

The local election which is to come off in Ohio one week from next Tuesday, is regarded with special interest. Ohio has become a great state, second only in influence to New York, and at times seeming to have more political influence than the latter.

to day in the leading journals of that state. Already a disposition is noted on the part of Democratic journals to break the force of defeat by affirming that Ohio is not necessary to the success of the Democratic ticket.

The deposition of ex-Congressman John V. Lemoine, of Chicago, in the case of Blaine against the Indianapolis Sentinel, was taken last Thursday. He states that he witnessed the secret marriage between Blaine and Harriet Stanwood.

Gov. St. John, the prohibition presidential candidate, was fired at while riding in a train from Carlisle to Terre Haute, Indiana, last Thursday. It was a close call, but he was unhurt.

The first experiment in telephoning will cover a distance of 850 miles, and will be between Halifax, N. S., and Gloucester, Mass.

CLEVELAND was given an enthusiastic reception by the citizens of Buffalo, N. Y., last Thursday night. Blaine is magnetizing Ohio and West Virginia; Logan is going to do some talking in Indiana.

The prices of wheat are said to be the lowest known in Chicago for fourteen years, the lowest known in New York for thirty-three years, and the lowest ever known in London.

DELVA LOCKWOOD goes on record as the first presidential candidate who never used a razor.
