STATE AND TERRITORIAL.
Items of Interest About Our Neighbors.
Harvest hands are plenty and wages low in the Willamette valley.
About 13,000,000 pounds of wool will be clipped in Oregon and Washington territory this year.
Since 1874, thirty-three vessels have been stranded on the coast of Washington territory.
The Portland iron works have secured the contract for the fish ladder at the falls at Oregon City.
The territorial penitentiary committee have selected Walla Walla as the place for the new penitentiary.
Two years ago hops were a dollar a pound in Washington territory. Now they are worth from six to ten cents.
Tacoma's water company has doubled its rates. The newspapers kick and the company ask "Wot yer goin' to do about it?"
A Portland commission merchant last week shipped 1300 pounds of blackberries to towns in eastern Oregon, Idaho and Montana.
The hay crop on the Sound is very large this season. It has all been secured without any loss. Grain crops are also yielding large returns.
A gas explosion in the Carbonado coal mine killed a man last Monday. Four men have already lost their lives in that mine on account of the deadly gas.
Jackson county offers the following bounties for scalp: Panther or cougar, $5; grizzly bear, $5; brown bear, $5; wild cat or mountain cat, $1; mountain wolf, $5; coyote, $1.
The Tacoma coal company have found by tests made by several blacksmiths that they have a vein of coal which compares favorably with the Cumberland blacksmith coal.
The Chinese peasants recently turned loose in this state have interbred with the native goose and a new game bird with the head of a pheasant and wing and tail feathers of a goose is the result.
The Wasco Swan learns that Mr. Upchurch, the founder of the order of A. O. U. W., is now visiting California, and that he will be returning to his home in Oregon accompanied by a committee of the grand lodge.

CAMPING OUT.
The Camp—The Campers—What They Do—Love's Young Dream.
The typical camp is familiar to the general reader. It consists mainly of a tent, a couple of blankets, a hole in the sand and a dog. The tent is used to shelter in until it rains, and then it is the best place on the premises for anybody who wants to get wet. The blankets are intended for slumbering purposes; but after the first night they are generally required to keep the rain out of the meal and the bugs out of the sugar.
The hole in the sand is the kitchen. The cooking is done there. The cooking is a good deal like the hole. No particular use has ever been discovered for the dog. But he is always there. He makes himself useful, mainly, in eating up the hard and tipping over the milk pail. These are the only refreshments he has. His favorite occupation in the night is to sit close by the tent door and keep the moon off.
We forgot to mention the campers. These are usually male, female—either or both. They wear blue flannel day and night, and have sunburned noses. They are generally better fed than the dog, and not quite so hot. They live on whatever the cook goes up for. Sometimes he only gets up in the morning. Then the campers are very indignant because he did not let them know that the provisions were out.
The best fun in camping, without fishing and bathing. Most campers' boats furnish bathing and bathing facilities at the same time. This is very convenient for those who are too lazy to undress. Most campers are desperately lazy. Their only recreation is to do with it. Where there are males and females, the bathing has to be done in bathing-suits. This is very amusing, because you never can tell whether a camper is going bathing or going out under the trees to write poetry. The bathing-suit and the camping-suit are just alike.
As a rule, nobody ever falls in love while out camping. This is what makes mixed parties so safe. It looks awfully dangerous in theory. A STARTLING CONFESSION.
How a Portland Newspaper Was Entirely Ruined.
"Sir," said the business manager of a Portland newspaper, coming with drooping head into the presence of the proprietor, last Saturday, "I have a startling confession to make to you."
"What can it be?" asked the proprietor, trembling with an excitement that could not be concealed.
"Oh, sir, spare me," said the business manager. "I know I have done wrong, but the temptation was very great. I have spent the year's profits of this paper for my own private use."
"What have you done with the money?" gasped the proprietor as he grasped the back of a chair to steady his quivering frame.
"I—" answered the business manager, as his head fell lower and lower upon his breast and a blush of shame came to his cheek—"I—I have spent it for two plates of ice cream."

