

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1884. A DISAPPOINTED COMMUNITY.

The failure of the Northern Pacific railroad company to realize the hopes entertained by Seattle is a sore topic with the people of that enterprising community. They had counted so surely on the great things that would follow in the wake of the expected railroad, they had relied so implicitly on the generalizations and half promises of Villard, that at the last visit of President Harris to them they could find nothing but reproaches to offer him.

Up to quite recently there was so much preening and pluming, such exulting and complacent exhibition of advantage on the part of our enterprising brethren to the north that a little wholesome chastening would seem to be a real benefit to inflated pride. Seattle's present discomfiture is, in every sense, a blessing in disguise.

CUNNINGHAM of Montreal left his family four years ago to look for work, and being an expert telegraph operator secured situations at various places. He finally got to San Francisco, where he remained for some time.

It may be interesting to learn that a person six feet in height, standing on the lips of M. Bartholdi's head of "Liberty," can only just reach the eyebrow; that people can jump with ease in and out of the tip of the nose, and that the eyes measure six feet from corner to corner.

THE State treasurer of New Hampshire requires those claiming bounties for killing woodchucks to certify that none of the animals were killed on Sunday, else the claim will not be allowed.

THE ladies ought to feel happy. Every party this year has nominated a candidate who is in favor of woman suffrage. A lady in the presidential chair is one of the possibilities of the future.

It is a wonder that the American hog has not been accused of causing the cholera in Europe. In olden times St. John was a Baptist, but now he is a Prohibitionist.

At Upper Astoria, August 4, by Rev. J. J. Holka, Mats Hendrickson and Miss Anna Kaitala. NEW TO-DAY. County Coroner. J. C. ROSS Has Opened a First-Class UNDERTAKING ESTABLISHMENT ON MAIN STREET, Above Pioneer Restaurant.

THE man who attempts to cure his feet of summer soreness by freezing them is apt to regret it. A Philadelphia poet named Leith tried the operation, and now the doctors vainly endeavoring to save his feet. The trouble with Mr. Leith was that he placed his feet upon two big chunks of ice, and they sunk right in. When he attempted to draw them out his feet were ice-bound. He felt as if he was one of the survivors of the Greely expedition, and he swelled accordingly. It is never safe for a man to tamper with his feet, particularly a poet.

WILLIAM DANIEL, of Baltimore, the Prohibition candidate for vice-president, is a man of diminutive stature and boyish appearance. It is told that when he was one of the most distinguished lawyers on the "East" he visited one of the half-grown boys of the family silled up to Mr. Daniel with the invitation: "Let's you and me go out and play sock-ball while the grown folks eat dinner."

If North Carolina newspapers are truthful, the churches of that state are the only genuinely fire-proof buildings known. It is declared that in recent large forest fires the flames parted to go round the churches. In one case it is said the fire not only burned up straw, wood, lumber, etc., around the church, but underneath it, without injuring the church.

A TRAVELING theatrical troupe played in a town in Texas the other day. Among the spectators were twenty-two Mexicans, armed with knives and pistols, nine Chinamen, twenty-seven Americans, and one full-blooded Modoc Indian. There was a bigger "show" in the house than on the stage.
