The Line of Impropriety in Vienna.

They draw the line as to what constitutes public impropriety very fine-ly in Vienna. The public moralists of that town have been greatly shocked at the conduct of Frau Rose, the handsome spouse of Herr Schaffer, who keeps an outfitters' shop in the lower part of his house. The front windows command the street, while those in the rear look on a private those in the rear look on a private garden. The lady was summoned be-fore the authorities, charged with ap-pearing in a semi-clad condition at the back windows. Frau Schaffer is said to be the handsomest woman in Vienna. The defense was that the lady was simply making her toilet with lady was simply making her toilet with the window open. The judge summed up the case with great deliberation.
"If," said he, "if she had looked out of the front window, the scandal would have been open and public, and an offense against the law would have been committed. But as she only appeared at the back windows, the case was different." The fair defendant was dismissed with a warning, and recommended for the future to pull down the blinds before commencing her toilet.