Notice To Advertisers.
THE ASTORIAN guarantees for its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.
This paper is on file at the St. Charles Hotel, Portland, Or.
Council meeting to-night.
How's your back? If you want a real easy chair call at E. C. Holden's.
Rev. W. S. Hamlin and family go to Ocean beach this morning to spend a few days.
Capt. J. G. Hustler gives notice concerning assessment roll school district No. One.
Astoria lodge No. 40, I. O. G. T., has adjourned further sessions till the first of next October.
Fine underwear and the latest novelties in neckwear just received at McIntosh's furnishing store.
"Prof." Chaney has sued the New Northwest for libel—placing the damages to his character at $20,000.
The Columbian of the 24th has the best poetry on the death of Grant that has yet made its appearance in Oregon.
Goods are being slaughtered at Adler's. Things went very cheap last night. Seats will be provided for ladies this evening.
There will be a dance at the school house at Ilwaco to-night; supper at Central hotel; tickets $2, admitting gentleman and ladies.
There will be a race at Ilwaco at two o'clock next Saturday afternoon, between Graham's black mare "Flora Belle," and Hall's "Pat," for $50 a side, 300 yards.
As a coincidence it may be noted that Seattle collected and spent precisely the same amount for its Fourth of July celebration that Astoria did for the firemen's tournament.
Chadwell reports hot weather and haying a good deal of clearing going on which the present dry weather helps; times "quiet" but every one in hopes they soon may mend.
The Wynaday cleared from San Francisco for Queenstown last Wednesday with 55,694 cents wheat valued at $81,336. More than one half of her cargo is composed of Oregon wheat coming from here by the O. R. & N. steamers.
The moonlight excursion on the Telephone will be something fine. Better go than wish you had. Music, moonlight, harmony, dancing, home in good time. Get your ticket, only fifty cents. Oshing Relief Corps guarantees you a good time.
A hook baited with the fringes of a red shawl, by a Portland boating party, was seized by a large salmon last Sunday, and the Oregonian gravely reports that "the man who baited those hooks will be trolling for salmon in front of the city with a spoon and appropriate tackle."
D. S. K. Buick, grand patriarch of the grand encampment I. O. O. F., of Oregon will be here to-morrow evening and will pay an official visit to the Ocean encampment. He is visiting the encampment throughout the northwest and from here goes to Victoria and New Westminster.
A man who had a minute to spare yesterday was telling why it was that the Portland folks made a failure of the balloon ascension on the 4th. He said the day was so warm that the hot air in the balloon was cooler than the hot air outside, and the blamed thing refused to stir. Mebbe so.
The report of the supreme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, for the year ending March 31, 1895, shows 2,968 subordinate lodges, with an aggregate membership of 154,960, an increase of about 10,000 over the last report. The order is spreading rapidly in Mexico and the South American states.
H. D. Pugsley, who killed Jno. McIntosh on the south fork of the Willapa last Tuesday, gave himself up to the officers immediately after the commission of the deed. McIntosh was a single man. Pugsley has a wife and two children. The quarrel is said to have been about a fallen tree, but all accounts of the affair are very meager.
Fires on every side make the atmosphere close and add to the general discomfort produced by the present heat. The sun at noon looks down from a copper sky, and sets in flame; the moon comes up like a blood smeared disc, and wears an uncanny look all night, and every puff of wind makes one think there's a fire somewhere so pungent and smoky does it strike the nose.
Frank Parker advertises that after the 1st he will sell goods for cash only. If that plan was adopted all over town it would be some inducement to those who pay cash all the time. As it is there is very little encouragement to get a cent to pay coin at the time because he doesn't get the purchase a bit cheaper than the man who has to be dunned and dunned and dunned and who finally wants to settle at a discount.
The board of fire delegates met last evening and appointed judges and clerks for the ensuing election for chief engineer of the Astoria fire department which takes place on the tenth of next month.
The judges are C. H. Stockton, No. 2's, C. J. Curtis, of No. 1's, and Ed. D. Curtis of Aleria. The clerks are Thos. Boelling, of No. 1's, and W. E. Warren of No. 2's. The polls will be at 2's engine house.
While visiting at Foster's place on Crooked creek, located the other day, Geo. M. Rowe heard a commotion one day near the house and saw a large 1000 pound black bear seize and carry off a 2000 pound hog. He got a rifle and followed Mr. bear, finally getting a range shot at him, taking him in the shoulder and putting the bullet through Bruin's heart. George has one claw and the funny bone of the bear as trophies, and for a man who wasn't in robust health it was a first class exploit.
A boy named Jas. Ferrall was before Justice Goodell yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault and battery. He had flung a stone at the little daughter of Capt. Eben Parker Sunday afternoon, striking the child in the breast and causing grave doubts as to her recovery as she was prostrated, having vomited blood. The case was held under advisement awaiting the result of her injuries. It is a warning to the boys and girls of Crooked creek indulged in by thoughtless boys throughout the city—a practice that should be stopped.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.
The president stated that the election of judges and clerks would now be in order, whereupon the following were elected: Ed. D. Curtis, of Aleria Co. No. 1; C. H. Stockton, Resene No. 2; C. J. Curtis, Astoria No. 1. The following clerks were elected: Thos. Boelling, of Astoria No. 1; W. E. Warren, of Resene No. 2. On motion the judges and clerks just elected declared the judges and clerks of elections for the department year. On motion the election to be held in Resene, Engine Co. No. 2's building. Committee on certificates reported that certificates be granted S. Danziger and Peter Seccommt. On motion report accepted and certificates ordered granted.
Adjourned.
C. BROWN, Secy.

