

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1885

THE LATEST NEWS.

SPECIAL TO THE ASTORIAN. LONDON, April 10.—10.30 P. M.—The war news is of a less exciting character to-night, and though there is no cessation in preparations, the idea that peace is possible is more prevalent than twenty-four hours ago.

Gladstone says that Russia has asked General Komaroff, who was in command at Pundeh, to explain his reasons for attacking the Afghans. The Russian press is very warlike in its tone and rejoices at the shape affairs have taken. Russian agents are in London trying to purchase fast vessels.

Bismarck says that he is confident the Russians will be able to explain the attack in a manner satisfactory to England.

Marine insurance rates have been raised.

GRANT CONSIDERABLY BETTER. NEW YORK, April 10.—11 P. M.—General Grant was considerably better this afternoon and evening, and is now resting easy. He is bright and rational and experiences little difficulty in taking food.

THE events now happening on the isthmus recall a like occurrence at Panama on the 15th day of April, 1855, referring to which Mr. Marey, in a communication dated December 3, 1856, addressed to the special envoy and minister plenipotentiary of the United States at Bogota, insisted that if the government of New Granada, now one of the united states of Colombia, had not the ability to keep order and afford security, she was bound to agree to any fair arrangement to accomplish those objects.

It was then that Mr. Marey, secretary of state, placed in the hands of the envoy mentioned a draft of a treaty to be submitted to Granada, which is as remarkable a state paper in this relation as exists in the archives of the department. The policy outlined by Mr. Marey, and sought to be carried out by Mr. Seward, proposed concessions and grants of territory and territorial jurisdiction under the treaty stipulations from New Granada, under which the United States assumed to maintain security to life and property on the isthmus. The language which was used in making the statement was significant. This security is not for the exclusive benefit of the United States, but is essentially so to New Granada herself, to all other countries and to the railroad company which has her guarantee for that security.

THE latest suggestion regarding Alaska comes from the wise men of the east who say that it should be made a penal colony. The argument from the Atlantic standpoint is that crime is increasing; that prison life does not check the increase; therefore a new system should be tried. To us out here it looks as though some enterprising eastern firm wanted to get Alaska salmon canned by cheap convict labor. That's what it would amount to.

THE last legislature saw fit to censure Senator Dolph for introducing into the U. S. senate a bill in relation to coal and timber land. In a long letter to the secretary of state Senator Dolph demonstrates that his bill was a popular necessity and especially designed to frustrate the schemes of speculators.

THE rise in wheat occasioned by the probable European war means $1.25 a ton more for every ton of wheat in Oregon and Washington territory. The amount in California represents a gain of $6,000,000 in that state.

THERE are a good many in this section who would like some explanation of the delay in furnishing official information of the forfeiture of the Astoria land grant.
