TUTT'S PILLS
TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.
From the sources of three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructation of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Drops before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine, TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES.
The Wars of the Old World.
THE FRENCH RETREATING.
PARIS, April 1.—General Briere de Lisle telegraphs from Hanoi, under date of yesterday: "After a fresh encounter with the enemy at Dong Hong, yesterday evening, General Herbinger continued to retreat in good order along the Kep and Deo-quan routes. General Negrier's present condition is favorable. After seeing him I hope to rejoin the second brigade in defense of the rivers."
The war office has received a dispatch from General de Lisle, commander of the French forces in Tonquin, stating that Chinese in large numbers are continually harassing the French troops in their retreat from Langson.

PARIS, April 1.—A dispatch dated Hanoi this morning states that the situation of the French army there is critical. A large Chinese force, under European leaders, the dispatch says, is endeavoring to cut off the French retreat. General Negrier has arrived at Hanoi. He is making good progress toward recovery from his wound. The people at Hanoi are calm.

PARIS, April 1.—M. Ferry to-day handed President Grevy a dispatch which he had just received, stating the Chinese government had accepted Ferry's proposals for peace, and wished to fix a date for the evacuation of positions now occupied by Chinese. The dispatch was dated subsequent to the defeat of the French forces.
RUSSIA IS WILLING.
LONDON, April 1.—The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon states that Russia's answer to England's proposals on the Afghan question amounts to a cordial acceptance of the proposals as made by Earl Granville, British foreign minister. The Gazette says Russia consents to accept as debatable territory the zone laid out as such by England and accepts the principle that the frontier line shall not be drawn farther south than Karezelas and Chameniebid or farther north than Shirtepe and Sari yazi. This leaves as the only point still to be discussed, the Russian suggestion that it would be more practicable if the zone of survey overlapped or roughly defined the zone of debatable land in order to allow for topographical or ethnographical conditions not expected. This suggested extension of the zone of survey, as it would carry the zone to the south of the boundary line run by M. Lessar, the Russian commissioner appointed to meet Sir Peter Lumsden, British commissioner, to arrange the Afghan boundary dispute, may yet prove serious enough. The Gazette thinks this will cause further difficulty.

TO BE ATTACKED.
LONDON, April 1.—A later dispatch from Sateken says it is expected the British attack upon Tamai will be made to-morrow. The Murat tribe, 3,000 strong, have offered to submit to the British.

SACKED, April 1.—The troops at General McNeill's zereba will march out at daybreak to construct a zereba three miles nearer Tamai. They will be supported by a detachment of cavalry. The troops from General Graham's camp will then move to the first zereba and the whole British force will attack Tamai Saturday. There appears to be about 12,000 Arabs between Ansheen and Tamai.

ASPINWALL IN ASHES.
WASHINGTON, April 1.—The following dispatch from Commander Kane of the Galena has just been received by the secretary of the navy: "Aspinwall is in ashes, burnt by the insurgents to escape capture by the government troops. The Pacific Mail dock and railroad property on the north end of the island, and canal property at Crispal, are the only buildings saved. Shipping safe. Have all my force on shore protecting property. My ship is crowded with refugees. Thousands are destitute and without shelter."

NEW YORK, April 1.—A dispatch received at the office of the Panama railroad company in this city, gives the following account of the destruction of the city of Colon, or Aspinwall: "The revolutionists have destroyed Colon by fire. The wharf of the Pacific mail steamship company is the only one that remains standing. Shops and property on the beach were saved. Stop all freights. We need six wharf building gangs, material for construction of wharfs, pile drivers, etc. Charter a steamer and supply us with ample provisions to sustain gangs while at work. Communication with Panama entirely cut off."

LONDON, April 1.—Twenty-five thousand is the total number of colliers who went on a strike to-day in Yorkshire, against a 10 per cent reduction of wages.
The chief engineer of the Croton aqueduct reports that 20,000,000 gallons of water are wasted in New York every day.
Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.
In Scrofulous and Consumption Cases.—Dr. C. C. Lockwood, New York says: "I have frequently prescribed Scott's Emulsion and regard it as a valuable preparation in scrofulous and consumption cases, palatable and efficacious."

