ASTORIA. OREGON:

SATURDAY. ... DECEMBER 12, 1885

A stage running from Portland to Vancouver has a stove and furnishes hot coffee to its patrons.

Several of the English ship masters are getting Oregon fir trees aboard to decorate for Christmas trees.

A sale for export of 2,000 cases fall pack Coquille salmon, at $4 per case, is reported from San Francisco.

Cushing Post band will play at Ross' opera house this evening; skating from 7 to 10 o'clock, to conclude with a dance from 10 till 11.

Services at the M. E. church to morrow. Subject at 11 a. M., "A revival of religion, and how secured;" subject at 7 P. M., "The best destiny," an address to the young men of As-

Bill Nye's lecture wasn't very well patronized in Portland. His man-ager had'nt gumption enough to ad-vertise and lots of people didn't know he was coming

W. S. Ladd has sunk an artesian well 1,400 feet deep at East Portland and struck quicksand which makes ultimate success improbable. Thus far the well has cost $14,000.

Wouldn't it be better to give the job of knitting nets to white men instead of to Chinamen? Purely as a matter of policy the white man should be given the preference when he comes in competition with the Mongolisn. This matter is worth considering.

Postmaster Chance's commission expires next Tuesday. If his place isn't filled by that time he threatens to strike for bigber wages. By the way it is kind o' funny that we don't hear anything from Washington regarding the appointment of a postaster for this office.

A fuzzy frost, thick and glistening sparkled in the rays of yesterday morning's sun, affording great sport on the hillsides to the boys and girls who were out with sleds. The wind blew cold from the east, but moderated toward noon, and b sunset the weather was again warm and cloudy.

"The Wages of Sin is death." So sayeth the scriptures. "The Wages of Sin" is also the title of a very ex-citing play that will be presented by mous Grismer-Davies Baldwin theater company next Monday even-ing at Ross opera house. Reserved seats at the New York Novelty store.

Considerable excitement is reported at Winlock, W. T., over gold discoveries on Tudle river 30 miles east of Winlock, toward Mt. St. . It is said that men have been taking out gold there to the amount of $75 per day. The citizens of Toledo are going to build a road to the new camp.

The Y. M. C. A. advertise a music al and literary entertainment to be given at Odd Fellows hall next Friday evening. About twenty-five ladies and gentlemen will take part, and an evening's amusement will be afforded all who attend. The original and only Mrs. Jarley will be on hand with her famous waxworks. These waxworks have been exhibited before the crowned heads of Europe and now appear for the first time in Tickets may be had at the city book store.

"The Wages of Sin."

above title was produced at the Baldwin theater last night, for the first time in San Francisco, and was re-ceived with every evidence of a proval by a large andience. The work is of the intense melodramatic quality, possesses an interesting story, which is well told, exhibits remarkable constructive ability, abounds in entertaining incidents, shows many ex-cellent types of character, and alto-gether is a play which will unques-tionably have a successful run at this theater. The story deals with the trials and sufferings of a woman who married one man by reason of a lie while she loved another. The villain in the piece gets the wages of sin, while the others are rewarded with happiness after a series of misfortunes and disappointments that are most appalling. The cast was excel-lent, and the acting was capital.—S.

Mr. Knowles Caned.

Just before Senator-elect John H. Mitchell left for the east yesterday, he presented Mr. C. W. Kwowles, one of the proprietors of the St. Charle hotel, with a magnificent ebony, gold headed caue, bearing the inscription C. W. Knowles from John H. Mit-The latter in making the presentation said it was a slight token of the high esteem with which he regarded Mr. Knowles. Mr. Knowles made a suitable response, and then a little champagne was opened to celebrate the event. Mr. Knowles feels very proud of the gift, and should, too, for the cane is as fine a one as could be purchased in Portland.—News, 11.

Vanderbilt, the richest man in America, who was buried yesterday, was peculiarly reticent as to the disposition of his property, but after many interviews with his intimate friends it is evident that the general belief is that Cornelius will be given the bulk of the fortune, in accordance with the commodore's known wish that one member of each succeeding generation should be endowed. It is remarkable how high Cornelius now stands in the estimation of men. Yesterday he was nobody; to day he is a king. Everybody speaks now of him, of his conservatism and his executive ability.

The North American union of radicals, with head quarters in Mil-waukee, Wis., has issued a memorial to congress, asking that the constitu-tion be amended so as to abolish the office of president. The memorial proposes to vest the executive power of the government in an executive council to be chosen by congress. It is claimed that the president is a king, clothed with greater power than any European sovereign, except the czar of Russia, and that the legislative power cannot enlarge or dim-inish the executive capacity. The president's powers are recited at great length, and instances of despot-ic authority pointed out in detail.

Senator Edmunds has a bill in congress to put the Mormons in chancery. It proposes that the act of the legislature under which the church of the Latter Dey Saints, was incor-porated, shall be repealed and annulled, and that the temporal affairs of the church shall be managed by a board of trustees, appointed by the president of the United States, by and with the consent of the senate, and shall close up the institution as rapidly as possible. Under direction of the secretary of the interior, the attorn-y general is directed to institute and prosecute proceedings to forfeit and escheat to the United States all property owned by the the Mormon church, except buildings used for public worship, and the sec-retary of the interior is directed to sell and invest the proceeds for the benefit of public schools.
