 Captain White of the lighthouse department, is over in Chelchis looking up a suitable site for new lighthouses on the Chelchis coast.
 The British wooden ship Sovereign cleared for Copenhagen yesterday with 65,938 lbs. wheat, worth $46,193.57. The Emblem clears to-day.

The first smelt caught in the Columbia river this season were yanked from their native haire yesterday. They were fine. Next after smelt come salmon.
 The vote at Salem yesterday was as follows: Jno. Barnett, 32; Hirsch, 28; Williams, 6; George, 2; Keedy, 3; Carson, 1; Failing, 5; Waldo, 1; Hare, 5; absent 1.
 The council charter bill was reported favorably from the committee on corporations in the state senate yesterday afternoon; it is thought that it will come up for a vote to-morrow.

The treasury department has created Oregon, Washington territory and Alaska into the Fifth district and appointed in charge thereof J. C. Horr as special agent with residence at Port Townsend.
 Representative Leinenweber of this county was on last Saturday honored by the receipt of 31 votes from his colleagues in the state capital for the high office of United States Senator, lacking but 15 votes of being elected.
 T. F. McElroy, an Olympia pioneer, died suddenly in that city last Thursday. He was editor of the Oregon City Spectator in 1850, and afterwards published the Columbian at Olympia, the first newspaper north of the Columbia river.

It's about time the British bark Alahabad from Hong Kong was showing up. She was due here two weeks ago. She has 7,000 sacks rice, 180 boxes oil, 745 pigs mads, and the consignment are anxiously awaiting news of her arrival.
 Mrs. Hattie Demmon has been confirmed as register of the land office at Vancouver. Mrs. Demmon's appointment is the first one of the kind in the territory, and is fitting congressional recognition of woman's rights in Washington.

Senator Reed's bill to redistrict the state into senatorial and representative districts, and provide for more just representation in the matter of senators and representatives, has been indefinitely postponed. Reed worked hard for the bill and did all he could, but it was no go.
 Capt. Flavel and Col. Taylor, two of our oldest residents, are building new private residences that will be ornamental to the city. These when Astoria had not what might be called a fine building, but of late years several have been erected which would compare favorably with any in the city.

The chamber of commerce met last evening and discussed the city charter that the city council prepared and sent to Salem, a copy of which was furnished the chamber by the city attorney. The chamber then appointed a committee to meet a committee from the council to confer relative to the charter.
 It was reported last evening that the steward of the Wm. D. Seed had sued that vessel in justice Goodell's court for $25, alleged to be due him, and that constable Besney, having forcibly procured a chronometer from that vessel, that his bondsmen, Messrs. Kant and Turf had been sued for such forcible procurement, the case to come up in the circuit court next Thursday.

Capt. Pittendrig, inspector for fisheries for British Columbia, reports to the New Westminster Columbia that the total catch of fish in the province last year was $6,243,257, in which $4,485,000 was by Indians for their own consumption. Salmon was the fish principally taken, after which seals come next. The yield for 1884, including the amount estimated for Indian consumption, shows a decrease of $26,378.32 from the previous year.
 A reward of $250, $500 of which was subscribed by Washington county and the remainder by citizens, is offered for the arrest of "Tang" Smith, who murdered William Johnson at Glencoe not long since. Dr. Linklater, Johnson's physician, was attacked with blood poisoning while dressing the wound, but saved his arm by a timely application of nitrate of silver. George Campbell, of Hillsboro, also has a sore finger from dressing Johnson's wound.

The state agricultural college association have filed articles of incorporation in the office of the Secretary of state. Judge John Burnett, J. R. Bryson, M. S. Woodcock, E. A. Horning, M.

Jacobs, D. Carline, T. J. Buford, Anderson Avery and J. B. Lee are the incorporators. The capital stock of the concern is $30,000, divided into shares of $100 each. The object of the corporation is to construct a building near Corvallis to be used as an agricultural college, to be run under the auspices of the state.
 Portland has had two lobbies in the legislature for the last three weeks, one representing the board of trade of that city, and trying to get a charter passed that that body endorses; the other representing the Portland city council, and working like all get out to get a charter through that the city council endorses. The Portland papers think that it is an even bet that neither charter gets through, and that Portland will have to wag along as best she can under its present charter. That would, indeed, be sad.

The people of Washington evidently understand that an inauguration only occurs once in four years. A glance at the advertising columns of the daily newspapers indicates that almost everybody who has a room or window on the line of march from the capitol to the White house is willing to rent it. Out of a score of advertisements the lowest price for single windows is $10, or two for $15. The highest price asked is $50 per window. The average is from $20 to $30. One person near Ninth street offers to rent forty seats at $5 each. The most extravagant rentals are at the intersection of Fifteenth street and the avenue. Thirty dollars is the very lowest asked for a fourth-story window, the prices increasing from that to $50 according to location.

