

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1885

To-night. "The New Camille." At Ross' Opera House.

Miss Grace Hawthorne and her company. Sheriff Ross gives notice in another column concerning school taxes.

To-night, Miss Grace Hawthorne in "The New Camille," at Ross' opera house.

John Howard, a county charge, died at the hospital yesterday, of consumption.

Spearing salmon by torchlight is the favorite sport for the fishermen at Grant's Pass.

The schooner "Carrie B. Lake" designed for deep sea fishing, was in Neah bay at last accounts.

Reserved seats for the Grace Hawthorne theatrical entertainment at the New York Novelty store.

At the last term of the circuit court in Linn county there were eleven divorce cases on the docket.

It is proposed to organize a grain and stock exchange in Portland, membership to be limited to one hundred.

In the published legislative memorial yesterday morning, the word "government" should read "governor."

Tickets for the concert and entertainment by Cushing Post Cornet band, can be had at the New York Novelty store.

A. C. H. Moore's horse "Clayton," was raffled off at Ilwaco last Saturday. Phil Moore won the horse on a throw of 46.

There will be a matinee at the opera house to-morrow evening when the emotional drama of "East Lynne" will be produced.

If the constitution of the state was observed and complied with, Clatsop county would now have a fair representation at Salem.

Cushing Post Cornet band played some fine music at the M. E. social. They will give the audience a musical treat at their concert next Tuesday evening.

Children can procure reserved seats for twenty-five cents to the entertainment to be given by Cushing Post Cornet band at Ross' opera house next Tuesday evening.

Jno. W. Welch and family, for some years residents of The Dalles, have returned to the city and will make it their future home. Mr. Welch may be reckoned as an old Astorian.

The Independent Club. The independent voters' club met at O'Brien's new building last evening. C. W. Shively in the chair; Wm. Humbel, secretary.

The platform of the club was read setting forth the principles and purposes of the organization. Remarks regarding the ideas and intent of the club were made by Messrs. O'Brien, Young, Gilmore and others. The articles of the club were read and several additional names signed thereto. Discussion of ways and means ensued, and a communication was read from Chas. Young stating what the club as a body intended to do. The communication was, on motion, adopted and filed. A collection was taken up to defray expenses of rents, etc., after which the roll was read showing that forty-eight had signed; the meeting then adjourned till next Thursday, the 19th inst., at 8 o'clock P. M.

City Charter Amendment. A dispatch received yesterday morning was to the effect that Representative Leinenweber the preceding day had presented a petition signed by all the property owners of the grant in question, praying that the city charter be so amended as to cut off and place outside the city limits about eighty acres of land divided into four, five and six acre tracts lying south of Olney's addition, beginning at Summit avenue or Fourteenth street, and extending to Young's river. The prayer of the petitioners was granted, and the bill passed.

Meeting Notice. There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Coffee Club, on Friday evening, the 13th inst., at seven P. M., a full attendance requested. By order of the President.

For Rent. The store next door to Empire Store. Apply to Carl Adler.

A Competent Girl. Wants a place to do house work, or take care of children. Apply to J. G. Ross, Pioneer Restaurant.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The city council met in special session last evening, Mayor Hume presiding; present Councilmen Bergman, Cooper, Cleveland, Gratke and Trenchard.

An ordinance granting a liquor license to Mrs. Johnson was passed under suspension of the rules.

On motion of Councilman Cleveland the vote on suspension of the rules regarding the passage of an ordinance directing the auditor and clerk to issue an alias warrant for the collection of delinquent taxes for the year 1885, was reconsidered. The ordinance was then passed.

On motion of Councilman Trenchard the rules were suspended in the matter of passing the ordinance giving J. C. Trullinger and his assigns the right to erect, operate and maintain wires and poles in the streets for electric lights; the ordinance was then passed.

On motion the chief of police was instructed to purchase for the use of city prisoners, six mattresses and six pairs of blankets.

Councilman Cleveland read the following communication:

ASTORIA, Or., Nov. 8th, 1885. To the Honorable, the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Astoria:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to tender my resignation as a member of the council from the 2nd ward. Thanking you for past courtesies, I am, gentlemen,

Yours very truly, THOMAS DEALEY.

Councilman Cleveland spoke in most eulogistic terms of the retiring councilman and moved that his resignation be accepted. Councilman Trenchard expressed his regrets at Councilman Dealey's resignation. The resignation was accepted.

