CRIME IN NORTHWESTERN WASHINGTON.
SEATTLE, Feb. 4.—The steamer Keagan arrived to-day from her cruise through the island route. The officers relate particulars of a most revolting tragedy which occurred on Shaw's island, in San Juan county, last Monday. James Barker had gone from his home at Friday harbor for a hunt on Shaw's island, and when he did not return after a lapse of ten days, Sheriff John Kelley of San Juan county organized a party to search for the missing man. They arrived at the cabin of one Hugh Parks, an eccentric individual living opposite Friday harbor. They were refused an entrance to the house and even a drink of water.
The sheriff went to Friday harbor and swore out a warrant for Park's arrest, on the ground of insanity. The men then formed an ambush and watched the cabin. After some time Parks was seen to emerge, dragging the body of a dead man, which was afterward found to be that of the missing James Barker. Parks again secured himself in the cabin.
This occurred on Friday last, and for three days the cabin was closely watched, and not a sign of life within being manifested. Wilbur Wilson, one of the sheriff's men, volunteered to enter the cabin, but on finding the door unlocked was frightened and ran back to his comrades. He again approached the cabin, but as he stepped into the doorway the crazy man within shot him through the head.
The sheriff and his men waited no longer, but saturating a bale of hay with coal oil they rolled it to the cabin and fired, burning the cabin to the ground. A second shot was fired in the cabin, but it is not certain whether Parks shot himself or at the men. His charred body was afterwards found in the ruins of the cabin.
Desperate Fight Near Snakem.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—A special dispatch from Alexandria says: "Osman Digma's troops attacked a scouting force of British from the garrison at Snakem last night. Eight British were killed and several wounded." Another Alexandria dispatch says the attack by Osman Digma's followers upon the scouting party of British cavalry proves to have been a narrow escape from wholesale slaughter. The British, numbering eighty men, were circled by 5,000 Arabs, mostly well mounted. After severe fighting the British charged in a close column through the Arab lines, and succeeded in gaining shelter under the guns of Snakem. The inhabitants of Hamdan fled to the brush upon the approach of troops, leaving every thing behind them. The hussars and the Egyptians then burned the village and captured camels and cattle belonging to the inhabitants. When attacked on the return, the hussars and Egyptians were obliged to ride desperately eastward to the seacoast, and thence to Snakem. They were followed by hordes of rebels on camels. The rebel force is estimated at 50,000.

Mrs. Dudley's Antecedents.
LONDON, Feb. 4.—Further investigation of the antecedents of Mrs. Dudley who shot O'Donovan Rossa, shows that when she learned she had been deceived by a mock marriage to a person in Scotland, she became mad, but declined to prosecute her betrayer. Persons intimately acquainted with her, say her love for her children was so intense that for a long time after their deaths she daily visited their graves. A movement has been started in Nottingham to raise a national fund to defray the expenses necessary to Mrs. Dudley's defense. A circular is being distributed, urgently requesting the people of Great Britain to contribute to the fund to defend Mrs. Dudley, that heroic Englishwoman who resolved to rid civilization of its greatest enemy. Every Englishman, the appeal declares, should be ready to afford Mrs. Dudley every legal assistance.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The secretary of the navy has authorized Lieut. Geo. M. Stoney to make a further exploration of Alaskan waters. The plan of the expedition is, in brief, that Lieutenant Stoney shall proceed to the Mare island navy yard, and superintend the construction of a steam launch suitable for making the proposed explorations early in the spring. The expedition will start from San Francisco. The party will be conveyed to the vicinity of Putnam river, in a schooner, and further explorations will be commenced. It is expected the expedition will continue for at least a year. Lieutenant Stoney will leave Washington on Tuesday next for San Francisco to begin preparations for the expedition.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—It is stated in diplomatic circles that the Governments of Russia and America are parleying in regard to a treaty for the extradition of dynamites.

TORONTO, Ont., Feb. 4.—A subscription list for the defense of Mrs. Dudley, who attempted to "remove O'Donovan Rossa, has been opened here.

