A COLOMBIAN CRUISER.

New York, Aug. 22.—Washington E. Connor, Saturday sold his steam yacht Utowana to agents of the Colombian government for $60,000. The yacht will at once be turned into a cruiser. She will be used against persons now in arms on land and sea against the Colombian government. As soon as the necessary changes are made she will sail for Cartagena with a crew who have been in this port for several weeks. The Colombian government have for a long time been looking for a swift steam vessel. It is asserted Connor was not satisfied with his yacht, although one of the fastest hailing from this port. She was built by Rosch. Various steam tugs and yachts beside the Utowana were examined, but it was difficult to evacuated and the troops of the national government have entered this important port, but Colombia (such will be the ship's designation), will doubtless be in time to assist in terminating this and certainly in preventing another revolution. Indeed two fairly armed cruisers of average two fairly armed cruisers of average two fairly armed cruisers of average to the color of t other in the Pacific would suffice to keep the maritime state of this turbulent little neighbor in tranquility and peace. The Colombia will be armed with two Gatling guns and two rapid-firing breech-loading Hotchkiss cannon, fifty-seven millimeters in calibre. These are the very latest thing in the way of small can. speed, one in the Atlantic and the latest thing in the way of small can-

Anderson as chief engineer of the Northern Pacific than appears on the surface. And that is that the project of ex-tending the main line to tide water on Puget sound, as contemplated in the charter, has been for the present abandoned. The fact is known that the bids invited some time since for the building of the Cascade tunnel were all rejected. Gum Boots, Overalls, Shirts, Etc To the emaciated and debilitated invalid is the sense of returning health and strength produced by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. When that promoter of vigor is tested by persons in feeble health, its restorative and vitalizing potency soon evinces itself in improved appetite, digestion and nightly repose, the sole conditions under which strength and nerve quickude is vouchsafed to the human system. A gain in flesh of course ensues upon the restoration of digestion and assimilation. As surely as winter follows the fail of the leaf, does disease shadow the footsteps of declining strength, when the premature decadence of vitality is not arrested. Marasmus, consumption and other wasting maindies are prompt to fasten upon the enfectled.
