The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

JULY 10, 188 Teams began running regularly on the Oregon Pacific railroad last Sat-

San Francisco bay, May 18th. Among Gov. Bunn, of Idaho, has densonthe minor disasters are noted the runstrated his good sense by resigning his position.

Tax inhabitants of San Joaquin a norther; the case of the schooner valley, California, are using 3,000 Alies Kimball, which collided with pounds of arsenic every week trying the Funnie A. Hyde, August 8th, off to kill the grasshoppers.

HOADLY has been coaxed by Ohio Democrats to run for governor of the Buckeye state, and their coy blandishments have won from him a re-Inetant consent.

It is reported that the force on the Cascade division of the Northern art's Point, February 15th, and went Pacific is to be doubled on the 1st of ashore, proving a total loss. There next month, which, if so, will greatly is a notable absence of casualties in hasten the completion of the work.

The Oregonian thinks Portland needs a fine hotel, but sareastically adds that "no doubt it is useless and might be preposterous to suppose that the wealthy men of Portland would do anything of a public char-

A CORRESPONDENT of the London Times, writing from Naples, says that all animals whose skins are worth a centime are skinned alive in that Besides, it is to be noted that her fair city of the sea. Old horses, young kids and lambs, all dogs, cats and rats are skinned alive, because the federal government a few year the skin when removed from the living creature is considered more supple and sells for a somewhat higher steamship constructed in New York.

The Tacoma Ledger kicketh over the appointment of General Armstrong, of Louisiana, to succeed ex-Gov. Newell as inspector of Indian largest wooden ships in the world are agencies in these parts. It asks: "Isn't it about time that Cleveland yards. The Ocean King, a four mund stopped going out of the United ed ship, was built at Kennebank. States (as General Armstrong mapped That vessel is of 2,516 tons burthen, them in 1861), to look for appointees and has been at anchor in San Franwho are not 'offensive partisans?" eisen harbor, near Goal island for It does look queer, but "what are you going to do about it?"

Gov. Moony is at present the recipient of more advice than any other man on the coast. Every newspaper O' THE NIGHT OF THE JULY, ASON man, and a few that are not newspa-ber men, are busy telling him whatter per men, are busy telling him whether he should appoint a United States senator or call a special session of the legislature. If the old saying be true, "in a multitude of counsellors is safety," then our worthy executive is perfeetly safe. It is, perhaps, no violation of confidence to publish the fact that he will either appoint a senator or call a special legislative sessionwhen he gets ready.

In the cast mad dogs are beginning to attract some of the attention that has hitherto been lavished on Federal A SHORT WHILE LONGER! San Francisco and Puget Sound Ports, appointments. In one town in Wisconsin, a mad dog ran a muck and bit nearly every dog it met. The inhabitants are preparing for an epidemic of hydrophobia. We would call the attention of our unhappy fellow countrymen east of the Rocky mountains to the fact that there is a land here close to the Pacific where mad dogs are unknown, where sunstroke will not knock them (our fellow Albums, Baby Carria es, citizens) out or hurricanes blow them

An Arizona paper makes the following announcement: "We will pay $10 for a good epic poem of one hundred lines on the 'Scourge of the Seventeen Year Locust.' Said poem must be sound in wind and limb, but it must not be all sound; a little sense is desirable. All metaphors must be new and applicable to the subject. No more than one poetic license to ten lines will be allowed. Rhyme not absolutely necessary, but reason a This gives every one a splendid chance to get sine qua non. No parodies allowed. We reserve to ourselves the right to work over the poems of all unsuccessful candidates into editorials on the need of a new navy and the fail nre of the wheat crop."

According to our English contempories, the practice of litigants conducting their cases in person is one that seems to be daily gaining ground in England. Occasionally a jury will make strange bluders, says a writer, but, as a rule, what they want is to have the facts brought fairly be-at Frank Fabre's. fore them. This a counsel often does not do. He is thinking of the rules of evidence, or he fancies that it would be politic to suppress that particular fact or to avoid that particular eigenvastance or in some ticular circumstance, or in some other way to finesse the evidence. No More Hard Times - Free This is what a jury dislike. They This is what a jury dislike. They can get on much better with a litigant in person who blurts everything out with a supreme contempt for all established rules, and who, if a thing is not evidence, will somehow make it so.