GUTEAU'S CURSES.
A List of Some of the Fatalities That Followed Them.

Charles H. Reed, who assisted Mr. Scheldel in the defense of Guitéau, has for the third time asked congress for an appropriation of $3,000 in payment for such services, without success. Almost everybody who had anything to do with the trial on either side has seen more or less ill fortune since. Some of the fatalities and distresses that have visited many of those who were connected with the trial on either side has seen more or brought in contact in any way with the assassin, present remarkable coincidences when his predictions, spiteful and maniac like ejaculations and curses are called to mind. It is not the least striking of these coincidences that the Republican party was defeated last fall. In one of Guitéau's moments of real or assumed passion, not long before his execution, he held his bible high in air and with his eyes rolling and teeth gnashing said that the party was doomed and that the last Republican president was serving. At the same time he pronounced some rambling maledictions against President Arthur, in which he asserted that his party would repudiate him and nominate Blaine and then be swept out of existence.
At another time, when he was almost foaming with passion, he shouted: "My inspired act prevented an outbreak of war, and when you have murdered me you will find it out." It has been noticed by some people here as a coincidence worth noticing, because so striking, that but for President Arthur's peremptory change of Mr. Blaine's policy—which the secretary of state insisted was Garfield's policy—there was more than even chance that we should have had a war with Chile. Many thought so, at least, among them the president himself.

Another curious coincidence many find between Guitéau's prediction that his act would put a stop to factional fighting in the Republican party and the actual cessation of the hot conflict that was waged when he fired his pistol.
The list of fatalities to those who were associated with the prosecution or defense of him is strikingly large. The district attorney, whom Guitéau's vocabulary was exhausted to curse, has been grievously afflicted. The sudden death of his wife, his practical suspension during the star route trials and the loss of his office are the chief misfortunes, though by no means the only ones that have befallen him since the trial. Two of the officers who had Guitéau in charge have died, one having been murdered. Of the jury that convicted him, one has died, one has been in an insane asylum, two have failed in business and some of the rest have seen nothing but trouble since the verdict was rendered. The judge who sentenced Guitéau was the owner of a hotel building that, without warning, collapsed one night last summer, killing several people and causing a heavy pecuniary loss. One of the physicians who testified that Guitéau was sane was afterwards murderously attacked by an insane patient; another had serious legal trouble, while the noted alienist who insisted that the assassin was not responsible for his act, died suddenly in the prime of life, and with an enviable and increasing reputation as a specialist. The domestic troubles of Mr. Scoville, the brother-in-law who defended Guitéau, developed at last into a public scandal, followed by a divorce. Dr. Woodard's death was hastened, it is believed, by the nervous strain caused by his attendance on the dying patient, while Dr. Bliss, who suffered very greatly in health by reason of the sleepless care of Garfield, found after the president's death that his practice was scattered and had to meet other embarrassments. Marshal Henry, who had Guitéau in charge, was removed from office not long after in some disgrace, while Garfield's steward, Cramp, laid the foundation for organic diseases by his faithful nursing of the president, and other misfortunes were entailed, so that he had at last to eke out a living by keeping a cheap restaurant in a basement.

In view of such a list as this, the superstitions find a good deal of food for comment.
Tough Old Soldier.
There are various forms of dyspepsia, chiefly acute and chronic. "Acute" may seize you in a moment, in the shape of a sudden fit of indigestion. "Chronic" keeps its victim in perpetual pain and worry. Even old chronic can be rooted out by Brown's Iron Bitters. Mr. I. L. Gavins, of Dinwiddie, Va., says, "Brown's Iron Bitters made me entirely well of dyspepsia of twenty years' standing." If it will do such a wonder as that, what will it do for your comparatively recent case?
MONTECAL, April 1.—It is stated by a government official, who came here from Ottawa, that a cable message from Lord Wolseley had been received by Lord Lansdowne, asking if he could get one or two regiments from Canada for service in the Sudan.
