues are collectable up to the content of June, 1884. That shipping bill is correct the content of the corrective, and that all hipping dues are collectable up to the content of June, 1884. That shipping bill is corrected as a conduction of the serious affair.

At present the two standard jokes are the country for her health, while he remains at home and paints the town red. These withclies have seen long service, but yet hold their own well. For all that we know, the ice-cream joke came over with the Pilgrim Fathers, and its antiquity may be traced back as far as that of the Masonic order, whose fondness for cream explains the butter myth in regard to their initiation.

For Parents to Read.

This is an age of many and cheap books and free libraries, and almost all topics are treated by specialists and within ordinary reach. But we cannot all have time and ability to master numerous subjects, hence demand for works of reference is now greater than ever. A busy man's cyclopsedia being what we need, is most nearly met in that of Johnson's.

For family and school, as useful aids to children in their studies and genera reading, we probably can never have any thing better.

Parents, teachers, and others, engaged with or interested in the education of youth, cannot escape responsibility in respect to the furnishing suitable matter and references, calculated to render genuine literature palatable, and to replace therewith the trashy elements that so largely engage the attention of young readers. young readers.

The third annual meeting of the Firemen's Association of Oregon and the accompanying state tournament will be held at Albany, commencing Wednesday, Angust 20, 1884. All active fire companies belonging to the volunteer departments of the state are earnestly invited to join the association and send delegate thereto, each company being entitled to two delegates, with the chief engineer of any department as a delegate at large, tion Provision is also made for the member ship of individual exempt firemen and companies as well. Active fire companies shall pay an initiation fee of $10, and $5 annually as dues. The annual state tournament will be held under the auspices of the Albany fire department subject to the approval of the association. This promises, as usual, to be a very interesting feature, as some very liberal prizes, will be competed for. The O. & C. R. R. have granted half-fare rates to all who may desire to ettend, and the O. R. & N. Co. s lines will make a and the O. R. & N. Co.'s lines will make a reduction of 80 per cent on the return fares of all provided with the necessary certificates from the secretary of the association.