Grant in Portland.
Less than two years ago Ulysses S. Grant walked the streets of the city of Portland, where he had spent the least meritorious portion of his life; where he had been an ill-paid subaltern, looking in vain for promotion and struggling manfully to emancipate himself from the tyranny of drink. He came back to us on the completion of the Northern Pacific, to find both changed for the better. Portland had grown from a dirty riverside hamlet into the most cosmopolitan city on the continent, when its size is considered. And he had become, through the medium of opportunity, not only the foremost soldier of the age, but while still moving in private life, the foremost citizen of the world's grandest republic. It was talking with another man of self estimation, another one of stern and rugged fiber, since gone over to the silent majority—Gen. Jas. W. Nesmith, when we met the man of Fort Demolson. The salute was cordial but characteristically terse:
"Hello, Grant."
"How are you, Nez?"
—"Grizzly."

PORTLAND'S PLAINT.
Break! Break! Break!
Oh, well for the fortunate who, for I would I could recover The fortune I lost in thee!
Oh, well for the broker bold,
That he buys and sells on the floor!
Oh, well for the fortunate who,
Who hath gold in great galore!
For the money went down, down, down,
And the loss I saw in dismay,
And the money invested in railway stock
Has vanished forever and aye!
Break! Break! Break!
On thy magnificence O. T.,
For I would I could recover
The spectral form of a fortune that's gone
Will ever be haunting me.

Washington Territory bids fair to become an important stock raising country. Stock men are moving in very fast, and in September a gentleman from Great Britain will invest $50,000 in that territory in the cattle business, and that he intends to locate in the Kootenai country, and commence business with 5,000 head of cattle.
F. H. Lamb, department commander of the G. A. R., has issued orders directing posts to dress their colors in mourning for thirty days, also to wear crepe in coat buttons for thirty days. A special memorial service is to be held in each post at its first meeting, after the receipt of the order. Cushing post No. 34 will meet at 8 o'clock this evening.
A land surveyor from Harney valley reports affairs in that section as being in a prosperous condition, with splendid prospects for the future. Many stockmen from California are removing their herds to the valley, and a new town, called Burns, has been established. It contains a population of about one hundred already, mostly cattle dealers and stockmen. Lax & Miller, a California firm, have bought and distributed on the range some 40,000 head, and others have nearly that number there.
The contract for putting in the fifty-two new iron cells in the addition to the penitentiary, has been awarded to Trenchman & Wolf of Portland, by the state board of public buildings. The bids for the contract show a very broad range, and were as follows: Trenchman & Wolf, $11,999; H. C. Wandt, of Portland, $15,325; R. F. Drake, Salem, $16,728; Wm. Drach, Portland, $17,000; Robert Collier & Co., of Portland, $19,415; and that of the Willamette iron works, Portland, was for $20,300. The work of placing the cells will be commenced as soon as the brickwork is far enough completed.
Twenty weeks ago, says the Wasco Star, before the days of railroads, mail went on the Columbia, a Portland man could write his business correspondent at The Dalles one day and receive an answer the next. Now, by the improved mode by the O. R. & N. Co.'s railway, it takes three days to do the same. People are forced to go on the cars at 4 o'clock in the morning and arrive there at 9 o'clock in the evening, and forced to stop a half hour and pay 75 cents for a miserable meal at Bonaville, instead of starting a half hour earlier and getting a good meal at a large town. This profit it is said, belongs to some of the big officials of the road.
It is reported that the Oregon Pacific will be extended west from Corvallis, some future period, and work will probably begin this fall. The objective point is Boise city, I. T. The road will cross the Cascades through Scamman pass and extend through the Mount Rainier country. This latter company are now rapidly pushing their road rapidly west of Niobrara, Nebraska, and will probably reach Camp Robinson, Wyoming, the present fall. By August 1888, it is expected that the Chicago and Northwestern will be running its trains to Yakima city, the western terminus. It is said that a line of steamers will also be placed on the route between Yakima and San Francisco.