Councilman Cleveland placed in nomination the name of O. Sovey for the position made vacant by Thos. Dealey's resignation. The vote on Mr. Sovey's confirmation was as follows: Aye, Bergman, Cleveland and Gratke; nay, Cooper and Trenchard. The mayor declared Mr. Sovey not elected. Councilman Cleveland rose to a point of order, and thought that he was elected. The mayor stated that in the judgment of the city attorney, and of other attorneys of the city, it required a majority vote of the entire council to fill a vacancy in the council, and that he would decide that there had, in this instance, been no election. Councilman Cleveland stated that it was a matter of record that E. J. Taylor had on a previous occasion been elected councilman by a vote of three in the council, and thought that that furnished sufficient precedent for similar action in the present instance. The mayor replied that Judge Taylor had since come to that conclusion, and had stated that that election was illegal. Councilman Cleveland asked if the council was then to consist of five members. The mayor answered that until otherwise decided, he held that in this instance there was no election. Councilman Bergman moved that the council adjourn; carried.

A DOUBLE INQUEST.

Last Wednesday morning Coroner Ross went down to Skipanon to hold an inquest on the dead body of a man who had been washed ashore the day before. The coroner's jury consisted of S. J. Pitkin, H. C. Gragg, A. Condit, Albert Hill, Francis Hill and Aug. Jahrs. They found that the deceased came to his death by drowning in the ocean. The body was that of a man apparently 50 or 55 years of age, 5 feet 4 inches in height, bushy side whiskers, partly bald; had on nothing but check flannel and red flannel shirt; is believed to have been a Scotchman and was last seen in this city about two weeks ago.

After the inquest the body was loaded on the wagon and the party proceeded toward Skipanon, the body having been below Pt. Adams lighthouse. As they went they saw another body on the crest of an incoming wave; two of the party ran out in the surf and brought it ashore, a second inquest being held on the poor unfortunate. It was the body of a man about 28 or 30 years of age, 5 feet 10, 11 inches in height; had on dingy overalls, red flannel shirt and sailor's singlet; light complexion; apparently an American. In his pockets were $24.50 and an open faced Bartlett silver watch. The second body was also placed on the wagon, a second coffin telegraphed for to Astoria, and the bodies given decent sepulture in the county cemetery.

On the beach near where the bodies were found was picked up a pair of short leaved rubber boots, a black slouch hat, a coat, a pair of pants, new overalls wrapped in a bundle, and a show strap on which was scratched "E. Watt". There is every probability that the poor fellows were lost from the plunger Emma which came ashore near Grims' place on the 4th inst. Close by was a great heap of dead crabs, more than a wagon load in a bunch, though at no other spot on the beach were there any crabs to be seen. It is thought that they were part of the load of the plunger. Coroner Ross returned to the city last evening.

One hundred thousand Envelopes just received from factory east, will be sold for $1.50 per thousand at Adler's Book store. Books and stationery at prices that will astonish buyers. My stock of holiday goods is now on the way from the east.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Bills Introduced: Work Blocked Out: Senatorial Question Not Yet Prominent.

SALEM, Nov. 11. HOUSE.

FIRST READING OF BILLS.

No. 7, by Leinenweber—Appropriating $15,000 for a wagon road to head of navigation on Tillamook bay. T. M. Hines, of Washington, and James Hughey, of Tillamook, are named as commissioners.

No. 8, by Leinenweber—Changing corporate limits of Astoria by eliminating the district adjacent to Young's bay. (Referred to in another column.)

No. 10, by Prosser—To compel railroads to lay sidetrack where a ware house is located within 300 feet of main line and containing not less than 500 tons of freight, where private parties will grade roadbed and lay ties.

No. 11, by Prosser—Authorizing receivers of railways to repair and construct bridges.

No. 12, by Prosser—Asserting right of state to control railways and preventing discrimination as between individuals, for example, that merchants shall not be allowed cheaper rates than other individuals.

No. 13, by Vaneh—Fixing southern boundary of Lane county six miles south of mouth of Saslaw river, running due east to summit of Cascade range.

No. 14, by Story—Providing regulations and punishments for maintaining order at watering places of public resort. It simply punishes riotous and disorderly conduct, profane language, etc.

No. 15, by Porter—Appropriating $10,000 for bridge across Rogue river at Grant's Pass.

No. 16, by Mayo—This is the militia bill of last session, already familiar.

No. 17, by Lockett—Fixing price of state land as follows: Agricultural colonies lands at $2.50 per acre, and all other state lands at $1.50 per acre.

