Dr. Holmes once said in the Professor at the Breakfast Table that every man was three men. Illustrating with "the young man John," he pointed out that there was, first, the man John thought himself to be; second, the man his neighbors and friends believed John to be, and third, the real man John. The professor was inclined to resent John's reduction of the theory to profess. NVIGORATOR

All in the Line of Nature,

There is nothing in the line of magic or mystery about that wonderful and popular medicine, Parker's Tonic. It is simply the best and most scientific combination possible of the essential principles of those vegetable curatives which act powerfully and directly on the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. But there neither is, nor will be, any successful imitation of it. It is all the time curing those who had despaired of ever acting well. ever getting well. For yourself, you wife and children.
