

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

FRIDAY - APRIL 3, 1885

The Rhode Island senate has passed a resolve to submit the question of woman suffrage to the voters of the state.

HENRY VILLARD has been stopping in Speyer, Germany, attending the dedication of a hospital and religious retreat founded by him in his days of great wealth.

GEN. GRANT has not yet acknowledged the receipt of his commission as a general on the retired list, and his name has therefore not yet been placed upon the government payroll.

The Pall Mall Gazette states that Russia's answer to England's proposals of the Afghan frontier amounts to a cordial acceptance. And so blows away the threatening European war cloud.

The receipts of the New Orleans exhibition now reach about $6,000 per day. This is probably more than the cost of attendance and maintenance, so that it will pay to keep the exhibition open, though there is no hope now that any part of the money loaned by the government can be returned.

The New York Sun's financial article points out that Mr. Phelps, the new minister to England, was General Schenck's counsel in the Emma mine affair, and that his appointment will beget distrust in the British investors' minds, as Englishmen have a mortal horror of everybody and everything connected with that swindling operation.

The whole amount of life insurance now in force in the United States is $2,000,000,000, a sum $100,000,000 greater than the net annual revenue of the United States government; five times larger than the total annual sales of money postal orders, and nearly $100,000,000 greater than the total combined capital invested in the iron, steel and lumber business in this country.

VERMONT has started to solve the question of ignorant and incompetent juries under its new law with considerable success. A law passed by the last legislature provided for the drawing of special juries in important cases. It is first being applied in the trial of the case of ex-Gov. John B. Page of Rutland. The jury drawn consists of leading citizens of the county outside of Rutland.

A WEEK ago serious labor troubles were threatened in England, many colliery proprietors having determined to enforce a reduction of 10 per cent in wages, declaring that such was absolutely necessary to enable them to keep the pits open at present prices for coals. Forty-five thousand hands would be directly affected by such a reduction. The present prospect of war with Russia is likely, however, to revolutionize the situation.

A NEW system of remedy is attracting attention in San Francisco. It is styled "the faith cure," and is used by "the Holiness Band," led by a gentleman named "Rev. Geo. Newton." "Faith and oil" are the alleged agents in this new materia medica, and wonderful cures are reported. The allopathists and homeopaths have ceased quarreling among themselves and unite in opposing the "faith and oil" pharmacy as a matter of self defense.

The Mahdi's military resources include 15,500 Egyptian regulars, who were originally taken prisoners or deserted to the Mahdi's camp. It is not known, even at English headquarters in the Sudan, how many native warriors have joined Mohammed Ahmed, but he possesses armaments for an almost unlimited number. Besides the arms and equipments of Hicks and Baker Pasha's forces, which fell into the hands of the enemy, the latter has an enormous quantity of provisions and ammunition, which the Egyptian government had stored in Sennar, Kordofan and Fachoda.

An informal cabinet meeting was held at Washington last Wednesday night to consider the burning of Aspinwall by the insurrectionists, and to define the obligations of the United States in the premises. It was decided that while the government has no responsibility for internal broils at Panama, the old treaty with Granada guarantees free and uninterrupted transit across the isthmus. Secretary Whitney, at the conclusion of the conference, telegraphed the consul at Panama for further particulars, and if present advices are confirmed, men and guns will be shipped immediately to maintain free transit across the isthmus.

BETWEEN the Russian and the Scandinavian workman the contrast is complete, notwithstanding the sameness of the climate under which they both live. While the industries of Russia are in their infancy, those of the Scandinavian countries have left that stage far in the past. The industries of Scandinavia are almost entirely confined to wood and iron. The Scandinavian workman is well cared for by his employer. Without receiving high pay, the miner, the woodworker and the weaver, both Swedish and Norwegian, enjoy a relative degree of comfort through their cheap food markets, the alliance of family life with industrial labor and farming, the universal diffusion of popular instruction, the spirit of associations and the multiplying of educational as well as of provident and charitable institutions, and finally and above all their habits of order, their honesty and their relations in general with their employers.

THE twentieth anniversary of the raising of the American flag over Fort Sumter will be celebrated by the Sumter club in Brooklyn at the Academy of Music in that city, April 14th. The club was organized at Fort Sumter in 1865, when a steambot full of people went from Brooklyn to witness the ceremony of again hoisting the old flag. Among those who have already signified their intention of being present are Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, Commodore Chandler, General Gilmore, Admiral Worden and Commodore Schley. The following is an extract from a letter received from General Sherman: "I take it for granted that you hardly expect one of my age to come over 1,000 miles for any anniversary occasion whatsoever, and that you will be perfectly satisfied to receive from me this assurance of profound satisfaction on learning that such men of national fame whose names head your sheet still cherish the memory and celebrate an event of equal, if not more importance than the declaration of independence, because Sumter is a monument of a fact that the United States could and did maintain their integrity, whereas the other was a string of words."