TO BE HANGED NEXT FRIDAY.

J. W. Murray, the condemned Portland murderer, chatted freely with a News reporter through the wicket last Sunday, and pointing to the death watch said: "They have me cooped up pretty tight at last. A barber shaved me to-day, but I did not let him finish it because he hurt me so with his dull razor. They were afraid to let me shave myself, you know why; but pshaw, I wouldn't do anything like that. My wife sent me word through a friend of hers, that she was sorry for the trouble she was giving me, and that it was all the fault of listening to outside talk. She says she bitterly regrets the past and wishes she could undo it. She comes to her senses at a late day, doesn't she? You know what trouble a woman can make for a man when he's married to her. She can make his home a hell or a paradise. I never had a day's luck since I married her. Well, I married her because she took care of me when I was sick, and I thought an awful lot of her. She was very young and I gave her too much her own way. I let her buy everything she wanted. I went round in old clothes. Stories came to me and I imagined that everybody knew me as a disgraced man. I thought people pointed and me out on the streets. When I looked at my little child it made me crazy. I can see that these ideas were foolish now, but I let them alone. But I tell you it works a man up who is a man to have stories dinged-down into his ears week after week. I made up my mind to clear up my debts and leave this place, and was going to do so as I had done so that morning I intended to go hunting down the river. If I had only drank three or four drinks more I would have gone to sleep and forgotten all about it. But I didn't, and here I am in this awful position!"

Violation of Law.

The Lucayas slipped seaward bound for a foreign shore last Sunday without depositing in the Astoria custom house a copy of her manifest, thus violating the statutes of the United States for such cases made and provided. In so doing the captain has laid himself liable to a fine of $100. This is the second time the lawful Briton has ignored Columbia's laws in this port. On February 7, 1882, Captain Dick in the Serapiptan, when laden for Cork, went without depositing in the Astoria custom house any evidence that there was any such place as Astoria, or that there was any such custom district as the Oregon district. Shall such contumely be borne? Perish the thought! The next breeze that sweeps from the east may bring to our ears the clash of resounding arms. Columbia cannot sit idly by and see her maritime laws trampled under foot. It isn't the hundredth part of the principle of the thing. (That's what a man said yesterday when asked why he didn't pay his city taxes.) Let no bold Englishman think that his nation can get for the third time insult with impunity these thirty-eight states, territories and one district. We'll have a revenue cutter and fitter out here and demand the manifests at the mouth of the cannon. Let the English lion beware!

Fastest Stern-wheeler Afloat.

Capt. U. B. Scott's new steamer, the Telephone, took a trial trip yesterday—the final trial trip, but simply to test the boilers and machinery for the builders, the Willamette Iron Works. She made the trip from here to Vancouver, eighteen miles, in 29 minutes—the fastest time it is believed, on record—and she was working half stroke, turning her wheel twenty-three revolutions per minute. With full power she can make twenty-eight revolutions per minute. She had about a three and one-half mile current with her in the Willamette and about a two mile current against her in the Columbia. The return trip was made in one hour and six minutes. Her hydraulic steering apparatus worked perfectly, and she turned around in front of the city in what seemed from the shore to be little more than her own length. Mr. John Gates thinks she is the fastest stern-wheeler boat ever built. It is expected that she will be able to steam nineteen miles an hour in dead water.—Sunday Oregonian.

Mrs. M. Klipstein, wife of E. W. Klipstein, so lately prostrated by a severe attack of illness, has so far recovered that unless a relapse should take place, she will be enabled to receive to-day and on next Saturday, her many friends and acquaintances whose generosity offered her aid and assistance to relieve her in her great sufferings and agonies, when her services by medical orders of her attending physician had to be unavoidably declined at those critical periods.

Valentines. Comic Valentines, Sentimental Valentines, Novelty Valentines, Fringed Valentines, Lace Valentines, Plush Valentines, Satchel Valentines, at Carl Adler's Crystal Palace.

Headquarters for Valentines At Carl Adler's, Comic, sentimental; fine; call and take a look at them.

THE SENATORIAL SITUATION.

