JOHN WOOD'S SIXTY DOLLARS.

It Awaits His Endorsement in San Francisco.

Washington, D. C., Fri. 9, 1885.

I have seen an article under the enption "John Wood's Sixty-one Dollars-How the Money was earned by the South Bend," etc., in your issue of January 3, 1885. And as it would seem that the writer had been misinformed upon several important points in the matter referred to, I desire to furnish a brief statement of the facts in the case so far as I city. The bill of the tug South Bend, together with one in favor of the tug Gen. Garfield was prepared by me and transmitted without being receipted to the tressury department, Washington, D. C., with a letter dated San Francisco, California, November 22, 1881, recommending their payment. At that time I was acting as superintendent of the Twelfth life saving district. The bill of the South Bead being in the sum of $60, instead of $61 as stated. These bills were received at the treasury department December 1, 1881, and in due course of busi-ness were approved as submitted and re-ferred by the secretary of the treasury December 7, 1881, to the first auditor of the treasury for examination and settlement. Accounts were stated in both cases by the first auditor December 8, 1881, and lost. referred by him to the commissioner of referred by him to the commissioner of customs, where both accounts were veri-fied and approved December 10, 1881. On December 21, 1881, a warrant was issued covering the amount of both bills, and drafts on the assistant treasurer of the United States at San Francisco, Cal. in parties, as this could be done only by mailing them from San Francisco to Shoalwater bay and awaiting their return. It will be seen, however, that due diligence was used at the treasury department and that the checks were mailed "in less than six weeks" from the date of my letter in San Francisco. my letter in San Francisco.

If Mr. Wood placed any bill with Mr.

1. W. Case of your city for collection, as stated in the communication referred to, nothing is known of it here, for no such claim has been received from him at the treasury department. The statements which follow this one in regard to the delay attending the adjustment of these claims at Washington and the requirements which were made of Mr. Case are absolutely without any foundation in fact.

The check drawn in favor of the Gen Garfield was presented at the office of the assistant treasurer at San Francisco, California, and paid April 25, 1882.

No delay need have attended the pay ment, by the assistant treasurer, of the check of the South Bend, other than would have occurred had the check been would have occurred had the check been drawn against any banking house. The prompt payment of the check in favor of the tag Gen. Garfield shows that the methods of identification required by the assistant treasurer at San Francisco, worked no hardship in that case, and it is presumed that nothing more was demanded in the case of the South Bend, and these requirements are such as any bank would have exacted upon the presentation of the check.

on the presentation of the check.

The statement that Mr. Wood tore the check up appears to be verified, the pieces having been preserved and sent by the assistant treasurer at San Francisco, to the treasurer of the United States here. This treasurer returned the check here. The treasurer returned the check restored to the assistant treasure at San Francisco, in whose possession it now is, with instructions to pay it upon a prope money was due.

I would say as regards the life saving rvice that its connection with the bill ased when it was referred by the secreervice that its cor ceased when it was referred by the secretary of the treasury to the first auditor, which was on the 7th of December, as above stated, being 15 days after it was mailed from San Francisco, and that if there had been unnecessary delay after this date, the life saving service could not be held responsible.

It is therefore with a feeling that you will gladiy print the facts in the case in order that any wrong impression which your former article may have produced may be promptly met and overcome, that I venture to request the publication of this statement.

PHILADELPHIA FIRE.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 19 .- A destructive fire is now burning fiercely on Chestnut street between Second and Front. It originated in a five-story brick structure. No. 125 Chestnut street, occupied by Stephenson & Co., Getz & Stratton, Rich ard A. Blythe, and Garsede & Co., dealers in cotton and wool. After the fire was discovered and the flames burst from the windows, the front of the three upper stories fell out and crashed into the street. The loud noise thus made caused a rumor that an explosion had occurred but it is not yet known whether or not there were any explosives in the building When the wall fell, a laborer engaged in removing a safe from an adjoining building was buried by the falling bricks and instantly killed. The flames spread rapidly to buildings on the east and Nos. 123 and 121 Chestnut street were soon enveloped in flames. The former building was occupied by Irvine C. Beatty & Co., dealers in worsted warm and the latter. The senate reassembled at 2:20, and by Geo. H. McFadden & Co., cutton deal

The loss thus far is roughly estimated at between two and three millions.

John McCourt, a fireman, has since died from injuries. A body taken from the ruins, and which was supposed to be Joseph Blyler, has since been identified as that of Thomas Marshell, a drayman, who was in the building where the fire originated at the time the wall fell. Blyler was also in the building just previous to the falling of the wall, but escaped caped.

The losses will aggregate about $2,500, 000, divided among about twenty firms.

Frand on Oregon.

Carcago, Feb. 19 .- J. W. Virtue, Oregon commissioner of mines, is here en route to the New Orleans exposition with an exhibit of the mining industries of eastern Oregon. As the legislature did not act on the project until January, the exhibit, Mr. Virtue says, is not as full as it otherwise would have been, but as it is it will place over 3,000 specimens on exhi-bition. On his table, scattered promisbition. On his table, scattered promis-cuously about, was nearly $10,000 worth of gold in quartz and nuggets, but the most valuable of the collection had been sont by express. Mr. Virtue believes that the trade of eastern Oregon naturally belongs to Chicago and other eastern cities, rather than to towns on the Pacific slope, and his great object in making the best showing at the exhibition is to attract the attention of capitalists and business man to the respress of his The general appropriation of the whole, and the house immediately went into committee for its consideration.