No. 18, by Abshier—Granting twenty acres state land adjacent to town of Linkville for cemetery.

No. 19, by Abshier—Providing for attaching the southern district of Grant county to Lake county.

McHaley, of Grant county, objected to the bill and moved to throw it out. Abshier said he acted in the interest of the people of the district, who had to travel 250 miles to the seat of Grant county.

Cole thought that the time would soon come when Grant county would be divided, and he opposed the measure, as it would "spoil the lines" of a future county.

The house refused to reject the bill.

No. 21, Prosser—To prevent the establishment of county jails by custom and without legal authority.

No. 22, Prosser—Approving the bond of the Willamette Valley railway company.

No. 23—Securing homesteads, to the value of $2000, from attachment for debt. It limits to 160 acres of land, and not less than one lot in a city, nor more than one block, without reference to value.

No. 24, Chandler—To make Wisdom & Holman's Transcript of Records of Baker county legal record, in place of original records destroyed by fire.

No. 25, Geer—To protect fish waters and ladders.

No. 27, Gilbert—Advancing salaries of supreme judges to $3000.

No. 28, by Gilbert—To prevent clerks of school districts from collecting a fee of five per cent on money borrowed by the districts, as technically allowed by the existing law.

No. 29, Geer—Allowing notes to be sued where made payable on their face.

No. 30, Hays—Making ten hours constitute a legal day's work.

No. 31, Cox—Providing for the publication of laws, immediately after their approval by the governor, in two general newspapers of opposite political faith, such papers to be chosen by the secretary of state.

No. 32, Cox—Providing for the appointment of taxation on rolling stock of railroads among counties through which the roads pass in proportion to mileage.

No. 33—Ordering the originals of all legislative bills to be filed with the secretary of state, and to have force if there are clerical or other errors.

No. 34, Shelton—Correcting errors in Seio city charter.

No. 35—Amending the Independence city charter.

No. 36, Leinenweber—Throwing out applications for swamp land where purchase money had been paid, and declaring such lands opened for new application and purchase.

SENATE.

FIRST READING OF BILLS.

No. 17, by Hare—To provide for the removal of obstructions to water courses and to establish a drainage system throughout the state. Hare explained that the bill had been passed in Washington county and had worked well, and he now wished to have it passed as a general law. The act provides for the establishment of a drainage commission for the clearing of obstructions from streams not navigable, or subject to overflow, the expenses to be assessed against the property benefited; committee on education.

No. 18, by Houser—Amending the railroad law. It provides that it shall be unlawful for railroad or other transportation companies to charge more than two cents per ton per mile for freight and other like products. Section 2 provides that any officer or officers of any company violating the provisions of the act shall be punished by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500.

No. 19, by Southon—That the permanent location of the agricultural college at Corvallis be ratified, provided the citizens of the county cause thirty-five acres of land to be placed in cultivation before January 15, 1889; committee on education.

No. 20, by Williams—That any person guilty of riotous conduct at any watering place or public resort, shall, on arrest and conviction by the proper officers, be fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars.

No. 21, by Cartwright—To take off the southern portion of Grant county and annex the same to Lake.

No. 22, by Simon—Amending the error in the registry law, so that the next general election be held in June, 1886. Passed through regular course under suspension of rules and finally passed.

No. 23, by Lee—Appropriating $200 to erect a monument to the memory of J. W. Nesmith.

No. 24, by Emmitt—Amending section 7, chapter 50, miscellaneous laws, to the effect that any person through whose land any county road may be viewed who shall feel that he would be injured by the opening, shall report to the county court in writing at the time the viewers report, and the county court shall appoint three disinterested parties to look into the matter and report findings to the court.

No. 25, by Siglin—Allowing John Kruse to erect a dike across Isthmus sough, Coos county.

No. 26, by Rinehart—Providing for the construction of a road into Pine creek mines in Union county, and appropriating $15,000 therefor. The act speaks of the growing importance of the Pine creek mines and recites the fact that Baker and Union counties are unable to stand all the expense attending the construction.

No. 27, by Allen—To provide for killing dogs.

No. 28, by Hall—That the hides of cattle killed in the counties east of the Cascade mountains shall be exposed in a public place for inspection for ten days. The object of the act is to assist in catching parties who illegally kill cattle.

No. 29, by Bilyeu—Amending the school laws; read twice and referred to the committee on education. The object of the act is to provide for the equal distribution of the school fund in the districts divided previous to the apportionment of the fund on hand.

Information Regarding School Lands.

