Chinese Head Hunting.

A Kelung correspondent of the Hongkong Press gives the following details of Chinese head hunting: "The Chinese have committed the most horrible atrocities. The French. cometery has been violated in a man-ner worthy of the lowest barbarians. The graves of the dead interred in the afternoon were found opened the n xt marning and the corpses be-healed. This continued for a week. A though all means were employed to never t and catch the violators, the F ench did not succeed. This is how to he sented: A dog was trained to go in advance of them, and if the dog frame the cemetery deserted, the Chinese : dvanced, opened the graves and cut the heads off the corpses. If the cemejery was guarded the dogs would bark and the Chinese retreat. You will thus see that the Chinese had a regular system for head snatching and it baffled the French for som time. Now, however, a guard of tiffee · mon keeps watch over their departed comrades."

Looking over a lot of old books the other day I picked up "Wild Sports in the Far West," by J. Mortimer Mur-phy, who, some ten years ago, served an apprenticeship at journalism on an Oregon newspaper. Murphy had a smattering of almost every language under the sun. His restaurant Italian amattering of almost every language under the sun. His restaurant Italian and French were perfect. Outside the menu he was shaky, but his didong in a restaurant brought the waiters about him in flocks. He never lowered his flag. It they looked puzzled at his vile jargon he cursed them in French, and his profanity was always perfect in grammar and was always perfect in grammar and pronunciation. They fled to the kitchen and brought something. No matter what it was Murphy never sent it back. That would have been a virtual confession that they had not not understood him. - Rastern

Two Dangerous Seasons. Spring and fall are times when so many people get sick. The changes in the weather are severe on feeble persons, and even those naturally strong persons, and even those naturally strong are apt, as they say, "to be feeling miserable." Then they are just in condition to be struck down with some kind of fever. A bottle or two of Parker's Tonic will invigorate the digestion, put the liver, kidneys and blood in perfect order, and prevent more serious attacks. Why suffer, and perhaps die, when so simple a medicine will save you? Good for both sexes and all ages. and all ages.
