

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:
WEDNESDAY, JULY 22, 1885

It is charged that St. John has become an orator of the Carl Schurz variety, his rates for the Ohio campaign being $100 per speech.

Two parties are forming in Dakota on the subject of admission. One favors division on the Missouri river, and the other wants the whole territory to come in as one state.

The people's party in New York will have a state convention on the 12th of August. The people's party is the one that ran Ben Butler for president and forgot to vote for him.

It is suggested that the reason American statesmen are short lived is not so much that their duties in congress are wearing. It is the struggle to get there and stay there that kills.

In 1868 road agents robbed a stage near Blackfoot, Idaho, of 500 pounds of gold dust, which they secreted. They were sent to the penitentiary and their terms will expire in a few days. A close watch will be kept on them.

It was a center shot and a hard hit when the New York woman suffragists called attention to the mockery of making a statue of liberty in the form of a woman to be placed at the portals of a state where women are disfranchised.

The editor of the Nogales (A. T.) Frontier has published several articles concerning the Yaqui war, which have caused the Mexican general Carbo to order the journalist to be brought into camp dead or alive, should he venture across the line.

MANY swift ocean steamships chartered by the British government when the Russian storm-cloud was blackest, have been lying idle at their moorings ever since, and as the leases in most cases do not expire until the 1st of September, it must be months yet before the ships are in active service again.

To deal with the sewage of London it has been proposed by Sir Joseph Bazalgette to convey the sewage to the sea, at a cost of £20,000,000, and the value per annum of this sewage for the purpose of manure is estimated at £1,000,000. A strange and anomalous waste of money surely, to expend £20,000,000 in throwing into the sea a product worth £1,000,000 per annum.

JUDGE MAYNARD, second comptroller of the treasury, has rendered a decision that naval officers who travel at government expense are not entitled to mileage, and that mileage is allowable only when they travel at their own expense. This is a reversal of a former decision of the office, and will result in a saving to the government of several hundred thousand dollars annually.

The true landed aristocracy of the United States is composed of the red men. There are about 255,000 Indians, and their land reservations amount to about 175,000 square miles. Each Indian has, therefore, a little more than two-thirds of a square mile of land. The reservations of Dakota, Montana and the Indian territory comprise 150,000 square miles, occupied by about 127,000 Indians, or less than one inhabitant to the square mile.

We find the following personal paragraph in the Chicago Inter-Ocean:

"The largest pension paid to a soldier of the late war is $100 per month, and it is paid to General Black, the commissioner of pensions, who was represented at the time to be a physical wreck."

If there is no mistake about the above, it exposes a curious state of facts. It is a plain case that General Black is not entitled under any fair construction of the law to so heavy a pension; but whatever pension he does receive might properly be waived as long as he is drawing a large salary as a government officer.

SOUTH AMERICA is passing through a violent political storm. Ecuador is a hive of tumult, portions of Colombia are in a ferment; the war between Chili, Peru, and Bolivia yet throws its dark shadows backward over the beaten republics; and now Venezuela joins the dance with an outbreak of its own. It is an out-and-out revolution, and is making fair progress. These little impatiences on the part of our neighbors of the far south should teach us the folly of trying to make them a part of our political family. Whenever a people show their impatience to be so great that they would rather fight or die than wait the recurrence of an election whereby their party may be rot-ed in, they thereby demonstrate that they are good people to avoid all entanglements with. A treaty which would oblige the United States to keep the peace in South America would afford our army plenty of employment, and the country but little advantage.

That Iowa is a prohibition state, where no spirituous liquor, beer, wine and cider are manufactured, sold or drunk, does not prevent Iowa from furnishing some pretty robust statistics on the subject of internal revenue. There are reported 3,989 retail dealers in liquor in the state, 63 wholesale dealers, 16 rectifiers and 215 other dealers, making a total of 4,242, or 280 more than there are in the state of Missouri. Iowa produced in the last fiscal year, ending June 30th, 2,500,000 gallons distilled spirits and 3,397,000 gallons beer. This is about three gallons of home-made Iowa liquor to every man, woman and child in the state, to say nothing of the quantity of imported stuff consumed.

CANADA has taken a long step toward manhood suffrage, and henceforth will add to its voting lists many thousands of names. The increase is estimated by some as equal to one-third of the present electorate. In cities the property qualification is $300, a reduction of 25 per cent, while in towns a corresponding decrease has been made from $300 to $200. The income qualification has also been lowered from $400 to $300, and under the head of income, daily wages are to be included. But the change which should interest Americans more than all others is the increase in the franchise to Indians, except in British Columbia and in the northwest territories, provided, however, that actual settlement is made on some distant portion of a reserve, and that the owner has expended $150 on his property. The Canadian press are disposed to view this movement from partisan standpoint. The opposition claim that it will require a heavy expense to carry out the complex details of the bill, and that the Indians will be blind tools of the government party. This nation will watch with interest the result, though it cannot be doubted that the Indians will feel toward the present government party much as the negroes of the United States have long felt toward the Republican party.