The Manager Dietz Opera House, Mr. A. W. Stilwell, Oakland, Cal., says: Having from personal experiment become familiar with the remarkable efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil for rheumatism, I cheerfully endorse it.

GERMANY IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC.
Germany keeps on annexing territory in the western and southwestern Pacific with no more concern than as though she were on one of her annual parades. She is not only taking possession of sundry islands lying loose about, unclaimed before by any European power, but she has had the enterprise to raise her flag on the northern coast of New Guinea. So forward has become Germany in that quarter, that the premier of Victoria two months ago invited the Government of New South Wales to join in a protest to the home government against the German designs upon any part of New Guinea. To this invitation the latter declined to respond favorably on these grounds: First, it is not known whether the recent action of Germany is the result of an arrangement with the British imperial government; second, if such arrangement exists, the terms of it are unknown; third, the possibility of extending the British protectorate over New Guinea so as to include the shores of the island from East Cape to the German line of occupation; and fourth, as to whether, as a counterpoise to the German occupation, England may not have determined to occupy all the islands which command, from a strategic point of view, the whole of that portion of the Pacific. For these reasons the government of New South Wales declines to take any steps "in questions of such gravity and complexity, seriously involving, as they do, the relations of the colonies with England, and her relations with the European nations." Upon the receipt of satisfactory information from the home government, the government of New South Wales will be prepared to co-operate cordially with the other colonies as to what may be considered necessary.
Meantime the agitation at Melbourne and throughout the British possessions of that portion of the Pacific increases. A memorandum drawn up by the premier of Australia, Sir James Service, and addressed to the governor of Victoria, summarizes the condition of affairs in this language: "Australia is not allowed to act herself, and the Imperial government will not act on her behalf. Meantime Australia has to stand by and see territories, the possession of which she regards as essential to her safety and well-being, pass to another power." Mr. Service says, in this connection, that cherishing as he does the connection between the colonies and the empire, he cannot sufficiently express his disappointment at the want of response to the aspirations of the colonies displayed by the Imperial government. And the murmurs against the inactivity of the home government are deep and continued. It is held that inaction openly invites foreign powers to come and take possession of lands in which none are so interested as the communities of Australia. All the while Germany is busy at work annexing, raising her flag on new territory and colonizing.

On Wednesday, Matthew Wikman, age thirty-two years, shot himself and died five hours afterward. He was sailing up the slough near Marshfield, Or., with a double barreled shotgun, which, in shifting the boom, was discharged.
There were 143 business failures in Washington territory in 1884; liabilities, $841,200. Washington led all the territories in this respect, the nearest approach being by Dakota, with 117 failures, and liabilities of $729,642.
The mills of the California Redwood company on the island, Humboldt county, have cut during the past year 26,000,000 feet of lumber and have shipped 25,000,000. In addition to this about 10,000,000 shingles were cut.
Twenty-one vessels are loading with lumber at Port Blakely and 14 at Port Townsend. The Blakely mill has received orders from Australia for 15,000,000 feet, and Tacoma for 10,000,000 feet.
A sheepherder known as "Stemwinder" Smith, who was herding sheep at Agency Plains, Crook county, Or., was frozen to death recently. Of his band of 2300 sheep only two were found alive.

"As Weak as an Old Bag."
When a lady says she feels that way it means debility, languor, and impoverished blood. If she allows herself to continue in this way she runs into a state of permanent ill-health. If she knows what is best for her she will take Brown's Iron Bitters, which will speedily build up her constitution, enrich her blood, and give her strength and health. Mrs. Lucinda Walker, South Norridgewock, Maine, was sick with nervous prostration and could hardly walk. Half a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters made me feel like a new person.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hyposphophites.
Erected for Delicate Waiting Children.—Dr. CHARLES C. GARRETT, Calvert, Texas, says: "I have used your Emulsion for over a year, and have derived much benefit from it in the marasmus of children being tolerated by the stomach when all other medicaments were rejected."
