

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

TUESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1885

Each man who took up arms for the suppression of the recent rebellion in Canada is to have 329 acres of land in Manitoba.

LORD PALMERSTON once remarked that the drawbacks and objections to war are somewhat mitigated by the fact that it teaches geography to persons who otherwise would never learn it.

A PROFOUND sensation has been excited in Berlin and Vienna by the appearance in a well-known German newspaper of what purports to be "a true account of the death of Prince Frederick Charles." The journal asserts in plain terms that the Red Prince did not die of apoplexy, but that he was shot dead by his wife.

GERMANY deals with strikes and riots in a summary way. If "investigations" of the circumstances, then declares the locality of the strike or riot in "a state of siege." That places it under martial law, when the military takes command. The strike or riot is then brought to a sudden close, unless the ammunition gives out.

THE engineering difficulties in building the Canada Pacific Railroad are greater than any of those encountered in any of the present transcontinental lines, because the available passes in the Rocky mountains are more broken and rugged. A choice was made of the lowest of the five within Canadian territory, but this is now deemed a mistake, and surveyors are exploring the others at a heavy cost.

THE putting of the bark Isabel in the tea trade by the Northern Pacific Company, says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, had the effect of reducing transportation rates to eastern ports one-half. The old rate was 3 cents a pound to New York. The Isabel, as the result of competition, cut to 1 1/2 cents, and at that her cargo was secured. The German ship Harmonia was one of the vessels that was put by the Californians against her, and she is now at San Francisco with a cargo of 2,182,000 pounds brought at the same rate. The rate to San Francisco heretofore has been 2 1/2 cents a pound. Should shipments by the Northern Pacific Company continue rates will undoubtedly take a further fall.

THE new Michigan libel law is indicative of progress in the right direction. The plaintiff can only recover "actual damages" from a newspaper, and even then $5,000 is the limit. The term "actual damages" is construed to include all damages the plaintiff may show he has suffered as to his property, business, trade, profession or occupation. This is getting the libel business down to a fine and reasonable point. The law excludes vindictive damages and this is right. It is just to newspapers, and to those who conceive that they have been damaged by any publication. The plaintiff must prove actual damages, and this will largely stop the favorite amusement of certain attorneys who make a business of inspiring litigation of this kind.

SATURDAY'S Oregonian says that "it is now impossible for loaded ships to pass St. Helen's." That is to say that even the comparatively light draught vessels that are compelled to go to Portland at increased insurance and freightage cannot have anything like a cargo. The Oregonian says that the O. R. & N. Co. estimates that it will cost $8,000 to sluice out the channels, and that if Portland will furnish one half the company will furnish the other half. The Oregonian thinks that is "generous." The company that charges $1.25 for what only costs 37 1/2 cents can well afford to be "generous" in getting Portland to donate $4,000 to enable them to do more business of such profitable kind.

It has come to light, says the Standard, that Chas. B. Wright, one of the directors of the Northern Pacific, is opposed to the lease of the O. R. & N. property. He has sent out a confidential letter to a number of stockholders in his company, asking for proxies to vote at the next meeting of the company to be held in New York in September. A St. Paul merchant having received one of the letters was considerably surprised thereat, and showed it to Mr. Oakes. That gentleman said he did not think it would amount to much, as the customary rule with all railroad boards is to specifically nominate persons who shall receive and vote proxies. Mr. Wright's deviation from the rule has made some stir in railroad circles and the solution of the matter is that Mr. Wright is opposed to the leasing of the O. R. & N. company's lines by the Northern and Union Pacifics, although he does not mention the latter in connection with the matter. The essence of the letter is contained in the following extract: "The present terms talked of are 5 per cent. for three years and three months and 6 per cent. thereafter; and the amount to be paid on the stock and bonds of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company will take precedence of not only the common, but also the preferred stock, thus making both common and preferred stock secondary to the payment of the interest on the Oregon Railway and Navigation company's stock and bonds. Due caution will be taken in the premises. Having a large interest myself, I propose to give the matter my special attention at the proper time, and will endeavor to take such action as will benefit the interest of the Northern Pacific railroad company."
