J. F. WARREN,

County Assessor. Bob Burdette's Ideal Old Man.

Man never attains his ideal. He comes nearest it the day he leaves school; and all that year he hovers around it in pleasant proximity Sometimes I think he quite attains it on commencement day. But a year away from school, he and his ideal part company. He sees it drifting farther away from his eager hands. I have, in my own brilliant and ag gressive career, pursued several fleet ing and more or less perfect ideals From where I now stand, at the distance pole, I can see the majority of them scooting under the wire, and I feel that I am shut out. One, I can see, is yet in nearer sight, and I am very loth to see it get entirely away from me.

tall man now. I do not really have to stand up to look over the back of a car seat. I stand up merely because I can see farther. But as I grow oid I want to fat up. I want to develop a capacious bay window, so that when my summer vest is hanging on the line it will look like a schooner coming down "wing and wing." ing down "wing and wing." Then I can wear my watch in my fob, with a great big seal dangling from it like a bell clapper. I want to be short in the breath and wheeze when I climb up stairs, and puff and pant when I walk up hill, and have to take two store to excee the cutter. steps to cross the gutter. And I would wear a clawhammer coat, with wide lapels, all the time, and carry my handkerchief in my hat. I would like my hair to turn snow white or else fall off, I am not very particular which. I would like my mustache to bleach out until it looked like a streak of flour across my lip. I be-lieve this is all. I think that is a photograph of the kind of an old man I would like to be. This is my ideal old man. Cane and wheezy laugh, of

And I am just as confident as I am that I will die rich; that, as I grow old, I will shrivel up and dry out until I look like a shoestring with clothes on .- Brooklyn Eagle.

Drowning Accident.

About seven o'clock Monday even ing, some children were playing on Gray's dock, close by where a board has been cut in the dock to allow offal to be dropped through. One of the little ones, a girl four years of age, a daughter of Mr. Hendrickson, who lives near the dock, was standing by this trap, and it, tilting in some way, the little girl fell through. Though there were half a dozen men standing or working close by no one heard or noticed anything unusual, and not for half an hour afterwards did it transpire that the poor little child had lost its life. Yesterday morning search was made for the body, but unsuccessfully. Should it be found by any one, Capt. Gray wishes to have it sent to him that it may be given burial.

"For ten years past," said the new boarder, "my habits have been regu-lar as clockwork. I rose on the stroke of 6; half an hour later I sat stroke of 6; half an hour later I sat down to breakfast; at 7 I was at work, dined at 12, ate supper at 6, and was in bed at 9:30, ate only hearty food, and hadn't a sick day in all that time." "Dear me," said the deacon in sympathetic tones, "and what were you in for?" And in the awful silence that followed you could hear the hash grate its teeth.

Massts. Srarery & Johnson,

Gentlemen:—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about pinning my faith to any new medicine or carative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and antiseptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy, in cases of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neuraligia. Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally. I find BENSON'S CAPCINE PLASTER an exceptionally cleanly plaster to use, and rapid in its action.
