

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1884. THE AWARD.

JUDGE DEADY awards sixty-four thousand dollars to the citizens of Astoria and vicinity whose skill and courage promptly rendered one year ago saved the Queen of the Pacific. None are forgotten who helped make the saving a success; all are remembered in praise and substantial benefit and apart from the money compensation comes a feeling of pride to those who took part that their efforts are adjudged to be of value. Judge Deady's decision is an equitable one and was only made after long and careful consideration of the case, a case involving more of value than any similar suit ever before brought in any court on this coast.

The river is our only salvation, says The Dalles Times-Maintainer, and with the removal of the impediments to navigation, a fleet of craft would soon cover the Columbia river and do the carrying trade at a much less rate than it is now done. But the query arises with some, since the completion of the through line of the Northern Pacific, if the people of the northwest will not look for an outlet to an eastern market rather than to one on our ocean seaboard. We think this question will be answered in the negative. Transportation by water is always cheaper, and we can more readily load a ship with wheat at Astoria or Portland for the Liverpool market than send grain to Chicago, and then take the circuitous route of the lakes to England or any part of Europe. However many railroads are built rivers never become idle, and as an example of the truth of this we might instance the Mississippi, whose commerce is increasing every year, notwithstanding the network of railways which course through the country along her banks.

An English judge has decided that a kiss is not a legal "consideration." A surgeon in Lambeth kissed a workman's wife; the husband valued the kiss at £5, and the surgeon gave him an I O U for that amount. A month after date an action was brought on this document, but the judge promptly ruled there was no consideration and gave a verdict for the defendant.

There is great alarm at El Hedjia, Arabia, over the revolt of the Arabs. The disturbances are spreading. Eight thousand Arabs have surrounded Yemen. The governor of Mecca was ordered to send troops to the town, but replied that he was unable, because of the disaffection of his own tribes. Eight thousand more troops will be sent from Constantinople.

YOKOHAMA, Callao, Alexandria and now Foo Chow, have all been bombarded within the last fifteen or twenty years without a formal declaration of war and without more than a few hours notice at the last moment. It is the way wars and acts of warfare come in these days of steam and telegraph.

St. Augustine, Fla., was next month to have celebrated the 319th anniversary of its foundation, but has postponed it till March 27, 1885, which date will also be the anniversary of the landing on the eastern coast of Ponce de Leon, in 1512, and the first settlement in the United States.

There were political speeches made in one hundred towns and cities in Indiana August 30th. It was the opening of the campaign. There is a bitter fight coming. It is Indiana's misfortune to be considered a doubtful state. In political times its inhabitants have to suffer.

According to a Milwaukee statistician, who is regarded as good authority, the wheat product of this country the present year amounts to the prodigious aggregate of 530,000,000 bushels, being 25,000,000 bushels more than ever produced in any previous year.

As it has been decided in court that pauper immigrants cannot be sent back after having been permitted to land, the New York commissioners are compelled to keep a close watch at the sea entrance to Castle Garden.

AMERICAN trade with China is small compared with England, but our own exports, which in 1883 were $4,080,000, are as large as those of France for the last year reported, although our imports, $24,200,200, were only about half as great.

CHAS. A. DANA, of the New York Sun, has a mushroom cave which yields enough for his own table, and a surplus for sale which pays interest on the investment. This accounts for the remarkable independence of the great editor.

THE Canadian Pacific road has laid its tracks to a point seven miles west of the summit of the Rocky Mountains, and hopes to reach the highest point of the Selkirk range this season.

Ben Butler's yearly earnings amount to $100,000, but the Louisville Courier-Journal thinks "these are nothing to his yearly yearnings."

The treasurer of the United States has forwarded to the governor of Louisiana free-school bonds of that state to the amount of $21,000, which were captured at Baton Rouge by Gen. Sheridan.

THERE were ten gallons of liquor drank in this country last year for every man, woman and child in it. It is believed some persons have been cheated out of their share.

MAINE gives the Republican state and congressional ticket 2,000 majority. All eyes are now turned to Ohio, which elects officers on October 14.

In his official report Capt. Merry of the Tallapoosa casts the blame for the collision upon the schooner which sunk his ship.

If Denis Kearney is really in earnest, he will join the French army in China at once and do his level best.

GEN. BUTLER wears a badge—a red rose on a very green leaf.
