GENERAL GRANT'S PROSPECTS.

A Gloomy Outlook for the Hero of Appomattox.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Nothing has been heard in this city to-day touching General Grant's financial affairs. General Sherman has not yet arrived and it is now said he will not be here until after the 1st of January. General Beale said to-night, "I am of the opinion that Vanderbilt will not care to take advantage of the law to such an extent as to force the sale of General Grant's personal effects. Aside from this, however, it has occurred to me that Vanderbilt may be acting for General Grant's benefit. Having preferred a claim to General Grant's property, he may execute the law and obtain possession and return it subsequently, simply to prevent some claimants who come after from securing General Grant's effects. So we had better wait and see if things are as we had a shape as reported. No doubt the effort for relief will prove successful. General Grant is national property and the nation takes pride in the honors he has received. If congress is unwilling to place him on the retired list of the army, let it make an appropriation to purchase the memorabilia he has placed there on exhibition at the Smithsonian institution."
The Star says: The prospects of the bill for the retirement of General Grant are not very good. The bill passed the senate on the 13th of May last and was placed on the speaker's table in the house, where it now remains, buried under 127 other bills, without a possible chance of re-consideration. It has not even been referred to the house military committee, the chairman of which, General Rosecrans, is supposed to favor it. The only way it could be reached would be by taking it up by unanimous consent, and this is rendered out of the question from the fact that there is a decided opposition to it.
Senator Sherman told a Republican reporter to-night that he had received a letter from his brother, General Sherman, in which the latter said he would be in Washington on Saturday next and incidentally conveyed the information that General Grant was in financial distress. The senator said he thought Vanderbilt had taken the course he had in the matter toward General Grant to save his property, which would be thought to be bought in by some friend or friend held for General Grant's benefit. He said he did not think Vanderbilt would have the heart to sacrifice General Grant's property, or that he would dare to do it in the face of public opinion. Senator Sherman expressed his sympathy with General Grant.

The Egyptian Problem.
BERLIN, December 29.—The North German Gazette, replying to a recent article in the London Daily News, on the decision of the powers to ignore the proposals of England relative to Egyptian finances, and attributing this decision to the attitude of Bismarck, says: European peace is more important than the settlement of the Egyptian question. Each power is obliged to consider whether the acceptance of the English proposals would jeopardize its relations with other powers. If England and France come to an agreement on the subject the agreement of the other powers can be easily obtained, they having less interests in Egypt to concern them in the event of the failure of the English proposals. It is to England's interests to induce Germany to accept them. Germany is too much interested in retaining the good will of France to snatch the Anglo-Egyptian chestnuts from the French fire, and attaches too great value to England's good will to wantonly disoblige her through ill feeling, but she will not interfere with the policy of peace with France observed since the war. The difficulty lies in the reluctance of each power to decide before the others accept or reject the proposals.
Something Quite Unexpected.
A very extraordinary case is that of Mr. T. O. Hall, one of the best known newspaper men in Louisville, Ky. For sixteen years he had been annoyed with tetter, and had given up all hope of its removal. He was also troubled with indigestion, for which he tried Brown's Iron Bitters. He writes, "The bitters did splendidly for indigestion, and the tetter commenced itching and developing to the surface and for four days was more annoying than ever before. Still I never thought the bitters was causing the trouble until Mrs. H. suggested it, and then I realized that my great torment had a master. I bathed the tetter externally, softening the surface thoroughly, when a watery substance poured out like July perspiration on a cornfield darkey, then in a very short time the itching sensation stopped. The sore caused by the expulsion of the tetter is not yet healed but I know that the cause of the unmitigated trouble is forever removed."

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hyphosphites.
Is very Palatable and Agrees with the Stomach.—DR. J. W. WARRICK, of Newark, Ohio, says: "I have used Scott's Emulsion in comparison with the plain oil and acid emulsions and find it to agree much better with the stomach, and give much better results in the diseases in which Cod Liver Oil is useful."

POLITICAL.
They are still celebrating Cleveland's election down in Texas. No removals without cause, no appointments without merit.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.
Senator Colquitt of Georgia says the south will be prohibition before another presidential election.
Three cities in Massachusetts will have Irish-American mayors next year—Boston, Fall River and Holyoke.

Nine bills were presented in the house Monday week involving the payment of confederate war claims. Jeff Davis thinks that Cleveland's election assures an era of good feeling like that secured by the election of Mr. Monroe.
A select few among Pennsylvania politicians seem to hope that Don Cameron may not be re-elected to the senate, but the hope is what Hoosiers call "powerful weak."

Under the new administration the solid south will encounter the most powerful solvent ever applied to it—the rapacity of its own spoils-seekers. Philadelphia Press.
Mayor Martin of Boston was elected one year ago as the candidate of the reformers by 27,494 votes. This year Hugh O'Brien has been elected to the same position as a straight Democrat by exactly the same number of votes.
