esting rumor current among the European envoys here touching the degree of neutrality the United States will maintain in case of war between Russia and England. It is reported that an understand-Whereas the city assessment roll for the year 1885 has been this day returned to the auditor and clerk of the city of Astoria and is now on file; therefore.

Resolved: That the auditor and clerk is Resolved: That the auditor and clerk is and England scenced inevitable and reing exists between our government and Russian cruiser came into the harbor of Eastport, Me., when war between Russia and England scemed inevitable and remained there three months, until the differences were amicably adjusted. While at Eastport the Russian ship refitted comfortably and was provided with a new high-power battery of modern breachloaders and a crew from Russian ships sent from home stations for that purpose. Vice-Admiral William Gore Jones, then a naval attache of the British legation, discovered what was going on, and Sir Edward Thornton, the British minister, protested, without any result at the time. As there was no war, no more was said by her majesty's representative about the incident. The question under discussion by the foreign representatives here is, "Will America permit the Russian government to repeat the act, if so, what will Exchand 42%." They maint to the "Will America permit the Russian gov-ernment to repeat the act, if so, what will England do?" They point to the fact that Palmerston peremptorily re-fused to allow the confederate cruisers, Alabama, Shenandoah and Florida to even take coal in an English port during the war. If Russia is permitted to have the same privileges in American waters as our own war ships, then why not those of England?

WHAT OUR NEIGHBORS SAY.

It is evident that more satisfactory results could be accomplished by the organization of an association including only the press of western Washington than of the larger one suggested by the Portland press. The latter presents several disadvantages. Including the press of all Oregon and Washington, the place of meeting would, of course, be Portland, the most central point. Many of the papers which would desire representation, however, are published at points so remote from that city that it would be extremely inconvenient for would be extremely inconvenient for their editors to attend meetings of the association. Further, the interest in a large organization would be naturally not so great as that in a smaller one, which would cover less territory. In the latter case communication between mem-hers would be more frequent and the responsibility felt by each for the wel-victoria anonts serious grounds for fear. The city lies within easy gun-shot from the open sea and would afford a fine day's sport for the Russinn flect which is now in Chinese waters. Just now there is but a single ship at Esquimalt capable of defensive work and it could do nothing to beat off the whole Russian fleet. And, there is not an immediate possibility of better defense. This situa-tion is perfectly well known by the Rus-sian commander in China, and his first

His Valuable Services in the Last Afghan

Washington, May 1.—One of the mem Washington, May 1 .- There are interbers of the English legation furnishes some interesting gossip regarding Sir Peter Lumsden. "From his youth," said this genfleman, "Lumsden has been a man of war. He first saw war in the sarvice of the East India Company and distinguished himself as a youngster in the terrible mutiny of 1857. He learned the Hindustani dialects years ago when Sir Froderick Roberts was on his way to Candahar. A few years ago it was of the utmost consequence that he should have some accurate knowledge of the route and forces likely to oppose him in the mountain passes. This in-formation Sir Peter Lumsden volun-teered to obtain. Three days elapsed and he had not returned. General Rob-erts was sitting in his tent when a Fakir, or holy man suddenly appeared, riding furiously down the mountain side. He was an extraordinary looking creature, his only garment being a pair of dirty trousers made of goatskin. His hair nearly reached to his waist, and his lean, brawny reacted to make wars, and his leads brawny arms were covered with a paste made of sandalwood ashes mixed with castor oil—a decoration of peculiar sanctity and powerful smell. The general came out and asked his visitor what he wanted. The reply, in a barbarian jarage wars reconstitute with the control of the contr gon, was a request for a private inter-

The school exercises of the week at the Court street school closed yesterday afternoon by a very creditable exhibition in Mrs. Martin's and Mrs. Fields' rooms, which were handsomely decorated and filled with the parents and friends of the pupils. At the close of the exercises brief remarks were made by Rev. Dr. Garner, Rev. M. D. Wilson, Mr. W. E. Dement, Was Martin and others.

The Northern Pacific railroad company has advertised the Sound country and told of a lot of things that are not nor ever will be seen there, and through mis-representation it gets these emigrants to go over there, and of course, immediately on their arrival they see the fact that it is not what it is represented to be and think that all the country on this coast is like that. It not only does that section no good to lie about it, and it does a great harm to other sections of the country.—Salem Talk.

It is evident that more satisfactory re responsionity reit by each for the weighter of the association would be greater.

The people of British Columbia are in a high state of alarm on the prospects of war between Russia and England. At Victoria companies of citizens are drilling nightly and two cannon have been mounted in position to put daylight through whoever or whatever may ap-pear with hostile port. Many of the peomovement on the announcement of war is expected to be to set sail for Victoria. It is quite generally feared that if the city is found defenseless, or nearly so, a heavy tribute will be demanded, and that if it be not forthcoming that it will be battered to the ground.—Oregonian.

been so complete as to be unsuspected by a man whose intimate friend he had been a man whose intimate friend he had been for ten years. Knowing how supersti-tious the Afghans are, Lumsden had se-lected a diaguise they would not readily question. He knew the dialect of the class he represented perfectly, and when-ever he approached an Afghan encamp-ment he dashed fearlessly up yelling, 'Lah Allah Mahmond resoul Allah,' the mystic words of the faithful. His iden-tity was never suspected. The informatity was never suspected. The informa-tion he obtained enabled the English to capture Candahar and rendered the cam-
