And Every Species of Itching an object of attention in feminine eyes, and lady readers in the sealskin sacque is becoming an object of attention in feminine eyes, and lady readers. ested in the following, told by a Buf-falo dealer and which may be called a description of the rise and fall of the sealskin: "The season is just opening. It promises to be a very busy one. Sealskins will take the lead in fur goods just as they have done for years. Do you know, when sealskin sacques were first introduced they were looked upon with great disfavor? The first sealskin sacque ever made was, I believe, placed on exhibition in the store of A. T. Stew-art in New York city in 1862. It was made wery much like our present silk circulars. The richly dressed ladies who looked at the new garment made all sorts of comments on its appearance. One said that it was too heavy: another said that it was clumsy, and one lady declared it look-ed like faded calico; To day they are all running wild to possess a gar ment made out of that sort of faded calico." "Where do the majority of the sealskins used come from?"
"From Alaska. The hunters, many of whom are employed by companies, pack the skins in casks, about sixty to each one, putting in plenty of salt to keep them. They are sent to San Francicso, thence via New York to London, where they are cured and dyed. I understand from a magazine article I was reading a short time ago that during the first week in September there were 1,477 casks of sealskins received in New York. This makes in all about 88,220 skins, quite a number for one week. The London people possess a secret meth-od of dyeing that their American brethren have not yet, and probably never will learn, that is, if the English dealers can help it."

MESSTS, SEABURY & JOHNSON, Gentlemen; -Like most of my profession, am cautious about pinning my faith to any new medicine or curative agent. But you BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention wa first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine Although I was well ac quainted with the superior excellence of you other plaster and antisoptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson' was comparatively new to me. I had heard however, of its merits as a remedy, in case of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neural ria. Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs. Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experi ment with it personally. I find BENSON's CAPCINE PLASTER an exceptionally clean ly plaster to use, and rapid in its action-

Many tests of its qualities, made in my ov family and among my patients have convinced me that there is no single article so valu able for popular use, nor so helpful in th diseases I have named. Should you desire to do so, you may use m ame to that effect.

Very truly yours H. H. KANE, A. M., M. D. The genuine have the word CAPCINE cut in the center. Price 25 cents. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.
