

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1894

A GOOD THING.

It is complained that "we have too much politics;" that all this whooping and talking and explanation and charges and counter-charges has "a demoralizing effect on the people."

We Americans are a free people. As a matter of business, apart from any sentiment, it pays to be free; we can live better, have more, be happier, act more independent, and have a better time all round by being "our own boss," than by being ruled by prince or potentate.

A CLEVELAND, Ohio, dispatch of the 30th ult., says: At the recent election the prohibitionists of Ohio polled 10,000 votes. They expect to poll fully twice that number at the November election.

"He serves his party best who serves his country best." NEW TO-DAY.

Occidental Hall. Special Engagement of the Eminent Tragedian, GEO. C. MILN, SUSTAINED BY MISS ADELE PAYN, WILLIAM LLOYD, and a Company of Eminent Shakespearian Artists.

Unquestionably, men are more apt to exert themselves to appear great in the eyes of the world than they are to merit the honor, through that deep and silent work which alone can properly prepare the soil from which true greatness springs, and is kept alive and vigorous.

AN IMPREGNABLE STANDARD-BEARER.

There is a beautiful story of an old elephant engaged in battle on the plains of India. He was a standard-bearer, and carried on his huge back the royal ensign, the rallying point of the Poona host.