This is the way it looked at Salem on Sunday to a correspondent of the News: It was generally expected that when Hirsch passed the line and had Republican votes enough to amount to a caucus nomination, there would be a break for him, and that some of his strong supporters would move up to him in a way to put him through by express; but this was not done, and unless it is done on Monday or Tuesday it will set back the leading Republican in the race. Some of them have not kept faith with him, though they yet have time enough left to do so. What there is of the failing strength will blossom like the rose this week, and the failing manager, who do as well as they can here in Salem with no Casino to help along. The faithful four—Bourne, Kiddle, Lee and Therakson—will not vote by themselves many days longer if the plan works, and it is hinted that the speaker, who has been dodging around among the candidates who are harmlessly mentioned each day, is not inclined to think any less of a man because he is a rich banker. What will be done in Portland over Sunday I cannot guess, though I suspect that Hirsch will be slyly pushed aside for Failing in some secret meetings. It is a strange, selfish world, and when you meet a man you can never be sure as to whether he is telling the truth or lying on occasions like this. There are frank glances and suspicious glances, and everybody goes along full of some secret thought. It remains me of the poems by Bayard Taylor, who describes the English soldiers on the evening before the battle of Balaclava, as they sat around their camp fires and each thought of some dear English girl, while "sing" the "Lionel Lincoln" here at Salem all are thinking of some possible candidate to suddenly jump over to while such votes for Kelsey, or Hare or Applegate, or some other impossibility.

George H. W. Wixson has come to the conclusion that he has small chance of being elected, and Hill is by no means so confident as he was. He thought he could come up like a roaring steer from eastern Oregon, and fill the bill for all who would vote without going to Portland for him. Fall of this idea he loaned his votes to Hare one day, to make the Hare men feel good; but after running with the Hares he found it not so easy to get back the bounds as he had hoped and expected. On the whole, the Hill candidacy is a queer one. To-day it looks formidable, and every one is talking about the genuine ability of Lair Hill to-morrow you will hear some scold wonder how Republicans can think for a moment of elevating a man who tried, for money, to tear the party down a few years ago. As for Hare, and Kelsey, and those whom they represent the anti-monopoly, no money, granger, people's candidate, phase of the situation. They are anti-Hirsch, anti-Failing, still more, and anti everything that smacks of individual wealth or corporate power. It is a fact, however, that all by itself, these anti-monopoly and anti-power will certainly turn at any moment to a man of the people like Mitchell, and, equal; they may do so yet in spite of every effort. There is no organization; there are no managers; there is none of the running about and whispering that goes along with the "managed" candidates. Perhaps the others are too much managed. Even those who pretend to have no one on the ground are very much favored by men on the ground who have not two bits of their own to keep them in Salem. It is at the same time a mystery and an open book.

Of late there has been some pretty broad gossip concerning money. It is said that there is a fund of $40,000 ready to pay for Republican votes to elect a Democratic senator, and perhaps the only reason why some of the Hare men are gouted at the way the joint convention is fooling along, are not inclined to "flop over," is the fact that they would surely be suspected of getting some of the rumored $40,000. Minority men always go honorably to the best man of the majority candidate, but when majority men deliberately go over to help elect a minority candidate, then they might as well take bribes, if there are any going, for they will always bear the name of having done so.
 The Democrats left home with no idea of electing one of their own party to the senate, and with a pretty well defined idea in each man's mind as to the possible Republican candidates, their Democratic constituents would prefer that they should vote for. This well-understood choice was, in no instance, it is fair to say, either of the candidates now before the legislature.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Ringworm, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by W. E. Dement & Co.

Success.

The sale of Syrup of Figs is simply immense. Everyone is taking it, and all admit that it is the best medicine of its kind. Children cry for it on account of its pleasant taste, and grown people who have used it once never take anything else. Unlike other remedies for biliousness, it never loses its power to act, and it always leaves the organs on which it acts stronger than before. Besides, one feels fresh and bright and realizes that it is Nature's own true laxative. W. E. Dement & Co. are agents for Astoria, Oregon.

A Boarding House To Let. Furnished complete, near the O. R. & N. Company's dock. Terms reasonable. Inquire at Poarl & Stokes.

The Telephone. Jeff's new saloon, the "Telephone," is now open. It is new all through; the building is new, the furniture and fittings are new and of elegant finish and the proprietor has put in some new ideas that will commend themselves to the patrons of the Telephone. Everything about the place is first class, the wines and liquors of the best, and Jeff will exert himself to make it pleasant for anyone who calls. He has put up and finely furnished a first class establishment and no cozier place can be found in the city in which to meet a friend or join in a social glass.

For a Neat Fitting Boot Je Shoe, go to P. J. Goodmans, on Chenamus street, next door to I. W. Case. All goods of the best make and guaranteed quality. A full stock; new goods constantly arriving. Custom work.

