THE CZAR'S METHODS.
Gov. Curtin Relates Some Anecdotes of the Russian Autocrat.
In the house postoffice the other day, writes the Washington correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal, some statesmen were discussing the trial of Riel, the rebel leader in the North-west province, who has been sentenced to death for conspiracy and treason against her majesty's government. Among them was Representative Curtin of Pennsylvania, ex-governor and ex-minister to numerous foreign countries.

"I should not care to have my life," said Gov. Curtin, "hang in the balance of many of the courts of foreign countries, and especially courts martial. The tribunals of Russia are very oppressive and the people who are called upon to defend themselves against treason, conspiracy or even disrespect to the government have little chance for life. It is almost sure death to be charged with treason against the czar of Russia. I remember an instance which came under my notice while I was United States minister to Russia, which shows the oppression. An American of considerable prominence and a good deal of wealth, who was traveling over the world, came to me with a letter. He made my headquarters his own and I showed him all the courtesies I could. He was quite independent and American, I found, however, in his observations about the czarist government, and seemed to understand the courtesies required toward the ruler and his subordinates.

"One day while this American was in St. Petersburg with me," continued Gov. Curtin, "we took a stroll on the leading thoroughfare at a time when the populace was out in force for drives and walks. It is a custom strictly adhered to that the head shall be bared and the people shall bow in courtesy to the czar when he drives through the streets. When we were out the Czar passed our party, who were on foot. He was in his carriage, accompanied by numerous attendants. Everyone raised his hat and bowed except my American friend with me.
The czar recognized me and my friends, and also the one who did not salute him. I saw that the discourtesy was observed, and turned to my friend when the cavalcade had passed and said: 'You made a great mistake in not saluting the czar.' 'Oh,' replied he, 'I don't care anything about that.'
"The next day a note came to me to appear at the foreign office. I went.

"You were out on the street yesterday when the czar passed through his drive?"
"Yes," I replied.
"You had some friends with you?"
"Yes, sir."
"One of them did not salute the czar?"
"I believe not."
"Well, you had better ask him to come here and apologize or explain his action. That will be satisfactory."
"Of course I was greatly embarrassed, and promised to have my friend call and make the amend men-table if he would do so. But do you know that the fellow wouldn't do it? No, his American obstinacy showed itself, even to malice. He said he wouldn't do it, he didn't propose to apologize for failing to salute the czar; he had done nothing wrong and he had nothing to apologize for.
This was communicated to the foreign office, with my regrets. I could do nothing more. The very next day my friend came to me with a great document from the Russian government. He said he wanted it translated. I had it done for him. It was a notice to slay.

"You must leave here at once," I said to my friend.
"Oh! but I shall not do it," he naively replied. "I am guilty of no crime, and I shall remain here as long as I wish."
"A few evenings afterward, I learned, some officers called at the hotel and took my friend away. He was never heard from after that. I do not know whether he was sent to Siberia, to prison, or executed."

Gov. Curtin related an incident which illustrates the perfection of the Russian spy system. While minister to Russia he went to Paris. It was during the Franco-Prussian difficulty.
The president of France sent for him, and he went to the palace.
"You have recently had a talk with the czar of Russia about our foreign trouble?" he asked.
"I have," replied the governor.
"Would you care to tell me what he thinks of it?"
"Well, as a diplomat representing the United States, I must decline," the governor answered.
Returning to Russia the czar requested his presence.
"You have just been over to France?"
"Yes, sir."
"Talked with the president?"
"Yes."
was said about the foreign difficulty?" Gov. Curtin declined to do so, in the same respectful language he had employed in Paris.
"Well, I will tell you what was said to you, exactly," said the czar, and he proceeded to repeat the conversation the governor had had. The information had reached the czar through the Russian spy system, which is world-renowned.

The cost of the Canadian Pacific has been $123,000,000.
There are over 2,000 soda water fountains in New York city.
There are 225 different kinds of birds in southern Dakota.
In Ohio there is one divorce for every twenty marriages.
Milwaukee has 150,000 inhabitants, a gain of 43,000 in five years.
Native American soldiers exceed all other nationalities in stature.
The silver coinage of India amounts to about $50,000,000 annually.

tlers have planted half a million

The debt of Canada is about $60 per head for every man, woman and child in the Dominion.

Eastern papers say that the son-in-law crop of 1885 is one of the poorest ever harvested.
It is estimated that over 4,000 persons are annually burned in the potter's field of New York city.
Choice rubies are said to be higher in price than for twenty years past, while sapphires have decreased in value.
Ladies who ride are growing so particular about their habits that they have to be fitted while sitting in the saddle.

The thirty-eight states of the Union contain 2,230 counties. Texas leads off with 151, and Georgia follows with 127.
"America" was written by Rev.
Samuel Francis Smith in 1832, and it was sung in Boston on the Fourth of July of that year.
Massachusetts is leading the way in bringing about a most beneficent reform—the abatement of the nuisance of locomotive whistling.
Harrisburg, Penn., has a grass widow who has run away from three different husbands and run off with two different coachmen.

It is estimated that an average of 3,000 immigrants come into Kentucky annually. Most of the number are from Germany and Switzerland.
A horse over forty years old is still doing good service in the city of Mexico. He was used at one time as a cavalry horse in the United States army.

The White house, which has not been pointed for seven years, has become so shabby as to offend the sensibilities of the Washington people.
The old fancy of a Michigan man is to build his summer residence in the form of a huge lantern. The site for the structure is on a bluff overlooking Lake Huron.
An American expert who has traveled in both countries, asserts that the speed of English trains is, on the average, one-fourth greater than that of American trains.
During the London season sweet-breads cost as much as $2.50 a couple at the butchers. In some parts of America and Canada they are sold at 15 to 25 cents each.

In the list of 4,869 male patients in the Pennsylvania insane asylum there are 235 farmers, 459 merchants, 108 physicians, 116 lawyers, 60 clergymen, 58 teachers and only 6 editors.
A curious coincidence in connection with a school of 70 odd pupils at Sweetwater, Ga., all under 15 years of age, is that every one, it is said, is related to the teacher and to each other.

The Wealth of Vanderbilt.
Mr. Vanderbilt is said to be worth three times his weight in gold. Gold is a very precious metal, but iron is more so. Gold cannot enter into the human circulation, but iron is the thing that gives our blood-circulus their rich color. A man without iron in his blood would be no man at all.
The preparation of iron which is the principle ingredient in Brown's Iron Bitters, is the only one that can be taken without injury. Its strengthening work is perfect.

Old names are much thought of by a Madison county, Fla., man, who has named his five children as follows: Mexico Maximilian, Dumas Don Quixote, Equador Araceter, Marianne Calvin Peacock, Hortense Cinderella.

Destroy that Sign.
One may feel that he is getting old, but he naturally dislikes that anything about his appearance should advise others of the fact. Yet nothing does this so effectually as thin and falling hair. No woman wants to marry a man, and business firms hesitate to employ a man, who shows this fatal sign. Parker's Hair Balsam is worth to you, in this regard, more than its weight in diamonds. Use it, and have plentiful and glossy hair.
Many have had every trace of gray-ness removed and bald spots covered by using a single bottle.

Iced soup is a popular drink in Chicago. Bouillon is in the largest demand, but tomato, vegetable, ox tail, pea and barley are much liked, and are serious competitors to lem-
