Readjusted Salaries in Oregon and Washington Territory.

WASHINGTON, July 6. The officials of the postoffice de-partment have completed the second annual adjustment of the salaries of ostoffices of the presidential rank. This is the first adjustment made up-on the basis of the reduction of letter postage to two cents. Of course this reduction has operated to the disad-vantage of the offices, as the salary is predicated upon the receipts, but still, many offices have so added to their business that, while no increase of pay is secured, they have been enabled to retain the present salary.

As stated, this adjustment only includes offices of the presidential rank, so termed because the pay being at least $1,000 a year, the appointment of the postmaster is vested by law in the president. They are divided into

The first class comprises those offices which receive a salary of $3,000 or more. To enable an office to enter this grade the annual gross receipts must be $40,000. The only office in Oregon of this grade is Portland, where the gross receipts are in excess of $60,000. No change is made in the salary of the Portland office.

The second class contains those ofdoes receiving from two to three thousand dollars a year. It requires gross receipts of eight thousand dollars to be of this grade. Salem is the only one in the state.

The third class range from one to two thousand dollars, and the gross receipts must be at least one thousand nine hundred dollars to promote an office to this class. At present there are twelve offices of this grade, but under the new adjustment there for horses? It is for inflamma-tion of all flesh. is a loss of one, Roseburg having been relegated to the fourth class, its receipts not being sufficient to justify its retention in the presidential rank Under this adjustment only one office (Corvallis) increases its salary, and the addition is but a single hundred dollars. The heaviest loss is two hundred dollars, which is suffered by three offices—Jacksonville, Pendleton and Roseburg. Five offices lose one hundred dollars. The following statement gives the presidential postoffices in Oregon, together with the present salary and the salary as arranged under the new adjustment, which takes effect with

A DEAD MAN'S DEAL

Account of the Remarkable Death of a Gambler.

"I was just reading," said a Denver sport, "about a man winking his eye after his head was cut off. Now, I know I have seen something just as strange. Twenty years ago this month there was a lot of us took a trip to Old Mexico to see what we could scoop in- and, by the way, we got scooped-and went bucking heavy on every game we could strike. One of our gang, Bill Brewster, was a rattling dealer, a good hand at short cards, and always had a pocketful of money till he got struck on Mexican

"Talk about your Greazer's infatu-ation for the game. I never saw one of them could hold a marker to Bill. He'd get broke. Then he'd get a pack of cards and deal himself. He'd turn the cards for anybody or any-thing when he was busted. Some-times he'd make a raise and quit and go to playing faro, where he was, as a rule, lucky. But no sooner did he get a big stake than he would tackle monte, and would invariably get downed. Us boys tried to persuade him to stick to a white man's game, but no, he wouldn't have it, and was almost all the time in a state of im-necuniosity. "One day Bill had established himself in a pulque shop with his cards, and was turning them for anybody and was turning them for anybody who wanted to wager a cent. There was a party of Mexican bloods in the room, and finally they sauntered over to Bill's table, and one of them asked if he would turn for $100. Bill said he would, though he didn't have but $10 in the bank. The fellow slaps down his money and Bill wins. That made the Mexican mad and he slaps down another. Bill wins again. The third time, and Bill scooped the pile.

"The Mexican asked Bill if he would turn for him for $1,000, and Bill told him it didn't make any difference if he made it $1,000,000, as the bank was able to pay ten times that amount. The Mexican bet and lost. Then he accused Bill of cheat-ing. Bill called him a liar. "I was standing right to one side of Bill. He had the cards in his left hand, and had hold of the bottom card with his right hand. The Mexican's hand was on his gun.

"'Hold on," said Bill; 'don't draw till I make this turn. I'll bet you $1,000 to $100 that it's the seven of "'Done,' says the Mexican, who threw $100 on the table.

"Bill commenced pulling the card out slowly. The Mexican was watching. There were two black spots showed up, and Bill's hand stopped. Quick as a flash the Mexican drew his gun and fired. Bill never moved in his chair, but his right hand kept its slow motion until the card was drawn from the pack and held up to view. It was the seven of spades. The hand moved slowly back again and the card was laid on the table Bill then leaned back in his chair and shut his eyes. "We were so excited when the shot was fired that we didn't know what spokane Falls also adds to its psy, to do, and, as Bill continued to turn the card, we supposed he hadn't been Walla Walla loses $200, and four hit, but we found out differently slices, Colfax, Dayton, Olympia and when we examined him. He was shot directly through the heart.

"Now, I reason that thing out this way: Bill was determined to convince that Mexican that he didn't Washinsoron, July 14.—The deficit vince that Mexican that he did the posteffice department for the know as much as he thought he did. That thought was in his mind when that and though killed instantly, his wishes were carried out after death. Bill was game, too, and I believe that if he hadn't realized that he was a dead man when shot, and hadn't wanted to win the Mexican's money, he would have grabbed his gan and done some execution with it.

"That's why I say a man can do a thing after he's dead." Be Gentle with the Children.

"Now quit your crying, sir, or I'll give you something to cry for." When such words are spoken to a weeping little boy, he don't know whether to stop crying or to go on. But he does know that cross old aunty who says them is a hateful creature. What makes her hateful? Possibly dyspepsia; or maybe liver complaint. either case, give cross aunty a bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters and tone her up so that she may be healthy and
