They will probably be about a month in completing the work. As they will be in the wilds of the farthest west, they will probably have the finest hunting and fishing in the world.

The locks at the falls of the Wil-lamette at Oregon City will be closed on August 15th for two weeks for repairs. The gates are not in the best condition, and will be replaced by new and substantial ones; also two new gates will be built to be used in case of emergency. Travel during the time the locks will be closed will be light, and the work will not be an impediment to navigation. The locks have not been repaired for several years past, and the improvements are badly needed. Everything will be finished by September 1st, when the wheat-shipping season opens.

The steamer North Pacific, which was injured on Puget sound some time since, is to be be repaired. The crossheads are broken and the machinery is out of order. The boat will also undergo a thorough over-hauling. The total cost of repairs will be about $10,000.
