

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, JUNE 6, 1885

CLEVER HIBBS.

It is an era of brilliant rascality and a country that affords boundless scope for a display of criminal ingenuity...

Robeson of New Jersey, and Bonch of Pennsylvania; Dorsey of Indiana, and Packard of Louisiana, are brilliant examples of erratic American geniuses...

A dispatch from Lewiston dated June 4th, gives the mode of the clever Hibbs' operations as follows:

Lewiston is a mail distribution point for a large number of offices in northern Idaho and eastern Washington. Hibbs issued money orders for fictitious individuals at these offices...

Money orders are limited to $300 daily in favor of one person, but with forethought and judicious distribution of names and places an opening offers through which unscrupulous postmasters could bankrupt the United States.

The amount of the defalcation exceeds $20,000 and is expected to reach $50,000—amazing moderation considering the opportunities.

The postal inspector says the robbery will necessitate the authorities reorganizing the money order system of the United States and elsewhere. The scheme is surprisingly simple, and officers are surprised that it was never thought of and worked before.

When Warren Hastings, the conqueror of India and devastator of Scinde, was arraigned before the English parliament for high crimes and misdemeanors his answer was, "When I remember my opportunities I am astonished at my own moderation."

Truly may Hibbs in the seclusion and immunity of his Victoria home say with Hastings: "When I remember my opportunities I am astonished at my own moderation."

Oregon has distinguished herself in producing a man who has invented a new and successful swindle, and in this day of keen competition in rascality it is no slight achievement to thus gain prominence in the annals of infamy.

It is reported in Constantinople that the overtures of the port for an alliance with Russia have met with a rebuff. Russia, it is claimed, expresses herself content with the present status of the Afghan question...

General Rosenkrantz has been appointed register of the treasury. It is an easy billet, worth $4,000 a year.

Seven of the ten conditions of peace submitted by France have been accepted by China and the others rejected.

The British government has decided that the railway plant now at Swansea be returned to London.

Sheriff's Sale.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a warrant issued by the County Clerk of Clatsop county, State of Oregon, dated on the 17th day of April, 1885, to me directed commanding me to collect the delinquent taxes due said county for the year 1884, as shown by the list attached to said warrant, by levying upon and selling the personal property of the delinquents against whom such taxes are assessed and charged if sufficient personal property can be found, otherwise by the sale of their real estate...