Notice. The complete fittings and furniture belonging to the establishment of Roscoe Dixon will be sold at private sale in whole or in part. Any person wishing to purchase will obtain full particulars by application to S. HARRIS, Assignee. Astoria, Oregon, Feb. 6th, 1885.

One of the finest billiard tables on the coast at Jeff's "Telephone."

POSTAL NOTES.

Some Interesting and Valuable Information for the General Public.

Books, pamphlets and music can be sent at third-class rates. A letter-press copy-book, with copies of letters written therein, is first-class matter. Clothing is classed as merchandise, and can be mailed only at the rate of one cent an ounce. Insurance policies, whether canceled or not, are first-class matter, if they contain any writing. Wedding cake can only be mailed when packed in a tin or wooden box. Confectioneries the same. Send no cash money by mail. It is much safer and cheaper in the long run to buy a money order or postal note. Matter inclosed in a sealed envelope, though the corners may be cut or the ends notched, is subject to letter rates. Liquids, poisons, explosives and inflammable articles are not received for mailing, no matter how carefully wrapped.

Albums, photographic and autographic, are classed as merchandise, and postage is charged at the rate of one cent an ounce. Animals, reptiles, live or dead (not stuffed insects, except queen bees, when safely secured) are excluded from the mails. If you wanted to send a suit of clothes by mail which weighed six pounds, you would have to make two packages of it. Samples of ores, metals, minerals, seeds, cuttings, bones, nuts, etc., are also classed as merchandise, and postage charged at one cent an ounce. Letter-heads, bill-heads and envelopes, blank or printed, are charged as merchandise, and postage must be paid at the rate of one cent an ounce. Nothing is received for mailing that weighs over four pounds, except in case of a single book, as, for example, a bible or dictionary or history.

A postal card is not available with any writing or printing on the address side except the address, nor with anything pasted or pinned to the other side. Every business man should use return request envelopes in all his correspondence. If every body used them, the dead letter office would soon wind up its business. The dead letter office is a monument to the carelessness and stupidity of the American people. The average number of letters received there daily is about 15,000.

Don't forget that all parcels deposited for mailing must be so wrapped that they can be examined without destroying the wrapper; otherwise letter rates of postage are charged. Third and fourth-class matter can be mailed in the same package, providing it has not exceeded the weight limit, but it subjects the entire package to fourth-class rates. Ribbon, pocket handkerchiefs, gloves, neckties, laces, embroideries, dress patterns, corsets, samples of cut and silk and bonnet are classed as first-class, and postage is charged at one cent an ounce.

In making a present of a book, it is permissible to write an inscription or dedication upon the cover or one of the blank leaves, but it must not contain anything that partakes of personal correspondence. Written visiting cards are regarded as first-class matter, and subject to letter rates. If printed, they can be sent at the rate of one cent for each two ounces; that is, if the card is of an embellished design.

Third-class matter embraces such articles as books, pamphlets, circulars, engravings, lithographs, newspapers, magazines, and all matter of the same general character, and postage is charged at the rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. A tax bill, a receipt, an abstract of title, a power of attorney, a promissory note, a mortgage, a draft or check, canceled checks, coupons, an invoice bill, a bank note, or any document with writing upon it, is subject to letter rates.

In sending one, two, three or four articles of the fourth class, or, in fact, any number of articles up to four pounds, you can indicate on such package the number of articles included. You can also write upon or attach to any such articles, by tag or label, a mark or number, name or letter, for purpose of identification. Photographers' photographic or stereoscopic views, reproduction by solar process, envelopes (printed or plain), letter heads, bill heads, blank cards, business cards, visiting or playing cards, tags, labels, paper sacks, or wrapping paper, card board, and ornamental paper are all classed as merchandise, and postage is charged at one cent an ounce.

How He Delivered the Mail A New York letter-carrier, arrested for his misdeed, was found to have got rid of his letters by dumping a good many of them in a heap behind an old chimney. Imagine the confusion among the people on his route! Such confusion arises in the human system when the liver fails to make a proper distribution of bile. Everything becomes clogged, and there is a general breaking down. Brown's Iron Bitters arrests the mischief, and puts the liver in good working order. Your druggist has it.

AFLOAT. In the steamer, oh, my darling! When the foghorn screams and blow, Beware! Breaks up colds, Chills and Fever, etc. Strengthens the organs on which it acts. Better than bitter, nauseous Liver medicines, pills, salts and draughts. Sample bottles free, and large bottles for sale by W. E. Dement & Co., Astoria.

Open Again. J. G. Chartres' Palace Baths. First class fittings. Only 25 cents. Private bathing apartments for ladies.
