BLAINE IN OHIO.
 MASSILLON, Ohio, Oct. 8.—Mr. Blaine, accompanied by Hon. Wm. McKinley and a long line of private carriages drove over this morning from Canton to Massillon, eight miles. The scenery between the two places is very beautiful and the weather was very refreshing. The carriage drove a refreshing relief from railroad travel. Nearly all the houses and stores along the Main street by which Massillon was entered were beautifully decorated. The whole of the population seemed to be out to receive Mr. Blaine. A feature of the program was the procession composed of Republican citizens and manufacturing operatives. Along with those with Mr. Blaine on the stand, from which the procession was reviewed, were Senator Cullom of Illinois, ex-Secretary Windom, Wm. McKinley and Hon. W. A. Tenny of New York.

ANOTHER PROTECTION SPEECH.
 Shortly after 1 o'clock the rain ceased, and the clouds mustered again, and proceeded to the house of Mr. Steeze, where Mr. Blaine had taken lunch, whence they escorted him again through Main street to the fair grounds, where he was to speak. The numbers in the streets seemed to have increased since the morning demonstrations. Blaine was escorted to the stand, in the midst of a great tent intended to hold over ten thousand people. The tent was already packed full, and thousands more were gathered around it outside. When the demonstrations with which Blaine was received had subsided he made the following speech:
 Men of Ohio: In a procession of our political opponents at Youngstown, recently, there appeared a man and a woman, in rags and apparent wretchedness, bearing the inscription, "This is what protection has done for us." [Derisive laughter.] This was intended to imply that because the results of protection in Ohio, I want to present the other side of the picture in Ohio. To-day there are 21,000 manufacturing establishments. They cost $200,000,000, and they turn out annually products worth $350,000,000. As the results of that investment and that product I observe a great many people in Ohio who are not in rags and not in wretchedness. [Laughter and great cheering.]

MANUFACTURE IN THE WEST.
 Thirty-five or forty years ago the entire western country was called upon, as an agricultural community, to oppose the protective tariff, because it unjustly favored the manufacturers of the east. Since then the manufacturing industries of the country have traveled westward, until Ohio has become one of the largest manufacturing states of the Union [cheers], and combining within herself great agricultural interests. This presents all the elements of comfort and material progress. As steadily as the agricultural states become settled manufactures follow. Indiana and Illinois and Michigan are coming on rapidly after Ohio, and Iowa, Kansas and Minnesota will come along in due time, the result being that the protective policy now upheld by the Republican party operates so far as to carry manufactures into every state, and ultimately into every corner of the Union. It never was designed that one part of the country should be permanently agricultural and another part manufacturing, but it was designed that agriculture and manufactures should go hand in hand [cheers] and wherever they do go hand in hand we have thrift, progress and happiness [renewed cheering]. This industrial system which combines the highest elements of human prosperity, by unity of the agricultural and manufacturing interests, is worth preserving, you should not forget that our political opponents have never failed in the last fifty-one year, never since 1833, when they had power in congress either to repeal the protective tariff if one existed, or to try to repeal it, or to prevent the enactment of such a tariff. In other words, since 1833 the Democratic party in congress has never sustained by its vote the protective tariff. Not once. [A voice: "And it never will!"]

PROTECTION BENEFITS COMEBACK.
 We are met with the accusation that the protective tariff injures the commerce of the country. That is more frequently made in the east than in the west. I answer to it that since the protective tariff was enacted in 1861, the exports for the United States have been nearly greater in amount and value than all the exports from the first settlement of an English colony on this continent down to the inauguration of President Lincoln. [Great cheering.] I think that is worth repeating. ["Yes, yes."] If you take every export that was ever made from the territory which now constitutes the United States, from the time of the settlement of Jamestown and at Plymouth Rock, in 1607 and 1620, clear down to 1860, and add them together they fall, by several thousand million dollars, to be as great in amount as our exports from 1861 to this time. [Renewed cheering.] So that assertion that the protective tariff hinders the development of the commerce of the country is not only disproved by facts, but directly to the contrary, true, for agriculture and manufactures and commerce go hand in hand, and were designed to go hand in hand. They are triple cards, which, bound together, make up the strength of national prosperity.

