It is said that the chief points which distinguish a prime dairy cow, and are at the same time compatible with an aptitude for fattening, are a long and small head, a bright and placid eye, thin chops, small horns, neck thin towards the head, but thickening toward the shoulder; dew-lap small; the breast neither moder ately wide (as is remarked in cattle with a great tendency to fatten), nor yet narrow and projecting before the legs; the girth behind the shoulder deep, the ribs wide and gradually dis tending more and more toward the loins; there should be a good breadth

Hon. Judge W. P. Coons, Maysville, Ky., says: "I have suffered for years with itching piles, and have used many remedies. I have used Dr. William's Indian Pile Ointment and been cured while every other remedy has failed." For sale by all druggists and mailed on receipt of price, $1.00.