Affidavit accompanying an application to purchase should be made before some officer with a seal. Lands in one application must be in compact form. The minimum price at which ordinary school land can be appraised is $2 per acre. Payments on any ordinary school land may be made as follows: One third of purchase price down, balance in two equal notes, payable in one and two years, with interest at ten per cent per annum, payable semi-annually in advance, or full payment may be made at the time of purchase, and deed will issue at once. The purchaser of school land must be a citizen of the United States or must have declared his intention to become a citizen.

Worth Ten Million Dollars.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—All day and night life was barely kept up by Senator Sharon. His right leg has almost completely rotted away and is sloughing off as far up as the knee. The body from his toes to the shoulders is dead. The spark of life has been maintained for thirty-six hours in an almost dead body.

A divorce was granted yesterday by Judge Stearns in the case of Lotie Davis against John Davis. The parties were married in this city in 1871, and subsequently lived together here, in Astoria and Oysterville. The husband called his wife vile names and accused her of adultery, and at last they parted in July, 1882, since when she has not lived with her husband. During three years past the husband has failed to support his wife. Her sister, with whom she lives in East Portland, corroborated the statement that Mrs. Davis has supported herself for three years past.—Portland Oregonian, 12.

EASTERN PRESS OPINION.

Speaking of Grace Hawthorne who will appear here next week, the Chicago Times in a recent criticism says: "She presented one of the best Camilles seen here in many a day. Her articulation is crisp and clear, her 'business' full and judicious, and her make-up and dress all that could be desired. The audience grew genuinely enthusiastic over the strong portraiture of Miss Hawthorne's, which is far warmer and even more sympathetic than Modjeska's."

That Grace Hawthorne can act Camille and Miss Multon so well as to compel her critics to compare her to Clara Morris is proof that she does them more than well. Manager Kelly has vindicated his assertions as to the talents of his star, and has laid the foundation for an enthusiastic reception at her next visit. In our judgment she is the finest emotional actress that has ever appeared in Chicago.—Chicago Journal.

The Chicago Tribune of recent date says "Miss Grace Hawthorne presented the 'New Camille' at the Grand Opera house last night before a large and appreciative audience, and created a most favorable impression. The performance on the whole was so good that, we understand, a return engagement has been booked, at which time we shall give her performance more extended criticism."

Grace Hawthorne had a good house last night at the Grand. Her characterization of Camille must be accepted as the very best of the day. It was a pretty study. Her grace of walk, her finish of elocution, and her pose throughout showed an artist whom it will not be well to make light of.—Chicago Herald.

Grace Hawthorne has scored a bright success. The applause she brings is spontaneous and genuine in its nature, and her acting is so brilliant in its ability, and during her week here she was several times complimented by recalls at the close of the play, which is a rare distinction for an actress to achieve in this city.—St. Louis Republican.

With Lucille Weston dead, and Mrs. D. P. Bowers retired, there is now no woman living on the American stage that can play the dual role of Lady Isabel and Madame Vine in East Lynne as well as Grace Hawthorne can and does.—New Orleans Picayune.

If a large audience, which was not only appreciative, but was really enthusiastic, is any evidence of success, the presentation of a new play by Grace Hawthorne and her supporting company at Popo's last night was an undoubted success. The efforts of the star and the company, were received in the warmest manner, and after the mad scene in the third act Miss Hawthorne was recalled five times before the curtain, and was given an ovation and a splendid floral tribute.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Grace Hawthorne is a sensational Camille. Her make-up, tragic attitudes and stride, and business with up-turned eyes, is like Sarah Bernhardt, and then, again, she reminds one strongly of Clara Morris, in her emotional, tender, and colloquial scenes. The house was packed to overflowing, and Miss Hawthorne certainly was a surprise to all who saw her acting. She actually galvanized the part of Camille. She gave it new life. Miss Hawthorne knows every card in the play of acting, and she takes every trick. She is indeed a great actress.—New Orleans Picayune.

Proper Treatment for Coughs. That the reader may fully understand what constitutes a good Cough and Lung Syrup, we will say that Tar and Wild Cherry is the base of the best remedies yet discovered. These ingredients with several others equally as efficacious, enter largely into Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup, thus making it one of the most reliable now on the market. Price 50 cts. and $1.00. Samples free. Sold by J. W. Conn.

The Only Perfect Remedy. For habitual constipation, dyspepsia and kindred ills, is the famous liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs. It strengthens as well as cleanses the system, it is easily taken and perfectly harmless. For sale by W. E. Dement & Co.