OHIO TO DECIDE.
 I assume, therefore, that the people of Ohio are interested in maintaining the protective tariff, and if you are it is in your power to do it. ["We'll do it, we'll do it" and great cheering.] Ohio speaks her voice on Tuesday next. This district will have an opportunity to speak her voice, and say whether one of the most brilliant advocates of protection that ever served in congress shall be returned [cheers for McKinley], with an opportunity to vindicate by your votes the splendid experience which Ohio has had in developing her agricultural and manufacturing interests together. It is for you, men of Ohio, while the nation looks on, to record your opinion and judgment. I thank you for your cordial reception, and bid you good-by.

 When Mr. Blaine ceased speaking the great audience burst into a storm of cheering and shouting which lasted several minutes. Gen. Hawley, ex-Secretary Windom and Senator Cullom, of Illinois, also made speeches.

THE WAR IN CHINA.
 PARIS, Oct. 8.—An official dispatch from Ha Noi to-day, states that Col. Dennier, with two battalions of the foreign legion, two companies of infantry and 700 mounted artillery, had an engagement with the Chinese in the valley of the Luo Chu river, which lasted six hours. The Chinese made a stubborn resistance, but finally were completely routed. Four gunboats assisted the French forces. Four of the French, including a captain were killed and twenty wounded. The forces under Col. Dennier are continuing to advance.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 8.—The bombardment of Tientsin by the French fleet is still in progress. On the 6th inst. the fleet had destroyed the Chinese forts. The houses of Europeans in the city are riddled with shells, but the inhabitants have not suffered any fatal casualties. The Chinese are strongly intrenched.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Captain Fournier, who negotiated the Tien-Tsin treaty with China, scornfully repudiates the copies of the treaty distributed by the Chinese government with the important clause erased. He offers to fight whoever questions his good faith in the matter.
 TIENTSIN, Oct. 8.—China has sent 10,000 reinforcements from Kieirin, in the province of Manchouria, to Peking.

THE WAR IN AFRICA.
 CAIRO, Oct. 8.—Advices from Dongola state that the mudir is sending out spies to assist the Nile expedition. Sheikhs from Khartoum and the Shendi district, with 15,000 followers, have submitted to the mudir. Sheikh Keir advises that a depot be established at Debbeh, and undertake to procure camels and cattle therefor. Reports are current at Dongola that the mudir is quelling the rebellion at Lebeldair. The news of the mudir's victory at Korti has reached Khartoum, and greatly encouraged the garrison at that place.

CAIRO, Oct. 8.—The Candian contingent has landed with Ali, Greenfield, the English athlete, and with Mitchell if the latter is so inclined. He declares solemnly that he has stopped drinking for all time, and is determined to take care of himself. After completing his engagements in this country, he will then give some farewell performances and make a tour of England, Ireland, Scotland and Australia.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—In a wrestling match at Irving hall to-night, between A. Gossens, champion of Europe, and Augustine Schmitt, champion of Germany, under the Swiss rules, Schmitt pulled his antagonist's arm out of the socket, and was awarded a purse of $250.

That Old Torment.
 Although dyspepsia has its chief seat in the stomach, yet it affects the whole digestive apparatus. The liver, pancreas, and intestinal glands share in the general trouble. The whole machinery needs renovation. Brown's Iron Bitters is the article with which to do the happy work. Mr. W. H. Eckhart, Marion, O., writes, "I used Brown's Iron Bitters for indigestion with most excellent results."
 In one of the mountain counties of Kentucky a man has held the office of justice of the peace without legal authority for the last ten years. As usual, she decides for the plaintiff.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.
 For Throat Affections.—Dr. F. B. Phelps, Salsbury, Mo., says: "I have used Scott's Emulsion in glandular diseases, and Throat affections, with uniformly good results. It is the only preparation of Cod Liver Oil I use."
 The most thrilling thing of the campaign so far, says the Commercial Telegram, is the intense enthusiasm with which Senator Thurman continues to keep his mouth shut.

Excited Thousands.
 All over the land are going into ecstasy over Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their unlooked for recovery by the timely use of this great life-saving remedy, caused them to go nearly wild in its praise.
